Main Family At Home With Dairy Of Distinction

BONNIE BRECHBILL
Franklin Co. Correspondent

MERCERSBURG (Franklin Co.) — When Monie Main was thinking about moving his family off the farm they rented near Walkersville, Maryland, he had each family member write down what they wanted in a farm. His son Matt chose a pond, daughter Libby a house with a balcony, and wife Liza a brick barn with figures. Monie's wish was that the entire farm be tillable except for a hillside for the cows to lay on.

Everyone's wish was fulfilled when they purchased a farm just outside of Mercersburg on Route 16 three years ago.

"Monie came up to a sale and saw this farm and thought I might like the house, and I came up, and I did!" Liza said. The limestone house, built in 1794, has nine large rooms and two fireplaces.

The house was structurally sound and well-insulated. "We were fortunate," Liza said.

Because the farm had been used for beef cattle, the Mains had to do some work to convert it to a commercial dairy operation. They put in a double-6 parlor with individual weighers and automatic take-offs, set up so that one person can milk.

They also added a manure pit and a large freestall barn to house their 150 cows. The freestall barn is open in the front, and was constructed to provide lots of air and open space. Because of the open front, snow blew in during last March's blizzard. "It's made for the other 364 days of the year," Monie said.

Disease problems are few, and the cows are contented because of the amount of air. Built three years ago, the barn is situated at an angle on a slight ridge so that the sun is always shining in.

Two buildings — a wagon shed and a corn crib — had to be removed for the barn to be con-

Giveaway Goes Long Way Toward Promoting Beef

FAIRFIELD (Adams Co.) — On a warm night this past August, about 9,000 people who visited the Port Royal Speedway just west of Harrisburg got a special treat — a free hot roast beef sandwich courtesy of a producer who puts dollars on the line when it comes to promoting "real food for real people."

Bob Weikert, a livestock buyer in Fairfield, believes "somebody's gotta do something" in promoting the value of beef to the general public. He provided the free sandwiches the second year in a row during Beef Night at the Speedway.

Owner of sprint car number 29 is proud of the promotion he provides for the industry by placing the message in clear print boldly at the top of the car, on the car's "wings."

Weikert's car makes several appearances at the big racing events to get the message out about the importance of eating beef.

However, more needs to be done. He is working closely with the Beef Council to ensure promotional materials are provided by the Council to producers and others involved in the business to increase positive awareness toward beef.

"That was the best promo an individual has done this year," said Tammy Balthaser, industry relations/compliance manager for the Pennsylvania Beef Council, who helped at the event. "It was a super event, really worthwhile. It's nice to see producers helping to promote their product."

The Beef Council works closely with industry representatives to

Dairylea Reviews Year

SYRACUSE, N.Y. — During the past year, Dairylea continued to achieve strong positive financial results with a year-end profit representing a return of 19 percent on invested capital. The figures were announced by Rick Smith, Dairylea's chief executive officer at the Cooperative's annual meeting held this week in Liverpool.

More than 750 farmer members and industry guests attended the two-day event, which included a management presentation by Smith and an annual address by Dairylea President Clyde Rutherford.

During his presentation, Smith said that the Cooperative continued to pay a competitive price to dairy farmer members with milk sales increasing $38 million, or 12.5 percent, over 1992. Total milk marketed by Dairylea increased from 2.2 billion pounds to 2.5 billion pounds, or 11.3 percent, as member and afiliate member milk production increased 15 percent.

The Cooperative experienced an increase in member farms, with 627 dairy farmers joining Dairylea in the last 18 months. In comparison, the New York-New Jersey Milk Marketing Order's and the Northeast milkshed's farm numbers decreased by 5.6 percent and 2.8 percent, respectively.

"Our organization had another strong year," Smith reported,

DER Milkhouse Wastewater Study Continues

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — An investigation into the environmental impact of milkhouse wastewater is ongoing, but a Department of Environmental Resources researcher has said that farmers who flush milkhouse wastewater into their manure storage are handling it properly.

Glen Rider, with the DER Bureau of Water Quality Management, Division of Permits and Compliance, said that, although research is continuing into the biological "strength" of milkhouse wastewater, the department continues to maintain its position that it approves of the practice of mixing milkhouse wastewater with manure as long as the composite is handled as manure.

Rider said the primary concern about milkhouse wastewater is when it is discharged into a subsurface system, such as an onlot septic system. Because of the expected high amount of organic matter and pipeline cleaner acid, it is suspected that slugs of milkhouse wastewater could overload the underground systems, causing environmental problems.

Also, many dairy farms have doubled or tripled in size since many milking facilities were constructed, increasing the possibility that there are overburdened onlot, underground septic systems with problems.

Concern about milkhouse wastewater has not been strong and only seriously studied by the DER. A survey of milkhouse wastewater grab samples was initiated late last year and field collection conducted earlier this year.

Samples were taken from dairy farms across the state. A strong attempt was made to get actual milkhouse waste samples which represent the range of dairy farming operations.

"All the sampling results are back, from the survey that was done across the state," Rider said. "Right now we're in the process of reviewing all that data."

According to Rider, DER staff representing a number of disciplines within the department met last week for the first time to look at sample results. Eventually, DER staff are to compile an analysis and determine the degree of governmental involvement which should apply to discharging milkhouse wastewater into onlot, underground septic systems.

Northeast Chicken Parts

Wednesday, October 13, 1993

Trucklot buying interest was very light but appeared in balance with light supplies. Boneless skinless breasts were irregularly distributed with some larger volumes available at lower asking prices but smaller volumes cleared satisfactorily. The undertone was unsettled. Line run breasts were in fairly good balance with current demand. The few loads offered early this morning were booked at steady prices. Yellow skin leg quarters were no more than adequate for current inquiry but buyers and sellers do not agree on values. Whole wings were tight and the undertone was firm, some smaller volumes of party wings were available.

PRICES PAID PER POUND, ICE PACKED AND CO2 PACKED BROILER/FRYER PARTS, DELIVERED TO FIRST RECEIVERS IN POOL TRUCKLOT AND TRUCKLOT QUANTITIES. Delmarva Broiler/Fryer Market

Wednesday, October 13, 1993

Movement of ready to cook whole birds was slow to moderate and about normal for mid-week activity. Seller offerings were adequate and in fairly good balance. Live supplies were moderate Weights were generally desirable. Processing schedules remained very heavy. Less than trucklot asking prices were unchanged at 54 to 63 cents. Trade sentiment was steady. In the parts complex, machine cut wings were in best demand and supplies were short. Leg quarters were in better balance than yesterday. Other items remained adequate overall.

Tuesday, October 12, 1993

Prices on light type fowl were unchanged from last week. Offerings were at least adequate to fully adequate and most plant operations have sufficient numbers to run desired slaughter levels. Sales of heavy hens were too few to report, however processors relied on contract arrangements to satisfy needs. Undertone steady.

National Grain Market

St. Joseph, Mo.
Wednesday, October 6, 1993

USDA DAILY NATIONAL GRAIN SUMMARY FULL FORWARD FALL HARVEST AND FALLING SOYBEAN PRICES, BUT CORN REAPED HIGHER TRENDS FROM A BULLISH CROP PRODUCTION REPORT. WHEAT TWO CENTS HIGHER TO THREE CENTS LOWER. CORN FOUR TO SIX CENTS HIGHER. SORGHUM FIVE TO NINE CENTS HIGHER. SOYBEANS TWO TO FOUR CENTS LOWER. WHEAT PRODUCTION FIGURES WERE PRETTY MUCH IN LINE WITH TRADE ESTIMATES AND PRICES HELD RECENT GAINS AS LOWER NUMBERS WERE ALREADY FACTORED IN THE MARKET. SOME CONTRACT MONTHS AT NEW HIGHS. RUSSIA EXPECTED TO BE BACK IN THE MARKET SOON. HARVEST STILL DRAGGING ON IN THE NORTH AND NORTHWEST AND PLANTING OF WINTER WHEAT IN THE SOUTH MAKING VERY GOOD PROGRESS. CORN CROP PRODUCTION ESTIMATED AT 6.962 BILLION BUSHEL BY THE U.S.D.A. WAS LOWER THAN SOME TRADERS EXPECTED. PRIVATE SOURCES HAD LOWERED THEIR ESTIMATE, AND THIS REPORT GAVE CREDENCE AND PRICES RESPONDED. ALSO RUSSIA RUMORED TO BE IN THE MARKET FOR 400 THOUSAND METRIC TONNES. FARMERS ARE COMPARING 135 BUSHEL OF CORN PER ACRE LAST YEAR AT 2.10 VERSUS 110 BUSHEL PER ACRE THIS YEAR AT 2.40. CORN PRODUCTION 27 PERCENT BELOW A YEAR AGO, LOOKS VERY BULLISH, BUT LAST YEAR WAS A RECORD HIGH BUMPER CROP AND CARRY-OVER FIGURES STARTING AT A MUCH HIGHER LEVEL. SET ASIDE ACREAGES THIS YEAR TENTAVELY SET AT FIVE PERCENT. SORGHUM, AS USUAL, FOLLOWED IN T HE TRACKS OF CORN. SOYBEAN PRODUCTION FIGURES WERE CUT, BUT NOT TO THE EXTENT TRADE MEMBERS HAS EXPECTED. REPORTS OF FROST DAMAGE CONTINUE TO SHOW UP, BUT HARVESTED ACRES ARE PRODUCING GOOD YIELDS. HARVEST OVER ONE THIRD COMPLETED AND CONTINUED NICE WEATHER. PRODUCERS DISAPPOINTED IN THE DEMAND SIDE FIGURES AND EXPORTS. AT LEAST, CARRY-OVER STARTED OUT AT A LOW LEVEL.

New York & Phila. Frozen Egg Report

Friday, October 8, 1993

The market tone was barely steady with underlying trade sentiment becoming increasingly cautious. Trading was extremely light and usually limited to small volume fill-in situations. Raw materials were usually fully adequate but most further processors were unaggressive and adopted a wait and see position. Floor stocks easily satisfied current buyer interest.

The Old Farmer's Almanac This Week With Almanac

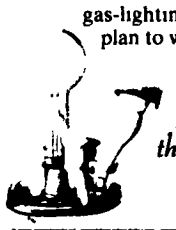
THE LIGHT DAWNS

On October 21, 1879, Thomas Alva Edison succeeded in producing the first practical incandescent light. After testing literally thousands of different materials over thirteen months, Edison tried a filament of carbonized cotton in a vacuum inside a glass bulb. This combination resulted in a lamp which was capable of burning for forty hours. Although most experts had predicted certain failure, the public's faith in the determined inventor was such that prices of shares in gas-lighting firms dropped when he announced his plan to work on an electric lighting system.



. . . so many things are possible just as long as you don't know they're impossible.

— Norton Juster, The Phantom Tollbooth

TIP OF THE WEEK

EARTHWISE

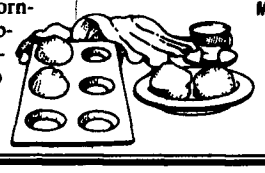
Believe it or not, you can successfully clean your oven without using products that require either a gas mask or opening all the windows and leaving the house for several hours. Before going to bed, sprinkle the bottom of a cold oven with water, then cover the grease and grime with baking soda and sprinkle again with water. Let soak overnight and wipe up in the morning. Use a green "scrubby" pad to loosen stubborn spots. Be sure to rinse and wipe up all the baking soda.

APPLE MUFFINS

1 egg
¼ cup milk
¼ cup oil
1¼ cups flour
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
3 apples, peeled and diced

Beat together egg, milk, and oil. Add dry ingredients and mix gently. Stir in apples. Filled greased muffin tins two-thirds full and bake at 400° F for 20 to 30 minutes.

Makes about 12 muffins.



The Old Farmer's Weather Forecast

NORTHEAST: Sunny and warm; cloudy and cool south then clearing and warming.

SOUTHEAST: Clear and hot, heavy rain Florida and coast from possible hurricane.

NORTHWEST: Heavy rain and cool coast, seasonable mountains then clearing.

SOUTHWEST: Rainy and mild mountains; sunny and hot desert; cloudy and cool California, then clearing.

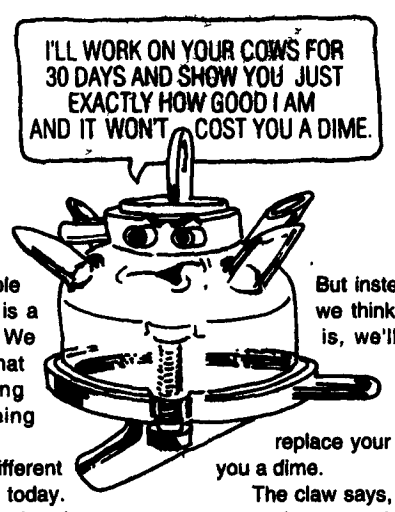
WE THINK UNIVERSAL'S TIDAL FLOW CLAW CAN TELL ITS OWN STORY BETTER THAN WE CAN.



This new, high-capacity, durable and competitively priced claw is a far cry from where we started. We had a few disappointments that sent us back to the drawing board. The frustration of being close, but not close enough.
These new milkers are different from any other on the market today. Enlarged inlets and a larger chamber design handle increased capacity and improve vacuum stability.
But instead of just telling you how good we think the Universal Tidal Flow Claw is, we'll give you a 30-day free trial. We'll install it and show you how to operate it. If you're not satisfied, we'll remove it, replace your old equipment and it won't cost you a dime.
The claw says, "I'll put up or shut up. Just give me a chance to show you what I can do for you." Why not give him a chance? Contact your Service Center nearest you today.

OPINION

Please Be Careful With Your PTO

The saga of power take-off (PTO) hazards continues, as these systems continue to cause serious injury and death among our farm population. You don't have to go to North Dakota for the much publicized PTO accident that caused a teenager to have a double amputation accident last winter. We have had accidents from PTO and PTO driven equipment much closer to home and even more recently.

Imagine being pulled into or around a metal shaft that spins between 540 and 1,000 times per minute. In the blink of an eye, you could lose your arms, your legs, or your life. Farm safety specialists like Dennis Murphy, professor at Penn State, are asking farmers to consider the potential for such accidents and take steps to avoid them.

PTO drivelines enable farmers to use their tractor's engine to power other equipment. But these drivelines can result in serious injury or death when they entangle the victim's limbs, loose clothing, jewelry, or even hair. Hair entanglements have resulted in six serious scalping incidents to female farmers in New York during the past decade. Recent comprehensive studies on PTO hazards at Purdue University produced the following data on fatal and nonfatal PTO incidents:

•the tractor or machinery operator was involved 78% of the time,

•PTO shielding was absent or damaged in 70% of the cases,

•PTO couplings were the entanglement areas approximately 70% of the time, and

•a bare PTO shaft, spring loaded push pin or through bolt was the driveline component at the point of contact in 63% of the cases.

In order to simulate the PTO hazard in a life-like scenario, the Department of Agricultural and Biological Engineering at Penn State has developed a new PTO hazard simulator demonstration. The computer-driven simulator was designed and developed by Tim Pierson, an instructor in the department. It proved to be a popular exhibit at the 1992 Ag Progress Days at Rock Springs. The simulator tests how quickly participants can pull away from the PTO driveline in a simulated incident. The computer randomly selects when the entanglement occurs. Some participants react very quickly but not quickly enough. In a real-life situation, they would still be wrapped between one to three feet around the PTO shaft.

Faculty and county extension staff who have demonstrated the PTO hazard simulator report that participants' reactions have ranged from scared to amazed. Many on-lookers have contributed their own personal stories about PTO entanglements.

We know of several of our readers who have had horrible experiences with PTO driven equipment. Life has been lost. Much suffering has been endured.

Please be careful with your PTOs in this silo-filling and corn-picking season.

NOW IS THE TIME

By John Schwartz

Lancaster County Agricultural Agent

To Deworm Sheep

In the humid Mid-Atlantic region, sheep need to be dewormed more often than in other parts of the country, according to Chester Hughes, extension livestock agent.

The ewe flock should be dewormed every other month beginning in May with the last deworming occurring after a hard killing frost.

Lambs on pasture and replacement ewe and ram lambs, including the show stock, should be dewormed every 4 weeks. A variety of dewormers are available for sheep and should be rotated to decrease the chance of resistance.

To Use Top Quality Bulls

According to Bennett Cassell, Virginia Tech dairy scientist, each breeding on your farm is an opportunity for genetic improvement of the herd.

According to Cassell, a successful, profitable breeding program involves the consistent use of top genetic bulls on all cows from which you want to keep any offspring.

If you are interested in upgrading your herd's genetics, even heifers should be bred to bulls known to have good genetics. What is a superior bull? Almost every breeder has their own definition and the answers vary among experts.

A good guide to start with might be to select a group of high PTA$ bulls, with good reliability. From that group, select bulls that also give you the additional traits you are breeding for or select bulls to improve the pedigree that will make your cows more marketable.

With your list of bulls in hand, buy semen and services in a very businesslike manner. Remember to update your bull selection every 6 months after the new sire summaries are printed. Also, avoid overstocking your semen tank.

The bulls that are superior today may become inferior in a year or so as proofs change and as genetic levels continue to climb.

To Prepare For Emergencies

This past week I have learned about two very serious farm accidents. Both resulted in farmers losing one of their legs.

The first involved a farmer becoming entangled in a combine and the other involved the placing of a silo unloader in a silo. Fortunately for both, help was nearby and emergency personnel arrived very quickly.

Is your family prepared to handle an emergency? First, make sure someone knows where you are working at all times. Have directions written out to your farm and placed next to the telephone along with emergency phone numbers. Make sure everyone knows how to exit your home safely in the event of a fire.

Install and make sure smoke detectors are working in your home. Always take a few seconds and do a walk around and look under before starting and moving any tractor or machinery. It could save the life of your child or grandchild!

Keep chemicals and soaps, etc. out of the reach of small children. Safety needs to become a standard on every farm. The sooner this happens the better.

Feather Prof's Footnote: "Be curious always! For knowledge will not acquire you; you must acquire it."

Farm Forum

Editor,

Several major farm organizations across the United States have united their efforts in urging the United States Senate Ag Committee to conduct a National Dairy Hearing.

In addition a letter signed by the organizations has been sent to all of the members of the United States Senate urging the Senate Members to support the efforts of the organizations in obtaining the needed milk hearing.

The joint letter points to the declining unstable milk prices received by dairy farmers in all areas of the United States, more importantly the group urges the United States Senate Ag Committee to make the hearing wide open and listen to all dairy proposals!

Bert Morris of the New York State Grange says, "the hearing is needed and it's time to put all the cards on the table."

THE ONE WHO SEES US

Background Scripture:
Genesis 16:1-3, 15:1-18.
Devotional Reading:
Genesis 16:1-15.

The story of Abram, Sarai, and Hagar must be read in the context of God's promise: "I will make of you a great nation" (12:2). Although he could not imagine how God would fulfill that promise, Abraham believed it.

How much later it is in Genesis 16, we do not know, but the writer of the passage makes it evident that God's promise seems no nearer fulfillment than before: "Now Sarai, Abram's wife, bore him no children" (16:1). Perhaps Abram still believed in the promise of God, but Sarai has run out of patience and trust. Instead of waiting for God to keep his word, she took things in her own hands: "Behold now, the Lord has prevented me from bearing children; go into my maid; it may be that I shall obtain children by her" (16:2). In those days it was believed that God was both the giver of fertility and barrenness and it was customary for a barren wife to give her maid to the husband and claim the child as her own. Hagar would become pregnant and bear the child, but it would belong to Abram and Sarai, not Hagar.

LOGICAL BUT WRONG

It may have been an acceptable custom but it was fraught with risk; as we see from the story in Genesis. As far as logic was concerned, it was a reasonable idea — but that didn't mean the people involved could handle it. And in this case, they didn't. Hagar, the pregnant servant girl, now felt that God had shown her favor and she lorded it over Sarai. Could Sarai handle this? No, not at all. Furious, she takes out her anger on Abram: "May the wrong done to me be on you!" (16:5). (These sound like real people!)

Sarai had refused to wait any longer on the Lord and even persuaded Abram not to wait either. That's not too unlike many of us today. We, too, get impatient waiting for the Lord to fulfill his promises. We finally get to the point where we believe that, if we don't do it, it won't get done. Our problem, therefore, is often not so much disbelief as impatience. And impatience keeps us from trusting.

So, when Sarai dealt harshly with her, Hagar fled into the wilderness. Can you imagine what she must have been feeling? One moment she was feeling God's favor with human life inside her, but now she had to flee and it seemed she was utterly deserted. As Sarai has despaired of God keeping his promise, so Hagar must have felt equally abandoned.

GOD SEES!

Encountering an angel of the Lord in the desert. Hagar is reassured. She will bear a child and he will become father of a great multitude. So she shall go back to her mistress and submit to her. We could well understand that, if at this point Hagar had said, "No way!! You think I'm crazy? That Sarai has it in for me." But the angel reassures her: "the Lord has given heed to your affliction" (16:11) and like Abram, Hagar accepts God's promise and trusts him enough to go back to an unpromising situation. That's hard: on the strength of God's assurance that he is with us, to go back to a situation we want to run from.

Hagar's response is one of trust and wonder: "She called the name of the Lord who spoke to her, 'Thou art a God of seeing'... 'Have I really seen God and remained alive after seeing him?" (16:13). It was believed that to see God meant immediate death. But the basis of her trust in God was not just that she had seen him (we are to assume the angel was God in disguise), but that, despite her role as a despised servant, God saw her and her affliction. And seeing her, he had compassion on her.

Often, like Hagar, we think that God cannot see us in our lowly place. We are too insignificant, too lacking in worth for him to know our plight and our needs. But, like Hagar, we need to remember that our Lord is "a God of seeing" and we are never out of his sight.

While most lenders have barely scratched the surface in agriculture,

Fact is, you can explain your needs to some bankers until you're blue in the face and chances are they still won't understand. Farm Credit loan officers, on the other hand, have been through the most comprehensive ag lending training program in the nation. And many have farm backgrounds themselves.

They can approve loans for just about any farm need from land to equipment. And since a committee isn't necessary for most decisions, loan approval is easy and fast.

Stop by and talk with your Farm Credit loan officer.

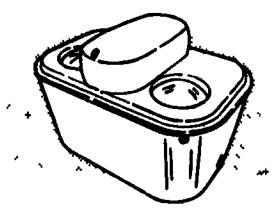
FREEDOM FOUNTAINS

Energy-Free® All Season Livestock Waterers.
This all year energy-free waterer can help you save money.

Here's how Freedom Fountain does what it does:



- Works like a thermos bottle to keep water cool on a warm day and warm on a cold day.
- Energy free.
- Models for cows, sheep and hogs.
- Insulated earth tube keeps the riser pipe from freezing.
- Stainless steel hardware.

NEW!

FARROWING - Cast Iron And Plastic
DOUBLE L Hog Flooring Systems

- Non-porous crowned surface
- Sows get up and down easily.
- Fewer crushing deaths
- Sows eat, drink, & nurse better with less stress

Optional Comfort Zone creep slat features Solid Section

- Increases thermal comfort
- Reduces drafts
- Eliminates heat mats
- Throw area for creep feeds
- Produce heavier pigs at weaning time.
- Sows have a longer service life.
- "Thermal" comfort keeps your piglets cozy and content
- Prevents diseases and chilling.
- Simple installation... only two slats needed on each side in the creep area. Can be easily cut.

TRI-COUNTY

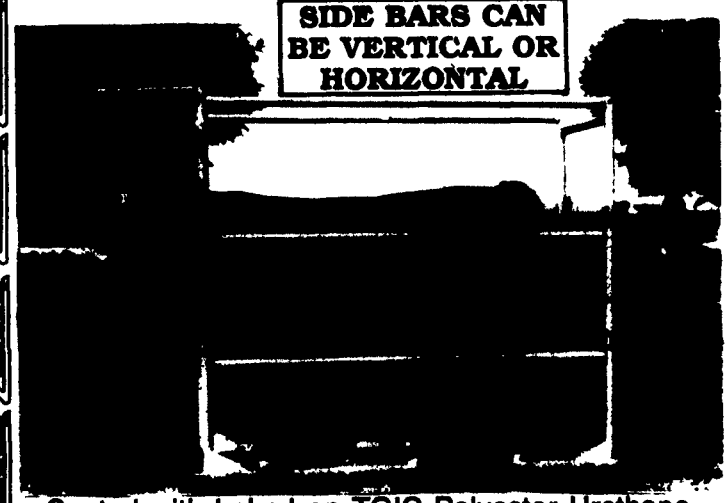
GROOMING CHUTE



- Coated with baked on TGIC Polyester Urethane Powder
- For safe and easy grooming, washing and clipping cattle
- Expanded metal floor stays cleaner and gives more traction
- Assembles and disassembles quick and easy
- Can easily be moved and loaded by one person

DAIRY SHOW

Once again the Tanis family of Ideal Holsteins in Centre County swept to the top in the Bloomsburg Fair dairy show competition.

At this year's 139th fair, held September 25-October 2, the supreme dairy breed champion and grand champion of the Holstein show was Jacky Validate Ritz Cracker. This five-year-old Validate daughter, along with Ideals Vintage Anya, the junior champion female, and first place winners in the intermediate heifer calf, summer yearling heifer, junior yearling heifer, intermediate yearling heifer, junior get-of-sire, junior three best females, junior two-year-old, senior two-year-old, best 3 females, dairy herd, and dam & daughter classes, made Ideal Holsteins the Premier Breeder and Premier Exhibitor of the Holstein show.

Judging the 155 animals shown by 68 exhibitors in the Holstein show was Gordon Wood of Gor-Wood-D Acres in Mansfield. The reserve grand champion was Celebrity Mark Saphire, an aged cow shown by Janice Jurbala of Orangeville. Saphire also won the best udder of show. For reserve junior champion the judge chose Ritters Logic Whistle, a senior yearling heifer exhibited by Duane Ritter of Muncy. County Herd award went to Columbia-Luzerne, followed by Lycoming, Northumberland-Montour and Schuylkill Counties.

First placings in each class were: bull calf- Altar Sandsdale Deano-TW, Harriet Sands, Wyoming; junior yearling and reserve grand champion bull- Sandsdale Counselor Vic, Harriet Sands; senior yearling and grand champion bull, Ritter-Ridge S Buck Chad-ET, Ritter-Ridge Farms, Muncy; junior heifer calf - Elites-JSJ Fallon-Red-ET, Bryan Lee Hock, Millville; intermediate heifer calf- Ideals Star Maker Libby, Jennifer Kellerman, Centre Hall; senior heifer calf - Wynding-Brook Vin Kitty, Clifford LeVan, Milton; summer yearling heifer - Ideals Counselor Classy, Ideal Holsteins, Centre Hall; junior yearling heifer - Ideals Magic Caryn, Mark Hough, Rebersburg; intermediate yearling heifer - Ideals Vintage Anya, Ideal Holsteins; senior yearling heifer - Ritters Logic Whistle, Duane Ritter; dry cow 3 & 4 years old - Sandsdale Altair R Victoria, Harriet Sands; aged dry cow - Rob-Run Ned Boy Wish, Robert Bronson, Bloomsburg; junior 2-year-old - Ideals Fantasia Paula, Ideal Holsteins; senior 2-year-old - Ideals Sebastian Jacky-TW, Ideal Holsteins; junior 3-year-old - Robbins Amador Christine, Janice Robbins, Bloomsburg; senior 3-year-old - Hillside Carolyn Starbuck, Hillside Farms, Shavertown; 4-year-old - Shuman Walkway Nicole, Sherry Shuman, Bloomsburg; 5-year-old - Jacky Validate Ritz Cracker, Ideal Holsteins; aged cow - Celebrity Mark Saphire, Janice Jurbala; 100,000-lb. cow - Wes Hillside Astro Theresa, Hillside Farms; best 3 females - Ideal Holsteins; dairy herd - Ideal Holsteins; produce of dam - Ritters Ridge Farm; dam & daughter - Ideal Holsteins.

In the other breed competitions, the grand champions were: Jersey - Top-O-Hill Admiral Tina (last year's Supreme Dairy Show Champion), shown by Mildred Seeds of Downingtown; Guernsey - Coal Hill F Ruby, Coal Hill Farm, Slippery Rock; Brown Swiss - Talleys Jubilation Gloria, Trudy Swendsen, Honesdale; and Ayrshire - Ayr-Fenley Hi Test Jolly, Ruth Milnes.

4-H LIVESTOCK SALE

The Bloomsburg Fair 4-H Livestock Sale netted $20,570 in proceeds for the 35 4-H'ers selling their livestock projects.

Sales of the champion animals were: champion market steer sold by Laura Lovell of Linden to Hoss's Steak House of Duncansville for $1450 ($1.12/lb.); reserve champion market steer owned by Kyle Hummel of Sunbury sold to Furman Foods of Northumberland for $1150 ($.98/lb.); the champion market lamb was sold to Rodger Bunnell Funeral Home of Bloomsburg for $175 ($1.64/lb.)

ADADC Launches New Advertising Strategy

SYRACUSE, N.Y. — To reach consumers with messages about the excellent quality of New York state cheese this fall, the consumer promotions department of the American Dairy Association and Dairy Council Inc. (ADADC) recently launched a new television advertising strategy in the Syracuse market.

Similar to a regular television commercial, ADADC's New York state cheese commercial features an "800" number that consumers can call to receive a free coupon booklet for New York state cheeses.

The 30-second commercial was filmed in Rochester, New York in August and started airing on ABC, NBC and CBS local affiliates in Syracuse (WIXT-TV Channel 9, WSTM-TV Channel 3, and WTVH-TV Channel 5) on Oct. 1.

The 800-number concept is being tested as an alternative way of distributing coupons to consumers. Its impact will be determined by the number of consumers who call the 800 number to request coupons.

Should this strategy prove successful, ADADC plans to implement it in all major market areas in 1994.

To enhance the new cheese commercial and stretch the investment dollar even further, the local television stations ran three short "teaser" ads free of charge prior to the actual airing on Oct. 1.

For your free coupon booklet for New York state cheeses - call 1-800-NY-Cheese.

The project is being funded by the American Dairy Association and Dairy Council, Inc. and the New York State Cheese Manufacturer's Association.

A Low Cost DHIA Program To Better Manage Your Herd

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — If you're not using Pennsylvania Dairy Herd Association (Pa.DHIA) to keep track of your cows, this program is for you.

Unlike the official DHIA program, where the supervisor stays on the farm and collects all the data and samples, with this "Onwer-Sampler" program, the client can do the work and eliminate the labor cost fo the technician.

Optional data for reporting includes sick cows, breeding records and feeding information.

The computer-generated reports produced from this data are identical to those produced for the "official" type programs, but Owner-Sampler records are considered "unofficial" by USDA, NAAB and the different dairy cattle breed associations.

However, the reports are every bit as valuable to the dairy manager as an official report, as long as the data is accurate.

The Owner-Sampler user has the priviledge of making on the spot adjustments to milk weight for sick cows, odd milking hours, and for the rare occasion of a meter malfunction.

Also, under this program, the user can set up his/her own "test day" in advance and is then spared the need to comply with policies and procedures governing "official" programs.

40 DHI-OS: Owner-Sampler with all milking in a 24-hour period being weighed and sampled.

41 DHIA-OS-AP: Owner-Sampler AM/PM, where only one milking is weighed and sampled monthly on an alternating basis for herds milked twice a day. For herds milking three times per day, two milking are weighed and one is sampled on an alternating basis.

42 DHI-OS-APCS: The Owner-Sampler AM/PM Component Sample option requires that all milkings within a 24-hour period are weighed and one milking is sampled monthly on an alternating basis.

43 DHI-OS-MO: This is an Owner-Sampler, Milk Only plan, where all milkings within a 24-hour period are weighed, but not sampled.

44 DHI-OS-MO-AP: This stands for Owner-Sampler, Milk-Only, AM/PM. In this program, only one milking is weighed on an alternating basis each month, but not sampled.

45 DHI-OS-AC: Meaning Owner-Sampler Average Components, this program uses recognized cattle breed averages, or milk plant averages, for milk components. All milkings in a 24-hour period are weighed each month and the average test is used for each cow.

46 DHI-OS-AP-AC: This stands for Owner-Sampler, AM/PM Average Components, using breed or plant averages for milk components and requires only one milking to be weighed on an alternating basis each month. The average component test values are used for each cow.

47 DHI-OS-TC: Owner-Sampler with a tri-monthly component test, this program requires all milkings to be weighed monthly, but component sampling is conducted every third month.

48 DHI-OS-MO-TMW: This program name stands for Owner-Sampler, Milk-Only, Tri-Monthly Weights. It requires taking milk weights every third month.

DHIA has changed to meet the needs of its members, and the availability of programs such as these needs to be made known.

Because the records are owner-sampled management reocrds, the interval between "test days" can be determined by a member's specific needs, placing at least a minimal type of program within reach of an milk producer.

To go on test, or to find out more information, call 1-800-DHI-TEST, or 1-800-344-8378.

NDB Recommends Minor Representation Change

BROOKFIELD, Wis. — The 36 dairy farmers serving on the National Dairy Promotion and Research Board looked at milk production based on regional representation of the country during their Sept. 22-23 business meeting.

As part of the order establishing the National Dairy Board, the board must review the relationship of milk production to National Dairy Board representation at least every five years. Because of a shift in milk production, the board voted to recommend to U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Mike Espy that representation from Region 8 (Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee and Kentucky) includes one less member while Region 4 (New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas, Arkansas and Texas) gains one member. Currently, both regions have two dairy farmer board members each.

National Dairy Board members determined the recommendation by applying a calculation, defined in the Dairy Promotion and Research Order, to milk production in each region.

The board, consisting of 36 active dairy farmers representing 13 geographic regions across the United States, recommended no other change in regional representation on the National Dairy Board. Unaffected regions include: Region 1 (Oregon and Washington)- one dairy farmer; Region 2 (California)- five dairy farmers; Region 3 (Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Nevada, Utah, Colorado and Arizona)- two dairy farmers; Region 5 (North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota)- three dairy farmers; Region 6 (Wisconsin)- six dairy farmers; Region 7 (Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri and Illinois)- three dairy farmers; Region 9 (Michigan, Indiana, Ohio and West Virginia)- three dairy farmers; Region 10 (Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida)- two dairy farmers; Region 11 (Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland and Delaware)- three dairy farmers; Region 12 (New York)- three dairy farmers; and Region 13 (Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island)- one dairy farmer.

The recommendation was sent to Secretary Espy who has final ruling in this matter.

DER Milkhouse Wastewater Study

The issue of milkhouse wastewater was briefly raised during the first meeting of the Nutrient Management Advisory Board to the State Conservation Commission.

The 15-member advisory committee is to review all regulatory proposals from the State Conservation Commission for the administration of the Nutrient Management Act, made into law earlier this year.

During discussion on what types of things might be considered in a nutrient management plan, the issue of milkhouse wastewater was questioned. In response, a DER representative said the department had no problem with milkhouse wastewater being dumped into a farm's regular manure storage pit, to later be used on fields for the material's nutrient and soil-building value.

Rider confirmed that as the position of the department at this time, with no real reason to suspect any change with the completion of the department's investigation into milkhouse wastewater.

"We've always advocated puting wastewater in manure," Rider said. "We've always seen it as being acceptable."

However, until all the data is reviewed, Rider could not confirm that the department will maintain its position on milkhouse wastewater; though that is most likely, since normal milkhouse waste contains nothing toxic after dilution into manure.

The focus, he said, is on onlot septic systems.

"Once we get the data evaluated and take a close look at it, we will have a better idea," he said.

The evaluation is to get a better understanding on "just what is in (milkhouse wastewater) and in what concentrations.

"We've always known it was mixed with manure and SCS (USDA's Soil Conservation Service) said, 'fine,' and we've had no pollution problems (with it) mixed, so we thought it was okay.

"But what we're looking at now is just what's in it and what concerns we might have to disposal into subsurface systems. A lot of facilities utilize just a subsurface (system). There may be some concerns with these systems malfunctioning because of the strengths of the materials put in it," he said.

He said specifically that the department will be looking at the waste in terms of biological oxygen demand (BOD) and suspended solids.

Even though the flow of milkhouse wastewater into a subsurface system may not be as great as from other sources, the concentration of nutrients is much higher than normal waste handled with a subsurface system, he said.

Rider said that following additional inhouse meetings with technical people, meetings between DER and agricultural representatives will be held in an attempt to work out what needs to be done and how soon.

Gordon Hiller, Master of the Pennsylvania Grange said, "I hope this effort will be a start towards developing a National Dairy Policy that everyone can support."

The letter was signed by: National Farmers Union, National Family Farm Coalition, National Farmers Organization, National Dairy Campaign, National Wife Organization, the Progressive Agriculture Organization, Pennsylvania State Grange, New York State Grange, New York State Milk Producers Association, and in Pennsylvania the Scenic Mountain, North Penn, and Northern Tier Milk Cooperatives.

Arden Tewksbury, Manager of Pro Ag stated, "all of these organizations helped to mold the effort, and the majority of the organizations are strong supporters of a new dairy pricing formula based on the national average cost of producing milk coupled with a supply management program, such as two-tier to maintain an adequate — stable supply of milk.

Many of the above named organizations were responsible for bringing many of the dairy farmers that attended the National Dairy Summit this past June in York, Pennsylvania.

The joint efforts were mainly prompted by the recent announcement from officials of the U.S.D.A. that the National Average Cost of Producing Milk was $14.11 in 1991, which left the residual return for management and risk at a minus -38 cents per cwt. The residual return in 1981 was a plus $2.30 per cwt. John Hathaway, from the Empire Farm Alliance, complimented the leaders of all the organizations for their efforts on the joint letter.

August Milk $12.33

ALBANY, N.Y. — Dairy farmers who supplied regulated milk dealers (handlers) under the New York-New Jersey marketing orders during August 1993 will be paid by handlers on the basis of a uniform price of $12.33 per hundredweight (26.5 cents per quart); the price for the corresponding month last year was $13.36 per hundredweight.

Market Administrator Ronald C. Pearce also stated that the price was $12.85 in July 1993. The uniform price is a marketwide weighted average of the value of farm milk used for fluid and manufactured dairy products.

The seasonal incentive plan has been suspended for 1993. If the plan had been in effect, 25 percent of the monies deducted would have been returned in the August uniform price calculation.

A total of 11,873 dairy farmers supplied handlers regulated under the New York-New Jersey marketing orders with 945,736,466 pounds of milk during August 1993. This was an increase of 1.7 percent (about 16 million pounds) from last year. The gross value to dairy farmers for milk deliveries was $116,697,152.45. This included differentials required to be paid to dairy farmers but not premiums, deductions authorized by the farmer, or assessments.

Regulated handlers used 365,275,554 pounds of milk for Class I, 38.6 percent of the total. This milk is used for fluid milk products such as homogenized, flavored, low test, and skim milks. For August 1993, handlers paid $14.45 per hundredweight (31.1 cents per quart) for Class I milk compared with $14.88 a year ago.

Handlers used 183,564,532 pounds of milk for Class II products, 19.4 percent of the total. Class II products include fluid cream, eggnog, ricotta and cottage cheeses, ice cream, and yogurt. Handlers paid $11.08 per hundredweight for this milk.

The balance (396,896,380 pounds or 42 percent) was used to manufacture Class III products including butter, cheese other than ricotta and cottage cheeses, and dried milk. Handlers paid $11.27 per hundredweight for this milk.

The uniform price is based on milk containing 3.5 percent butterfat. For August 1993, there was a price differential of 6.9 cents for each one-tenth of one percent that the milk tested above or below the 3.5 percent standard.

All prices quoted are for bulk tank milk received from farms in the 201-210 mile zone from New York City.

USDA Suspends Milk Marketing Provisions

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The USDA Agricultural Marketing Service has announced a six-month suspension of rules which would require milk pools operating within the Middle Atlantic Federal milk order to dispose (sell) 40 percent of their milk for fluid use.

According to a statement from Eugene Branstool, assistant secretary of marketing and inspection services, "As a result of the suspension, a pool distributing plant must displose of at least 30 percent of its monthly milk receipts for fluid purposes in these months."

In the statement, Branstool said, "The suspension was requested by several cooperatives that respresent producer show supply a large portion of the milk for the market, and is necessary to assure that producer milk which has been historically associated with the market will continue to be pooled under the order."

The suspension in the requirement is to run from Sept. 1 this year through next February.

According to the notice, the suspension of rules has been reviewed and has been determined to be a "non-major" and thus legal action.

It will not be retroactive and does not preempt any local laws, unless local law is in conflict with the rule. Also, administrative actions must be exhausted before anyone can file suit in court to stop the rule.

Complete notice, of the suspension of the rule mandating 40 percent or more of milk sold be used for Class I purposes, has been published in the June 29, 1993 (58 FR 34725) issue of the Federal Register.

The change in requirement specifically means that, for six months starting September, each milk pool within the Middle Atlantic federal markting order will sell at least 30 percent of its milk for the top-paying Class I use, instead of requiring each pool plant to sell at least 40 percent for Class I.

What it means for the producer is a larger market for the fall and winter holiday season, when cheeses, butter and specialty markets, such as egg nog, which are not necessarily included in the Class I use, but are included in the higher demanded Class II and Class III use markets.

The cooperatives which have requested the change represent 90 percent of milk supplied for market, according to the USDA notice.

The changes are in effect immediately, as any delay would not be in the interest of the common good, nor in the interest of the milk producers, acccording to the statement.

Promoting Beef

foster beef promotions. This past summer, recipe demonstrations went on in several select supermarkets in the region.

In the promotions, Balthaser said the Council relies on either the store or the store supplier to supply the beef. Beef representatives — this year, Tammy Gelsinger and Amy Eshelman, both from Berks County — provided the cooking demonstrations.

The Beef Council, however, relies on packers and retailers to supply the product because of an increasingly tight advertising budget. While the Council can supply various "hands-on, tangible" items such as recipes, bumper stickers, balloons, pins, etc., according to Balthaser, the Council cannot supply free beef products.

For every head of cattle sold, a checkoff of $1 goes toward the promotion of beef. "We are looking at limited funds, and a limited budget," she said. The cost of advertising, according to Balthaser, has increased since 1986, when the checkoff started, while cattle supplies in the state have remained level. "Our money isn't buying the media exposure it once bought. We are seeing an erosion in the buying power of beef checkoff dollars," she said.

Sprint car races are more widely televised now, and will reach more people. This year alone, about 20 races will be televised throughout the country. "This is what we gotta do," he said. A program is televised every Saturday night, called Slick 50, that reaches thousands — the potential target market for beef promotion.

The livestock buyer believes more producers and those in the industry should also get more involved in getting the message out. Recently, on a trip to Iowa, a top IBP executive told Weikert that the giveaway sandwich promotion and the advertising on the sprint car was the best promotion he had ever seen.

"I think this is a wonderful thing," said Weikert. "You can't beat getting in contact with people and making good communication."

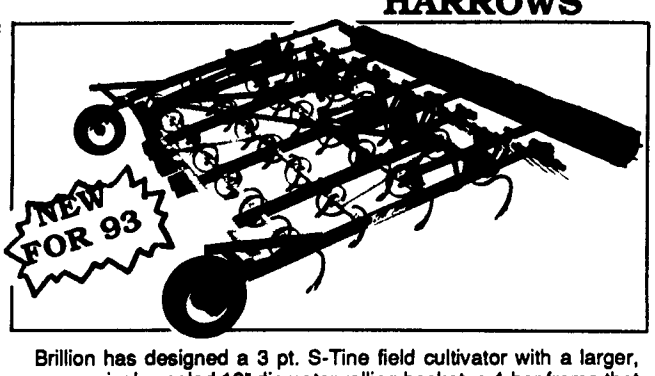
Brillion 3 PT. BASKET HARROWS



Brillion has designed a 3 pt. S-Tine field cultivator with a larger, aggressively angled 12" diameter rolling basket, a 4-bar frame that allows for either 4" or 6" tooth spacing and an adjustable leveler bar in 12', 15' and 18' sizes. The distance between the four bars has been increased for the best trash flow in the industry. Gauge wheels are optional.

HFC FIELD CULTIVATORS

The "heart" of any field cultivator is the shank pivot point. A "bulked up" shank bracket made of cast ductile iron instead of the usual formed steel bracket, incorporated a hardened steel bushing AND a zerk grease fitting to lubricate the pivot point to reduce wear. The result is thousands of acres of extended life of the shanks.

"ending in a profit of $1,217,000. This marks the fifth successive year of annualized profits in excess of $1 million." Other positive financial indicators reported by Smith included: tax-paid retained earnings increased to $2.3 million; debt-to-equity improved significantly to 81-cents on the dollar, compared to last year's $1.10 for every $1 of member equity; and member equity as a percentage of total assets improved 22.9 percent compared to last year.

Additionally, Smith said Dairylea remained committed to providing innovative and much needed services and programs to farmer members. These services include top-rated health insurance coverage; milkcheck direct deposit; a member loam program; Farmer Flex, which is a flexible benefits program that allows members to pay health, dental, vision, and childcare expenses with pre-tax dollars; and leadership and farm family programs.

Dairylea President Clyde Rutherford, in his address, discussed the changes experienced by Dairylea in the last 15 years, Rotherford's tenure as president. Rutherford emphasized the important role of members during this turbulent time. "Our membership understands that, to achieve our goals, we may do things a little differently — different from the past and different from other cooperatives. The continued support and encouragement of our members has enabled the Cooperative to travel down both unfamiliar and innovative roads, which ultimately have led to greener pastures."

Rutherford also applauded the management staff and support employees for their dedication and commitment to Dairylea's goals. He commended the field personnel and members for Dairylea's fine reputation as a supplier of quality milk.

Rutherford stressed the need for national unity among dairy farmers regarding federal dairy policy. "We all share the common goal of wanting to improve the financial situation of the dairy farming community. However, too much time is wasted on arguing about which road to take, rather than concentrating on arriving at our destination." With the steadily eroding federal budgetary support for current dairy policy, Rutherford emphasized that "we can no longer look to government to provide price protection." Jim Barr, chief executive officer of the National Milk Producers Federation (NMPF), spoke about federal dairy policy and NMPF's response during a break-out session on Tuesday.

Throughout the two days, members and guests had the opportunity to attend other sessions on health care reform, farm plans and clinical mastitis treatment, nutrient management, and farm succession planning.

Dairylea, a Syracuse-based dairy cooperative, has more than 2,300 member farms throughout the Northeast. It markets a total of 3.1 billion pounds of milk annually and participates and is invested in a milk marketing network stretching from Maine to Maryland to Ohio.

State Rep. Seeks Farm Safety Program

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — At a Harrisburg news conference last week state Rep. Sara G. Steelman, D-Indiana/Cambria, announced she is to introduce legislation designed to promote farm accident prevention.

Her bill, to be introduced after the House returns to session next week, would empower the Department of Agriculture to establish a grant program for farm safety education programs for all persons engaged in agricultural production, including older adults and children.

Eligible grant recipients would include vocational and technical schools; community colleges; state-owned and state-related colleges and universities; agricultural extension services; and agricultural and rural youth organizations.

Steelman said the debate over workers' compensation reform earlier this year sparked her interest in emphasizing improved workplace safety on farms.

"Farming is Pennsylvania's biggest business," said Steelman. "Unfortunately, it's also a dangerous business. That's reflected both in the human toll of death and injury and in the high insurance rates farmers pay.

"When we were discussing the role of education in reducing workplace injuries, I began to think a farm safety education program would be a good idea.

"In addition," said Steelman, "Dan and Leanne Griffith, who farm in Indiana County, have been presenting a farm machinery safety program for local young people that I think is a model for the kinds of local educational projects the state should encourage."

Steelman noted that according to Penn State University's Cooperative Extension Service, 107 farm fatalities and 99 injuries were reported in the commonwealth between 1990 and 1992.

"Of the fatalities, 67 percent involved either children 14 years of age and younger or adults 55 years of age and older," Steelman said. "This is strong evidence our efforts must encompass every age group involved in and around farming."

The data also showed 80 percent of the reported deaths resulted from accidents involving tractors and other agricultural equipment and machinery.

"The real tragedy is that many farm injuries and deaths are preventable," said the Indiana Democrat.

"As the saying goes, 'an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure,' both in terms of the economic aspects of accidents and health costs and most certainly in alleviating human suffering."

19 More Reasons

Why you should buy Big Dutchman from Hershey Equipment

NEW CONSTRUCTION OR REMODEL WORK

1. Big Dutchman and Hershey Equipment is #1 in owner loyalty. More people buy Big Dutchman when they remodel than any other system.
2. Our Profit-tier system adapts to your old building.
3. Re-use your old corners to save money.
4. Big Dutchman's superior suspension system keeps the cages from sagging between stands. Competitive systems sag.
5. Lower maintenance costs. Talk to our customers - Then talk to theirs!
6. Better Performance! This isn't just talk. Ask your feed company to show you records from a Big Dutchman system to compare to a competitive system.
7. Big Dutchman high lip feed trough is designed to reduce spillage into the walkways. Look at a competitors walkway and measure the thickness of wasted feed.
8. Your old hoppers aren't wore out. Save money and reuse them on your new system.
9. We have our own installation crews to be sure the equipment is properly installed. Competition hires outside crews.
10. Eggs move gently from the birds, to the belts and thru the collector unit. The eggs are not like balls in a bowling alley as in some competitive systems.
11. Incredible! New left hand drive allows feed chain to travel up to 120 F.P.M.
12. Your present gearboxes and motors can be re-used to save money.
13. The Big Dutchman chain feeder gives 2½ times more feeder space than the grind auger.
14. It's a proven fact. Chain feeder systems use less electricity.
15. Big Dutchman has a stronger cage top and front than competitive cages.
16. The sliding door on a Big Dutchman system is easy to open and close and it stays closed.
17. The Big Dutchman collector is the best there is. Don't accept an imitation.
18. Our cage design allows eggs to roll front and out of the cage, not get stepped on and cracked by birds as in competitive cages.
19. Big Dutchman systems provides a bigger percentage of larger eggs for a longer period of time.

Last York County Livestock Auction Closes

JOYCE BUPP
York Co. Correspondent

STEWARTSTOWN (York Co.) — The last livestock auction in York County went out of business this week.

Isennock Auction Services, which operated the Stewartstown livestock auction, ran the last calves, cattle and hogs through its ring late Monday evening. When the last animal cleared the ring, even the holding lot separating gates were available for sale.

While regular buyers and sellers who used the auction service learned of its closing in mid-September, the decision to discontinue the livestock sales portion of the Stewartstown facility was made well over a year ago. Sales of produce, poultry, rabbits and tools will contin as before at the Monday evenin, auction.

"The number of cattle going through the sale has dropped off a couple of hundred head each year," says Cindy Isennock, co-owner with her husband, Robert, of Isennock Auction Services, Inc., White Hall, Maryland. "And in the last year, five of the local dairy farmers who supported the sale with their cattle and calves went out of business."

Only in 1991 did the auction's numbers take an upswing trend since it opened for business in January, 1989. And that, say the Isennocks, was primarily related to several local farmers going out of business and marketing their herds that year. In the last nine months, total number of head was down 582 from the same period one year ago.

Along with declining numbers of livestock supporting the auction and loss of local farmers, the Isennocks cite several other reasons for their decision to cease handling cattle, hogs and sheep.

Fewer buyers and slaughter-packing facilities, skyrocketing insurance rates, especially workmen's compensation coverage, increasing numbers of hogs raised under contract, and the changing American diet focusing on less beef and dairy products all contribute to the declining auction numbers, the Isennocks believe.

Buyers and sellers of livestock on hand to watch the final night of auction Monday evening noted that, while the closing is an inconvenience to the local farm business, auctions in neighboring counties will probably fill the gap.

Stan Godfrey, partner in the family-owned Godfrey Brothers Meats at Loganville, expects to do more buying for their retail market use at the various Lancaster County livestock auctions, as well as the Tuesday evening one held at Westminster, Maryland.

Brad Yost, Loganville, bought calves at the evening auction for Jeff Craig of Greencastle Sales. Since a full-time job prohibits him from attending day sales, Yost was uncertain if he would continue buying livestock at all.

Local dairy farmer Bob Gross, of nearby Fawn Grove, marketed his calves through the Stewartstown sale. Gross predicted he will use Lancaster County auctions more heavily and added that, on occasion, he has hauled animals during the night to Lancaster area sales so he could be back home in time for morning milking.

The Stewartstown facility has been a local livestock marketing source for York County farmers since 1964. The Sechrist family, which owned and operated it for many years, sold the auction in the mid-1980's to an out-of-county owner who continued to run it as the York County Livestock Auction. The Isennocks took over the auction in December, 1988, opening for business the first Monday evening in 1989.

"This was simply a business decision," affirms Cindy Isennock, of the closing of the Stewartstown livestock auction."

ONE MORE DOMINO

While the auction's closing, in itself, is not expected to create severe hardship overall to the county's livestock business, long-time industry observers see it's demise as "one more domino" in the continuing decline of agriculture and related agri-business in York County.

"There are at least 25 feed stores that once operated in York County that have gone out of business since the mid-1960s," says Marlyn Flaharty, owner and operator of Service Feed and Supply, Delta. "The 'free market' portion of feed business, as opposed to feed sold through contracting arrangements, has gone way down over the years."

"With fewer farmers, there's less need for feed mills," Flaharty states, summing up the declining need for all ag-related services. "We're in the people business now - gardening, pet supplies - rather than in the agriculture business." Continuning population expansion into York County from Harrisburg and Baltimore is expected to only intensify that squeeze on ag land and the loss of farmers.

The Delta feed and fertilizer supplier cites studies which have shown that if feed orders could be handled on a controlled, two-shift basis, a full half of the operating feed mills in Pennsylvania could be closed down. And, Flaharty's firm, along with Codorus Fertilizer Service at Codorus, are the only two remaining independent fertilizer suppliers located in York County. (Turn to Page A37)

York County's last livestock auction closed Monday evening after the evening's consignments of cattle and hogs cleared the sale arena. Isennock Auction Service, Inc., plans to continue the weekly sales of produce, small animals, and tools.

PHA Seeks Bred Heifers For Saudi

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — The Pennsylvania Holstein Association (PHA) has recently announced its intent to supply a shipment of registered and bred Holstein heifers to Saudi Arabia.

According to the association, headquartered in State College, the price paid each for qualifying bred heifers is to be $1,400, delivered to the association's farm in Middletown. The farm is located off of Rt. 441.

To make an offer, contact the association at (814) 234-0364, or write to: Pennsylvania Holstein Associatin, 839 Benner Pike, State College, PA 16801.

Specifically, the association is seeking heifers that will be aged 19 to 28 months old as of Dec. 1, 1993, which means they were born between August 1, 1991 and May 1, 1992.

Also, they must weight a minimum of 1,000 pounds or 1,100 pounds, as of Nov. 15, depending on age and length of pregnancy. They must also be "of good flesh and correct conformation," according to the news release.

By Dec. 1, the heifers should be from four- to seven-months pregnant, which means they were successfully bred between May 1 and August 1.

Other minimum standards include that the heifer's sire must have minimum PDs of +1,000 pounds milk, and +35 pounds fat; the service sire for the heifer's current pregnancy must have minimum PDs of +800 pounds milk and +35 pounds fat; and the dam of the heifer must have recorded at least a first 305-day lactation production of 17,000 pounds, 3.7-percent fat, milk, or have recorded a second or later 305-day lactation production of 19,000 pounds milk with 3.7 percent fat.

Fall Cheese Promotion Pays Off Big

SYRACUSE, N.Y. — The American Dairy Association and Dairy Council Inc. (ADADC) has announced that dairy producers enjoyed a net payback of more than 4.5 million dollars as a result of last fall's Cheese Snack Shoppe promotion.

Looking to repeat that success, the 1993 cheese promotion takes on a new twist and some new partners.

This year's fall promotion is called "Cheese Sandwich Shoppe" and features tie-in consumer offers with Continental Baking Company (makers of Wonder Bread), and the Beef Industry Council.

Enticing, colorful point-of-purchase materials including banners, mobiles and free recipe leaflets will be used by supermarkets to create out-of-case displays and attract consumers' attention to the dairy and deli cases. In-store coupons will also give consumers the opportunity to save $1 on the purchase of REAL cheese and any two varieties of Wonder Bread.

To further enhance the "Cheese Sandwich Shoppe" promotion, dairy promoters throughout ADADC's marketing region are participating in a contest to promote real cheese.

As part of the contest, they will submit news articles to local papers featuring recipes using real cheese, record public service announcements suggesting consumers use real cheese, and will conduct cheese samplings in local supermarkets.

This year's promotion will be supported by a 3.5 million dollar national television and radio campaign which will run for three weeks.

Eastern Milk Supports Self-Help

SYRACUSE, N.Y. — "Self Help", an initiative to set up a farmer-run marketing mechanism to sell surplus dairy products abroad, is the way for the dairy industry to go.

That was the message coming out of Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative's annual business meetings in Syracuse Sept. 28-29, where farmer delegates representing some 3,200 farm families affirmed the self-help initiative.

The unanimous vote came after delegates resoundingly defeated as unworkable a resolution favoring the concept of two-tier pricing, where farmers would be guaranteed a price for a certain amount of production and a much lower price for anything over that.

"It's significant to have representatives from all across the Northeast to not only vote not to support two-tier pricing, but to take the step to unanimously support the efforts of National Milk Producers Federation in fighting for 'self-help' in Congress," Eastern President Lewis Gardner said.

"The times require new solutions," was the way National Milk CEO Jim Barr summed up the plight of the dairy industry in a presentation to delegates the day before they acted on resolutions.

The trend in Washington toward cutting farm subsidies and assessing farmers for their own programs has become clear, Barr said. If farmers don't take steps to help themselves now, they may fare even worse come the 1995 farm bill, he argued.

That's why National Milk, a trade organization representing two-thirds of the milk produced in the U.S., is pushing for a way for farmers to have a say in their future — specifically, a dairy board that would intervene when government dairy surpluses hit the 5-to-7 billion pound range. The board would sell products abroad at world competitive prices, reducing surplus spending and bolstering the farmers' raw milk price.

The mechanism to clear the U.S. market of excessive surpluses would be farmer-run through a dairy board and farmer-supported through a 10-cent per hundredweight assessment.

Bill Perry, a co-op official from Ohio, gave Eastern's delegates what he described as a "dose of reality."

The majority of people in Congress and the majority of consumers do not really care about farmers and about farm policy, said Perry, director of member and governmental affairs for Milk Marketing Inc. What they care about is food safety, food for the poor and the environment, he said.

Farmers will get nowhere, he said, if they don't make their issues relevant to the concerns of Congress and the Clinton Administration, or to the concerns of urban-oriented consumers and the growing number of people at or below the poverty level.

"Issues that are important to us, we have to frame in such a way that are relevant to others," Perry said.

"Self Help" is an example of doing just that, he said, because it would keep prices down for the Women and Infant Children (WIC) food giveaways and at the same time keep farmgate milk prices from plummeting.

"As a veteran of battles in Congress," National Milk's Barr noted, "I don't think the old production control approach will work...

"The times require new solutions. Self-help is that solution. Self-help is the way of the future."

MORIDGE

the grain dryer that only needs a little understanding.

You don't have to be a grain drying expert to own, operate and make money with a Moridge Grain Dryer. Here are three important aspects of our dryer we think you should understand.

Low Purchase and Operation Costs

Our purchase price is one of the lowest in circulating dryers. Good basic design allows us to power the 400 bu. Moridge easily with a 35 hp tractor. Combine tractor savings with an efficient burner-fan system-plenum chamber complex for some of the lowest cost-per-bushel drying figures you'll find anywhere.

Ease of Operation

Our round base levels quickly on any terrain. Add fuel and power supply, load grain into attached hopper, set controls, ignite burner and begin your own grain drying operation.

Handles Grain with Care

Moridge Dryers have been designed to minimize kernel damage wherever possible. We feed directly from loading auger flighting to the flighting of the recirculating auger; we measure grain temperature rather than air temperature; steeply angled walls of bottom cone increase flow of grain to base of the recirculating auger; and we even added a 3-speed transmission* for varying speed during drying and load-unload cycles.

400 bu. model pictured-275 and 712 bu. models also available. *optional feature

structed there. Most of the wagon shed was rebuilt by the silos for use as a feeding room. Leftover beams frame a flower garden beside the milk house.

The Main's cows average 70 pounds of milk per day, for a monthly average of about 300,000 pounds. Monie's goal is to produce 3.7 million pounds of milk per year. "The cows milk better here," he said, attributing the increase to the new facilities. In Maryland, they had a stanchion barn.

Monie farms 225 acres of corn and alfalfa here, and an additional 225 acres of no-till corn and soybeans in Frederick County, MD. Custom operators do the out-of-state farming, and Monie uses the corn and soybeans in his cows' feed.

Hired man Larry Diehl has been with the Mains for 15 years, and made the move from Maryland with them. Larry does the field work and takes care of the machinery, while Monie works with the cows.

They also employ a relief milker a few evenings a week. "I like to milk cows, but I felt trapped in there in the evening," Monie explained. "(Having a relief milker) makes a big difference." It takes 2½ to three hours to milk.

Liza was raised on Long Island, New York. She went to Hood College in Maryland, majoring in Home Economics, and her parents expected her to come back to Long Island to teach. Instead, she met Monie, who was an accounting, business, and finance major at nearby Mount St. Mary's College.

Six months after their marriage in July 1973, Monie and Liza started farming on their own. Her parents moved to Frederick County to be near her. Liza taught Home Economics for several years, until Libby was born.

Liza, 42, keeps the books and the records for the farm, M & L Main, Inc., and helps to wash down the parlor. She is kept busy transporting the children to various activities and doing volunteer work at their schools and at church. She is active in the Farm Women #6 group.

Monie, 43, said of the family's move, "It was a challenge at the time," and admits that, "Five years from now, I probably wouldn't want to do it again."

The Mains have no intention of pushing their children into farming. "We did not build this for the children. This is strictly us," Monie said. "We want to get the children in touch with as many things as they want. If they chose to farm, great. Nothing will be put on them like, 'I did this for you.'"

"Monie and I are farming because we want to farm," Liza added. "We're trying to make the children self-sufficient."

Both children are musically inclined. Libby, 15, who is a junior, plays the clarinet at James Buchanan High School and is a member of the marching band and concert band. She is a member of the Pep Club and AFS, is on the swim time, and is a lifeguard at the school's pool.

Matt, 11, plays the drums and is in the eight grade at James Buchanan Middle School. He plays in the concert, stage and marching bands. He enjoys drawing, Nintendo, and basketball.

Liza said that the family enjoys Mercerburg's spirit and community organization. "Everyone goes to the basketball games," she said.

NDB Builds Plans Around Priorities

BROOKFIELD, Wis. — The National Dairy Promotion and Research Board met Sept. 21-23 to approve program plans for the current year that address the board's marketing priorities.

The 36 dairy farmers serving on the National Dairy Board also funded several programs that bring national, state and regional farmer-funded organizations together to maximize farmer investment and leverage with industry.

Fluid Milk

Several commercials and a chocolate milk promotion were approved for use in encouraging children and teenagers to drink more fluid milk.

The board voted to use 15-second versions of two 30-second commercials, "Backstage" and "Diner," targeting male and female teens which were produced and put on-air during the summer. By rotating the 30-second versions with 15-second versions of the same commercials, the National Dairy Board can reach teens more often, reminding them to drink milk to help increase fluid sales.

A new 30-second commercial aimed at kids, ages 6-11, was approved for use beginning late September. It replaces the commercial "Roger & Max" that has been on-air for more than a year, and tells kids that drinking milk will help them grow, and it tastes good too.

The board approved a new 15-second commercial "Monsters/Bob" aimed at kids and teens. The chocolate commercial and promotion are designed to increase total milk consumption by positioning chocolate milk as a snack, an eating occasion typically low for white milk consumption.

The chocolate milk commercial will not air in the Midwest market in order to measure and compare the impact of white milk advertising, chocolate milk advertising and chocolate milk advertising plus promotional activities.

In addition to domestic promotion of chocolate milk, dairy farmers serving on the National Dairy Board approved plans to conduct in-store chocolate milk promotions of U.S. product in Mexico during the coming year.

The board made that decision after market research indicated potential growth for the relatively new flavored milk market in Mexico.

Members of the National Dairy Board approved $100,000 to investigate causes for the recent decline in fluid milk consumption.

"We need to find out if consumers just aren't consuming as many beverages as they use to with changes in lifestyle or if we are losing them to competing beverages," said James Cook, Alabama dairyman and chair of the Board's Market and Economic Research Committee. "We need to know exactly what those competing beverages are, and why consumers switch to them."

To help stave off fluid milk declines, the board approved a project to study product quality and packaging issues impacting fluid milk use by young children and the elderly.

"We will work with fluid processors and bottlers from the onset, attempting to match new technology in fluid dairy beverage quality and packaging with the unique needs of children and the elderly," explained John Peachey, Florida dairy farmer and chair of the Board's Dairy Foods and Nutrition Research Committee.

"Then we will develop prototype packaging concepts consumers want, determine the cost and impact of the alternate packaging on product quality, improve the package based on consumer feedback and then work with industry to evaluate the potential of the new packaging."

Cheese

Since brands advertise specific types of cheese, the National Dairy Board voted to advertise and promote cheese as a total category rather than specific types as it had done in last few years. It hopes to begin advertising new commercials under this broader strategy of selling the total cheese category in November. The new cheese commercials will target men and women, highlighting ways to use cheese in new sandwiches, snacks and toppings.

To complement cheese advertising, the board approved funding of up to $1 million for a spring retail cheese promotion. Similar to years past, the promotion will coincide with the Memorial Day weekend, kicking off the grilling season. Partners in the promotion include the American Dairy Association and the beef checkoff. Details of the promotion have yet to be determined, and promoters will look for tie-in partners to leverage farmer dollars.

The National Dairy Board has had good results in helping the U.S. dairy industry break into export markets for cheese. The

MILK CHECK

THOMAS JURCHAK
Dairy Specialist
Lackawanna County

SCRANTON (Lackawanna Co.) — After the free fall in cheese prices reported here last month when the block price fell 18 cents in 11 weeks, they were hitting the ground shortly thereafter.

However, when they hit they bounced higher and faster than anyone can remember.

In three weeks from August 27 to Sept. 10 they recovered 14 of the 18 cents they lost in the previous 11 weeks. Barrel prices jumped 13 cents in one week for something of a record in recent history.

Cheese prices were expected to increase this fall but no one expected so much so soon.

Storage stocks for July were still higher than a year ago with cheddar up 6 percent and American up 9 percent. July's national milk production was up 1 percent over last year, but Wisconsin's production has been down 2 percent since June.

In addition, fluid milk shipments from Wisconsin to Southern markets are picking up seasonally now with 43 loads moving in that direction the first week of September.

Nothing has happened to change the milk powder markets and even subsidized export sales under the Dairy Export Incentive Program have been little help.

Double Dip

As part of the 18-cent drop in cheese prices the Minnesota-Wisconsin Price Series fell another 25 cents to $11.17 in August nearly matching the low for the year (so far) of $11.02 in March.

Usually you have only one low price in the M-W per year but this time you'll have two. After falling for three months from January to March the M-W price rose to its peak (so far) of $12.52 in May and now has fallen again to $11.17 in August.

So, in addition to having a double dip on the low side you may end up with twin peaks on the high side — all in one year.

That was a drop of $1.35 in the M-W since May but the 14-cent increase in the cheese price could translate into a $1.40 increase in the M-W putting it back where it was in May.

How Come

Reasons for the volatility in cheese prices are now mainly speculative, which means your reasons are as good as anybody's but for an industry that has been used to stable prices in the past this may be a sign of things to come.

When milk and dairy product prices were supported by government they didn't change very much. Dealers of dairy products didn't have to worry about supplies because the government usually had some to sell and would pay the storage costs.

Now handlers have to guess what future supplies will be for their products and gamble on prices.

The uncertainty of how milk production will be affected by forage supplies and feed prices is an important part of the gamble. Perhaps they overreacted this time, but it's a new ball game for them as well as the producer.

What Next

Because the cheese price increases came early in September, they will help to increase the M-W price this month especially if they stay up. If they don't, you may have to look hard for changes on your milk checks.

At best, however, even if the M-W starts up this month, it will be Thanksgiving before you see the money. Christmas will look a lot better.

The blend prices to producers for August dropped 52 cents in Order 2; 60 cents in Order 36 and the weighted average in Order 4 was down 99 cents below your July prices. It will take a few months to turn the losses of the last two months into plusses on your checks, but cheese prices can do it if they just stay put where processors and producers can plan ahead.

Hall Leads National FFA Winners

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — A faculty member in Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences recently led 29 high school students on a tour of Europe. The students were recipients of national FFA agricultural proficiency awards.

Dr. David Hall, assistant professor of agricultural and extension education, was an assistant leader of the European travel seminar, sponsored by the National FFA Foundation.

FFA members can receive agricultural proficiency awards at the local, state, regional, and national levels for exceptional accomplishments in working toward careers in agriculture. The program includes 29 award areas, ranging from agricultural electrification to wildlife management.

The tour included visits to agricultural production, processing, marketing, and educational facilities in Germany, Austria, the Czech Republic, the Slovak Republic, and the United Kingdom. Students stayed with host families in eastern Germany.

Hall helped prepare students for the traveling seminar. He also provided slides for student presentations and authored a summary entitled "1993 Proficiency Travel Seminar Highlights."

Hall serves as secretary of the Pennsylvania FFA board of directors, eastern region teacher educator consultant to the National FFA board of directors, and vice president of the National FFA Foundation board of trustees.

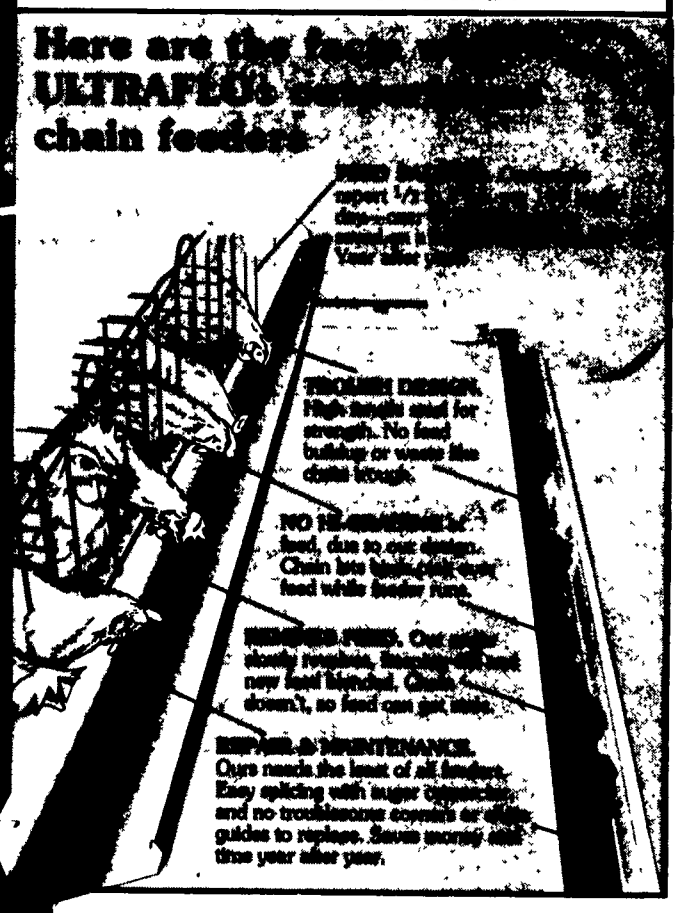
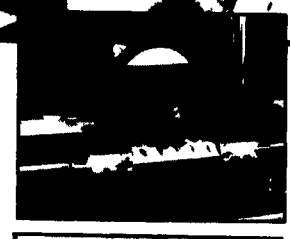
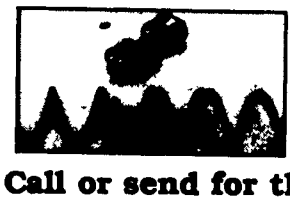
Over 80% of the nation's top egg producers have already switched to Chore-Time cages with ULTRAFLO® Feeders!*





SIMPLE OPERATION. "Push-Pull" Power Units with low HP motor are located along the feeder line as needed. Have hardened steel gears for trouble-free life. Microprocessor control lets you program feeding time to the second.



EASY AUGER CONNECTOR. Allows fast and simple installation, also quick and easy repair of auger if ever necessary. Auger and trough are both warranted 5 full years. Chain feeders are not.

Egg producers have been putting up with obsolete chain feeders far too long. Now there's a better way: Chore-Time's proven ULTRAFLO Cage Feeding System. Since introduction, more than 80% of the top 54 egg producers* have gone to ULTRAFLO. A lot of smaller ones have too.

They've all looked at the advantages and chosen ULTRAFLO. That's because it makes them more profitable. Total egg production and egg size—these are the best benefits of our complete feeding system.

Why not check out the facts for yourself? Contact us now—or ask any producer who owns ULTRAFLO.

Because the only negative comments about our feeding system come from our competition—not from our customers.

Call or send for the list of over 80% top egg producers who have switched to Chore-Time!

NOW SERVING NEW YORK, NEW JERSEY & CONNECTICUT

Ask Me A Question, I'll Look It Up

GEORGE F.W. HAENLEIN
Extension Dairy Specialist
University of Delaware

NEWARK, Del. — On the nutrition, feeds and feeding at least. This is not a commercial or an endorsement.

It's simply a review of probably the most comprehensive and up-to-date source of information dairy producers can find anywhere, and at a bargain price of only $15.

I am looking at the 1993 Feedstuffs Reference that was just issued as volume 65, number 30. Published by the Miller Publishing Co. in Des Moines, Iowa (P.O. Box 11652, 50340-1652), the reference contains 278 pages.

Four sections of this volume deal with all possible and related aspects of animal feeding: feed marketing and distribution, animal nutrition and health, feed milling, buyers guide and directory. Like most dairy farmers, I am most interested in the nutrition and health section.

It contains chapters and extensive tables on the latest feed analyses, covering 12 minerals including copper, zinc and selenium; gross nutrients; specific energy values for ruminants, poultry, swine; 10 vitamins; and 12 amino acids in 368 feeds.

The feeds section will be of particular interest for dairy farmers who try to formulate their least-cost rations with maybe unusual but sometimes bargain feeds such as bakery byproducts, canola meal, vegetable fat, feathermeal, poultry manure and sorghum.

There are even browse feeds that dairy goat farmers want to know more about, such as acorns, apples, apple pomace, banana skins, cabbage, grape pomace, pumpkins, sagebrush, sunflower seeds and tree leaves.

The tables and discussions are logically followed by chapters and tables on the nutrient requirements of swine, beef cattle, dairy cattle, poultry, goats and sheep, horses, dogs and cats, as elaborated on in National Research Council bulletins and other recent research publications. Also covered are diseases of swine, cattle, poultry and cultured finfish.

Each chapter is authored by internationally known experts in their respective fields, like Drs. D. Bath, University of California; T.W. Perry, Purdue University; D. Hillman, Michigan State University; E.A. Ott, University of Florida.

The marketing section furnishes valuable details about trends in feed prices, feed consumption, production and animal statistics both in the United States (by state and region) and worldwide.

Do you know which livestock in the United States eats the most commercial feed?

In 1992, poultry consumed 25.3 million metric tons; hogs, 23.3; and beef 19.2. Dairy cattle consumed only 11.1 metric tons, even though 152 billion pounds of milk were produced, measured against 41 million pounds of red meat and 25 million pounds of poultry.

Any more arguments on who is most efficient in the conversion from non-edible feeds to human foods?

Which state has the most milk cows? Wisconsin, with 1.7 million head followed by California, 1.2 million.

Which state has the most dairy farms? Wisconsin, followed by Pennsylvania and Minnesota.

The farm product that also interests Delaware, Maryland and Pennsylvania farmers is broilers, but Arkansas has the most, with 1 billion. Maryland is 7th, with 280 million broilers; Delaware is 8th, with 246 million; and Pennsylvania ranks 14th, with 117 million.

However, Pennsylvania comes in 2nd, behind California, for laying hens — 20 million — and is 8th in turkey production, with 8 million. Delaware and Maryland don't rank in the top 15 leading states for layers or turkeys.

The feed milling section of the 1993 Feedstuffs Reference offers abundant information on terminology, ingredient definitions, federal and state feed regulations, feed labeling, custom feed mixing, medicated feed regulations, quality control and mycotoxins in feeds — an extremely important chapter for today's dairy producer.

This section also contains conversion formulae for metric to bushels, inches, pounds, gallons, and apparent densities of dry feed ingredients in pounds per cubic foot. The latter chapter is very useful for dairy farmers who must formulate rations for high-milking dairy cows. These cows require a much greater nutrient density than the usual farm ration composed of hay, silage and pasture.

Finally, section 4 has extensive directories on every possible feed supply company, association, product, service and equipment, with only a minimum of advertisement.

The 1993 Feedstuffs Reference is a highly useful resource, even the chapters on disease. These include cattle diseases; the cost per animal for certain treatments and practices, along with the expected return; an annual herd health calendar that lists by month as well as disease organism, including internal and external parasites; a list of drugs approved for milking cows plus minimum hours of withholding times; and formulations for fly and other insect controls.

Every livestock farmer, especially those with dairy animals, would benefit from having this reference within easy reach.

USDA Extends Insurance Deadline

DAUPHIN (Dauphin Co.) — The USDA has extended the deadline until the end of the month for purchasing multiple peril crop insurance for crops grown during the 1994 season.

According to a news release this week from the Dauphin County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), the closing dates have been extended to Oct. 31 for wheat, barley, oats, and rye.

"In order to be eligible for 1993 disaster benefits, Dauphin County producers should purchase 1994 crop insurance if it is possible that the 1993 loss for the commodity for which payments are being sought is greater than 65 percent of the expected production," stated the news release, giving no specific attribution.

However, according to the news release, buying the insurance does not lock a producer into actually carrying it through.

"Insurance purchased to meet the multiple peril crop insurance requirement can be canceled if it is later determined that crop insurance is not required."

The notice is clear that those who may be considering delaying application for disaster benefits until after the deadline in order to escape the requirement will not find relief.

"Producers cannot avoid the crop insurance requirement by delaying the filing of a request for disaster benefits until after the crop insurance sales closing dates."

Those who feel they may qualify for 1993 crop disaster payments should contact their local ASCS office. In Dauphin County, the telephone number is (717) 921-2378.

Center Releases Boar Sale Results

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture's Meat Animal Evaluation Center wishes to announce the results from the 17th Performance Tested Boar Sale.

Charles and Mark Hall consigned the top indexing pen of boars. The top boar in this pen of Yorks sold to James Mathis and Jeanne Beyer of Julian, for $525.

The second highest indexing pen of boars bred by Neutzel Yorkshires sold next and started off with the highest individual indexing boar. Charles Hall, Rattlesnake Mountain Farms, was the successful bidder at $1,175, the top price of the day. The second boar in this pen then sold to Hillside Acres of Lenhartsville, for $900. The 13 Yorkshire boars averaged $560.

Baum Family Landrace had consigned the only entries in this breed, but the entrees were a good representation for their breed and they were in demand. The highest selling Landrace, out of this pen, sold to Roy Jamison of Chambersburg, for $1,000. Kenneth Jones of Danville, bought the second boar out of this pen for $900. The four Landrace boars averaged $656.

Penn State University had the top indexing pen of Durocs. The top indexing and top selling Duroc boar came from this pen. This boar was purchased by Hillside Acres for $500. The three Duroc boars sold averaged $467.

The four Hampshire boars averaged $481. Carl Rabenold and Franklin Feeser each sold a Hampshire boar for $500. These boars sold to Hillside Acres and Brian Hege of Fayetteville, respectively.

The center is accepting pens of progeny pigs for our fall-winter testing program. The next boar testing program will begin in March 1994. The next performance tested boar sale is scheduled for Wednesday evening, August 17, 1994.

For more information on Pennsylvania's performance testing programs, contact Glenn Eberly, director of the Meat Animal Evaluation Center, 651 Fox Hollow Road, State College, PA 16803, (814) 238-2527.

Last York County

"Besides, who can continue to operate with 1993-level operating expenses on a 1980-level income? Some 70 percent of our farmers now depend on some or almost all of their living to come from off farm jobs," Flaharty continues. "It doesn't paint a very good picture down the road."

William Sprenkle, Jr., at the York offices of Abbottstown-based Hoke Mills, Inc., like Flaharty, has watched numerous county feed firms close over the years.

"Feed companies operate on a very low profit martin; to stay in business, you must have a certain level of volume. With declining numbers of family farmers, there is just less dollar value available," he laments of the trend.

"Equipment advertising is so widespread now that Lancaster is getting York's business," flatly insists Jim Waltemyer, owner of Waltemyer's Sales and Service, Red Lion, the sole remaining full-service John Deere dealership in York County. Like other agribusiness firms, Waltemyer verbally ticks off a list of York County equipment dealers that have closed their doors in the last two decades, easily a dozen he figures.

"Those that are still here are likely to stay - but you're not going to see any new ones starting up," Waltemyer is certain. While fewer full time farmers have impacted sales of equipment over the years, "weekend" farmers continue to be an increasing factor for dealers who, like Waltemyer, serve the lawn and garden business.

"If the government wants to jump-start the economy," suggests Waltemyer, "they should put another dollar on corn, beans, milk. If farmers get more money, it bumps right up through the rest of the economy. Three-quarters of our sales in recent years is for equipment that farmers absolutely must have and simply can't put off buying any more.

"If farmers got a little more return for what they produce, we couldn't get enough equipment to supply the demand to replace what's wearing out."

Both federal and state ag census data on file at the York County Extension Office depict in numbers the continuing loss of farms and farmland in the county.

The 1982 Ag Census notes 282 dairy farms in York County, averaging 52 head per herd, and a total of 14,748 dairy cows. Pennsylvania Ag Statistics data for 1991, by comparison, counts 215 dairy farms of an average 67 head totalling 14,300.

Inventory of beef cattle and calves in 1992 was at 51,000, down from the 1982 count of 53,400. Hog numbers were up, with an estimated 101,700 head marketed in 1982 to a 1987 estimate of 135,000.

Cropland planted in major grain and forage crops in York County dropped from 204,000 acres in 1980 to 182,000 acres in 1990, according to John Rowehl, York Extension agronomist.

"The only crop that has shown an increase has been soybeans," adds Rowehl, noting that bean acrage in York County increased from 18,000 acres in 1985 to a current estimated 32,000 acres. Corn grain acrage decreased from 93,000 acres in 1980 to 65,000 acres in 1990, while wheat also dropped from 30,000 acres in the early 1980s to the low 20,000-acre level a decade later.

"Feed crop acres tend to run with the dairy and livesrtock industry; the rest appears to be in a steady decline, except for the increase in beans," the agronomist notes. Reflecting that, alfalfa acreage has remained relatively level in the last ten years, about 15,500 acres, while acres in other types of hay dropped from 31,000 acres to 24,500 acres. Corn silage, in Rowehl's estimate, fluctuates considerably with drought years, ranging from 10,000 to 15,000 acres.

Young Farmers Sponsor Fire Drill

MANHEIM (Lancaster Co.) The Manheim Young Farmer Chapter sponsored a 911 Fire and Rescue Drill for their September meeting.

The Chapter cooperated with the Mastersonville Fire Company in staging a shop and machine shed fire on the David Groff Farm. The drill began with Groff actually making the emergency call to 911. The members of the chapter were able to hear the actual questions asked by the dispatcher at the time an emergency is reported. The group then waited anxiously for the engines and emergency equipment to arrive.

When the fire department arrived, Chief Larry Snavely handed the officer in charge, Jeff Martin, a list of the simulated conditions. First priority was the entrapment of one of the Groff children in the shop building. After several minutes, the firemen successfully carried Jonathan Groff from the building. Paramedics attended to him, going through a complete medic drill and eventually moving him on a backboard to the ambulance.

Mastersonville was assisted by Manheim, Penryn, and Lawn Fire Companies as they set up a relay to bring water from a neighboring pond. Those watching the drill were impressed with the organization and the work that is involved in responding to an emergency situation such as a barn fire.

After the drill at the farm, the group moved to the Mastersonville Fire Hall for a time of questions and answers with the Fire Chiefs. Chief Snavely outlined several things that are of key importance at the scene of a fire. At the time of dispatch of the fire company, the building is under the complete control of the officer in charge at the scene. It is very helpful if the owner of the property or a representative for the owner is at the command post to assist in answering questions and locating potential hazardous materials.

Potential hazards such as manure pits, pesticide storage, acid-treated hay, and fuel tanks need to be identified for the safety of all. Water sources need to be accessible to within 20 feet to provide maximum usage.

Deputy Chief Larry Groff urged the group to call, even for the smallest incident. "It is much easier to respond to the small fire than to wait until it is fully involved."

Chief Snavely encouraged the group to establish a prefire plan. He said in the majority of cases, the wife is the one that will place the 911 call. It is helpful to have the information posted at the phone to assist in giving complete information to the dispatcher. He also indicated the fire company would be very happy to work with farmers to help establish a prefire plan, including identification of hazards, evacuation routes, and water sources.

The demonstration gave a new appreication for the local fire departments for their dedication in giving of their time and expertise in protecting our communities.

EAA Elects Board, Officers

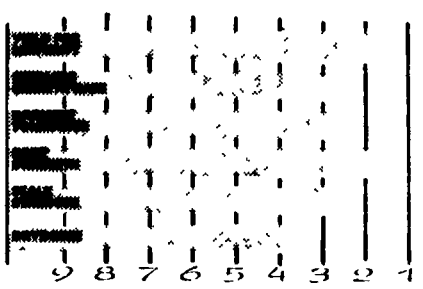
LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — At its first annual meeting, members of the Egg Association of America elected their decision-making body: Dave Baker (Baker Farms), Bob Bucher (Bucher Associates), Toby Catherman (Quaker State), Mel Gehman (LeValle Egg farms), Paul Hann (Purina Mills), Jerry Kil (Southern New England Eggs), Kurt Kreher (Kreher's Poultry Farms), Fran Lough (Dorothy Egg Farms), Glenn Smith (Pennfield Farms), Dale Snader (Dutch Country Egg Farms), Andy Wadsworth (Wegmans Egg Farm), and Paul Wolgemuth, Jr (Green Tree Farm).

The new board, in turn, elected Wadsworth, Baker, Lough, and Gehman to serve as officers, Wadsworth, chairman of the board, endorsed this year's theme, "Progress Through Coalitions," and charged every member with contributing sweat equity toward a "high quality, active association."

The meeting was held in conjunction with the annual Northeast Poultry Show and was well-attended by both members and non-members. A roundtable discussion on industry issues was followed by committee reports on SE and egg promotion.

Companion Hybrids. For A Better Shot At A Bigger Yield.

Spread your risk and avoid a hurry-up harvest with this team of top-yielding corn hybrids from DEKALB.



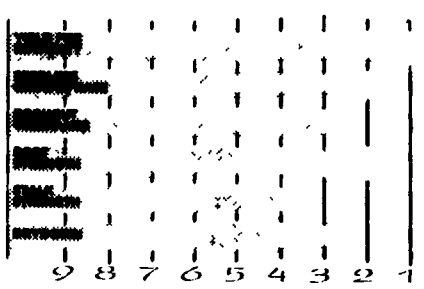
9=Poor, 1=Excellent

DK 522 105-DAY RM

Versatile hybrid with outstanding disease resistance.

Key traits: Good seedling growth Very good plant health Excellent root strength

Management tips: Adapted to a wide range of soil types and tillage practices. Responds to higher populations. Very early hybrid for mid-Atlantic growers, with yield and health required to take advantage of early corn premiums Excellent full-season grain hybrid for northern growers with very good silage characteristics



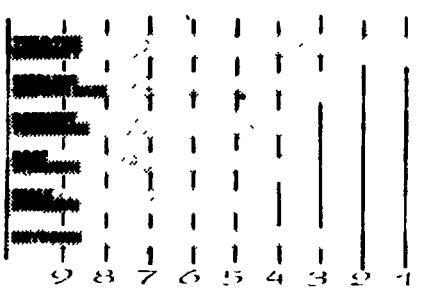
9=Poor, 1=Excellent

DK 623 111-DAY RM

Our 111-day yield leader. Produces big yields under a wide range of environmental conditions.

Key traits: Good stalk quality and excellent root strength Very good stress tolerance Good early stand establishment and seedling vigor Medium tall plant with medium ear placement. Medium shank and husk cover Girthy ear with very good test weight and grain quality Tied for 1st Place in the 1992 New Jersey NCGA Yield Contest (Class A Non-Irrigated) for Rustin Farms of Trenton with 219 84 bpa

Management tips: Widely adapted Excellent top end yield potential under irrigated and favorable conditions Relatively small seed size. Very good resistance to Southern Corn Leaf Blight Average 1st and good 2nd generation resistance to corn borer



9=Poor, 1=Excellent

DK 646 114-DAY RM

Top yielding 114-day hybrid.

Key traits:
Contest winning yields Fast seedling growth rate. Very good plant health Tall hybrid with medium ear placement Large ear, excellent ear flex — length and girth Shows yield well Excellent ear retention Took 1st Place in the 1992 New Jersey NCGA Yield Contest for Rustin Farms of Trenton with 209 07 bpa (Class A, Non-Irrigated), and for Richard Tindall of Trenton with 198 02 bpa (Ridge-Rill, Non-Irrigated)

Management tips: Adapted to varied soil types and weather conditions, but highest yields come from better soils at moderate plant populations Adapted to bean and corn ground Massive plant — excellent silage choice for tonnage, protein & digestibility

PFB To Hold Annual Meeting, Elect Officers

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

CAMP HILL (Cumberland Co.) — Up to 165 delegates representing 54 county affiliates of the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau are expected to attend the organization's annual meeting set for Nov. 15 through Nov. 17 at the Hershey Convention Center, in Hershey.

All farmers encouraged to attend all sessions, according to PFB spokeswoman Janet Carson. She said that a lack of meal ticket should not deter anyone from attending any of the programs planned. Meanwhile, the deadline for meal reservations is Nov. 4.

For those unfamiliar with the PFB, only recently and without fanfare has the statewide agricultural organization changed its name from the Pennsylvania Farmers Association to the Farm Bureau.

The name change came as a result of members desiring a name in line with the national affiliate, American Farm Bureau Federation.

Originally, when the organization formed, there was already an existing commercial enterprise with the name of Pennsylvania Farm Bureau, therefore Pennsylvania organizers adopted the different name, while other states used "farm bureau."

Although Farm Bureau President Keith Eckel had indicated that such a name change would be coming, a date for the actual name change was not set. However, late this summer, news releases began carrying both names. Now, the association has stopped using its previous name.

According to published reports, the annual meeting is to be highlighted by a "meet the candidates" forum set as a luncheon starting 11:45 a.m., Monday, Nov. 15, to which all announced gubernatorial candidates have been invited.

Those invited who are affiliate with the Republican Party include state Sen. Earl Baker, of Chester County; state Sen. Mike Fisher, Allegheny County; Barbara Hafer, current auditor general, who lost against outgoing Casey in last race; Sam Katz, Philadelphia businessman; Ernie Preate Jr, from Scranton, controversial current attorney general; and U.S. Congressman Tom Ridge, of Erie, who was first to announce an intent to serve as governor.

Among the Democratic Party candidates invited were state Rep. Dwight Evans, of Philadelphia; Catherine Baker Knoll, current state treasurer from Allegheny County; state Rep. Robert O'Donnell, from Philadelphia; Lt. Gov. Mark Singel, who has been acting governor since Casey's rare heart and liver transplant; Charles Volpe, insurance businessman; and Lynn Yeakel, of Delaware County who lost in bid against U.S. Sen. Arlen Specter.

Also during the convention an election for the state vice president and eight board members is slated for Nov. 17, along with an official announcement of eight appointees to the PFB Women's Committee.

However, while the schedule of programs is full, there are some other highlights scheduled.

The PFB Board of Directors starts the three-day event with a breakfast meeting Nov. 15 from 7 a.m. to 9 a.m.

Registration is to run from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

From 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m., two concurrent programs are offered — "The Business of Farming," with speaker Andy Place, president of the Green County Farmers' Association, who is to discuss the opportunities available in niche marketing; and "Animal Issue and You," with speakers Karl Brown, who is president of Pennsylvanians For Responsible Use of Animals, and Norman Wilkinson, executive director of the Pa. Society for Biomedical Research.

In the first afternoon, from 1:45 p.m. to 3:15 p.m., is to be a "Farm Financial Planning" seminar with a speaker panel including Fred Dilner, and educator; Bill Hughes, cive president of ag lending at Meridian Bank; Phillip Kimmel, president of Keystone Farm Credit; and Charles Marshall, state director of farmer programs for PFB Farm Management.

From 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. is to be a PFB marketing cooperative meeting, while almost concurrently is scheduled a discussion meeting lead by Steve Gross, with the Young Farmer and Rancher Committee.

From 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. is to be the county presidents' dinner with speaker Louis B. Sallie, PFB administrative secretary. At the same time, a convention buffet dinner is to be held in another room.

From 8 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., there is an awards program with guest speaker Joachim Werner, who is northeast fieldman for the American Farm Buruea.

From 9:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. is to be a square dance and auction with Chales Benner, president of the Snyder County chapter serving as dance caller.

On Tuesday, Nov. 16, from 7:45 to 8:45 a.m., there is to be a breakdown of the delegates into separate district caucuses to discuss policy matters, which are to be voted upon during a session from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m.

For those who are not delegates, from 9 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. there is to be offered a program on the "Health of Farm Families," followed at 10:45 a.m. with an hour-long presentation on "Citizens Against Crime."

From 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. is scheduled a president's luncheon with Keith Eckel, president, speaking and presenting the annual Young Farmer and Rancher award.

From 1:45 p.m. to 4 p.m. delegates are to be voting, while several other seminars are to be held for nondelegates on topics such as insurance, agricultural literacy in the classroom and an advisory council seminar.

From 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. a PFB member reception is scheduled followed by a member recognition banquet with speaker Ben Burton, a humorist, followed by the presentation of recognition awards, All Star awards, and a distinguished service award.

A president's reception is to follow from 9:30 p.m. to 11 p.m.

On Wednesday, Nov. 17, a farmer breakfast is set from 7 a.m. to 7:45 a.m. followed by delegate voting from 8 a.m. to 11:15 a.m.

While the PFB annual business meeting is to run from 11:30 a.m. to noon, followed by a meeting of the PFB board of directors, at 12:30, there are several other activities interspersed.

From 8 a.m. to 9:15 a.m. the Women's Committee is to hold is business meeting, followed by a program on child safety from 9:30 a.m. to 10:45 a.m.

For more information, contact a local affiliate representative, or call the state office.

Offices Realigned

BELLEFONTE (Centre Co.) — Farmers Home Administration has recently realigned two county offices with different servicing areas.

In the past, residents of Clinton County contacted the Lycoming County Office for Rural Housing and Farming Loans in Williamsport.

As of October 12, Clinton County has been formally assigned to the Centre County Office. Any resident of Clinton County seeking assistance with the rural housing and/or farm program divisions should direct their inquiries to Mildred L. Turner, County Supervisor, 414 Holmes Ave., Suite #2, Willowbank Building, Bellefonte, PA 16823, (814) 355-1553.

Hunter's Moon May See Alfalfa Bonanza

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Alfalfa appears destined to be the star feed crop that best helped dairy and beef cattle producers weather the drought of 1993 throughout much of Maryland's northern Piedmont area.

Adequate rainfall last winter produced bountiful first-crop alfalfa cuttings this spring, noted Lester R. Vough, forage crops specialist for the Cooperative Extension Service, University of Maryland at College Park.

And August rains resulted in one of the best fourth-cutting yields in recent memory at the university's Central Maryland Research and Education Center near Clarksville, Vough said.

Additional rains during late September have now set the stage for a fifth cutting of alfalfa at the time of the Harvest Moon around Oct. 20 that may be nothing short of spectacular in both quality and yield.

This promise applies particularly on those fields where farmers followed the recommended practice of applying fertilizer in late August, Vough said.

He reminds farmers that the Cooperative Extension Service now recommends that central Maryland farmers split their annual fertilizer applications on alfalfa — spreading one-half of the yearly recommended amount after the first cutting in the spring and one-half in late August.

Normally, the August application occurs after the fourth cutting of the season. But this year's fourth cutting was delayed on many farms because drought conditions in July delayed growth.

In extreme western Maryland, where growers are limited to not more than four cuttings of alfalfa per season, Vough recommends applying all of the fertilizer after the first cutting.

This year's alfalfa outlook is good news for many Maryland livestock producers who found their cornfields with stunted growth brought on by summer drought and a shortage of well-filled ears due to hot weather at tasseling time.

Vough notes that fall is a good time for alfalfa growers to take soil samples for submission to the University of Maryland soil testing laboratory. This permits time over the winter to make application plans on both lime and fertilizer for next year. Soil-testing kits are available from county Extension offices throughout the state.

Many Extension offices in Maryland also have reprints of an article that Vough co-authored for the spring 1992 issue of Better Crops With Plant Food, published by the Potash and Phosphate Institute at Norcross, Ga. The article is titled "An Alfalfa Management Program for Optimum Yields and Quality in Maryland."

Cattlemen Benefit From Program

ENGLEWOOD, Colo. — If you are a commercial cattleman, imagine what it would be like if the person you bought your bulls from came to you and said, "I believe in the genetics you're buying from me and I believe you and I could both make more money if we teamed up and took them on through the feedlot."

What would you do? Especially if this same supplier went on to tell you he already had a feedlot lined up that wanted to be a partner in the calves too. And, between the two of them, they'd give you approximately 95 percent of the value of the calves up-front, then give you back 25 percent of any profits they make on their share of the calves, while you keep all the profits on your share.

Sound too good to be true? It's reality. It's just one option the North American Limousin Foundation (NALF) is offering as part of its new Commercial Marketing Program (CMP).

"It's a win-win situation for everyone," said Don Schiefelbein, NALF director of breed programs. "With this program, the commercial cattleman has an opportunity to realize the full value of his calves while getting about 95 percent of the cash value up-front. The feedlot spreads ownership risk, and the seedstock producer is in a position to offer tremendous customer service. Most important of all, each one of the partners has the chance to find out exactly how the genetics perform beyond the pasture."

If the last two years in the beef industry are any indication, such information will be the key to survival for the industry and the individuals who comprise it.

Initial results from the Strategic Alliance Project recently pointed out the industry could improve and recover some $2 billion in quality losses annually. The secret: each segment of the industry has to know what the product is specifically, and then share that information with the next industry segment.

"If the beef industry is to remain strong, producers must be more aware of how their product works past the pasture," said Dr. John Edwards, NALF executive vice president.

Edwards said, "Competition these days means seedstock producers must know how the progeny of their genetics perform in the feedlot and on the rail. Competition today means commercial consumers of those genetics must also know the same information if they hope to maximize their profits."

That's why Limousin, the second largest beef breed in the nation, via NALF, is working to help Limousin breeders and their customers gather specific feed lot and carcass information through the CMP.

Other program options include a partnership between the commercial cattleman and the feedlot where the commercial producer gets approximately 85 percent of the value of the calves in cash up-front, assumes 50 percent risk in the percentage of calves he keeps, but receives 60 percent of the profits on his share.

In all program options, all partners receive complete feedlot and carcass data on the calves.

Schiefelbein said, "This commercial program is the most exciting opportunity we can offer our members and their customers. It's strictly business and everyone stands to benefit."

NDB Builds Plans Around Priorities

board approved plans to continue in-store, food service and trade education programs for cheese in Japan and Mexico to help increase U.S. sales.

Milkfat

The board approved funding research projects with the intent of finding increased value and uses for surplus milkfat. In one project, researchers will develop emulsifiers from milkfat. Emulsifiers originating from milkfat may offer unique benefits in both food and non-food products. Researchers will look for applications for milkfat emulsifiers in commercial products like low fat ice cream and skin lotions.

Recent research findings confirm that efficient removal of fat from whey protein concentrate (WPC) improves both its functionality and flavor stability. Researchers will attempt to identify some unique properties and determine the potential value of fat isolated from whey as a food product ingredient.

In another milkfat project approved by the board, researchers will try to standardize the output from a new method for separating milkfat into specific fractions. These researchers have already learned to extract a fraction of milkfat which contains the rich dairy flavor. They will now separate and find uses for other milkfat fractions.

Dairy Image

National Dairy Board members decided to work with the National Dairy Council to participate in and communicate findings from a National Institutes of Health conference to be held next spring. The conference will have a focus on the role of calcium from dairy products in women's health, especially prevention of osteoporosis. This conference may provide credible, third party endorsements supporting the health benefits for calcium and dairy products in the diet which can be disseminated to the public.

The board approved two nutrition research projects which could help protect and build the image of dairy products if findings are favorable. Recent accusations tried to link drinking milk with increasing risk to diabetes. Scientists have not confirmed this accusation, so researchers will try to prove milk is not the cause while finding other factors, unrelated to milk protein, which are more likely to cause the disease.

In another study, researchers will attempt to find ways to collect large quantities of a new vitamin, PQQ, frolm whey. PQQ, found in large amounts in milk, is a potent antioxidant. Antioxidants are believed to help prevent several chronic degenerative diseases like heart disease and cancer. By extracting quantities of it, PQQ can be tested by scientists to prove its benefit to health. Such studies may discover more reasons to use dairy products.

In other National Dairy Board business, the 36 dairy farmer board:

- approved plans to promote U.S. yogurt and ice cream in Mexico and U.S. ice cream in Japan;
- voted to join the Meat Export Federation and the Miller's National Federation in sponsoring a trade mission for Egyptian officials to learn about U.S. grading standards and plant inspections.

DHIA Services Reorganizes

COLUMBUS, Ohio — DHIA Services, the commercial subsidiary of the National Dairy Herd Improvement Association, recently announced its new slate of officers for 1993-1994. Terry Ellingson, dairyman, Poplar Grove, Illinois serves as Chairman; Bill VerBoort, general manager, California DHIA, Fresno, Vice Chairman; and Doug Runyon, dairyman, Kopperl, Texas, Secretary/Treasurer.

Newly appointed to the board is Nelvin Empet, general manager of Northeast DHIA, Ithaca, New York. Empet has been General Manager of Northeast DHIA for 16 years, expanding Northeast's coverage to include six states. Innovations released under his direction include the Day One System, a reference standards laboratory, and a marketing agreement for herd management software and technology.

Continuing their terms on the board are Al Thelen, general manager, Michigan DHIA, Lansing; and Richard Nichols, dairyman, Canyon City, Colorado. DHIA Services, which offers milk meters and other performance-related products, has experienced an average growth over the last three years of 24 percent.

Eastern Milk Honors Farmers Of Year

SYRACUSE, N.Y. — A Pennsylvania dairy farm couple is Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative's 1993 Quality Farmer of the Year.

That means Thomas and Jacqueline Zacherl of Sligo, produce "the best quality milk" in the entire co-op, which includes 3,200 farms in a nine-state area, Eastern President Lewis Gardner said.

The Zacherls have been farming for over 30 years. They have three daughters, plus a son, Dan, who works on the farm. They milk 40 cows, achieving a per-cow herd average of over 20,000 pounds of milk. Tom Zacherl is president of Eastern's Clarion Valley Local.

Nine other farms from New York, Pennsylvania and Vermont join the Zacherl dairy on this year's list of top 10 quality producers. In alphabetical order, those top quality farmers are Bruce Bartley, Cogan Station; Theodore W. Boozel, Mt. Union; Frances and Darryl Crumb, Smithville Flats, N.Y.; Richard and Janet Hammond, Richford, Vt.; Daniel N. Peet, Richmond, Vt.; RAM Corporation, Charlotte, Vt.; Joseph and Annette Snyder, Millmont, Pa.; Charles Walker, Geneva, N.Y.; Frank E. Welcher, Newark, N.Y.

"These top 10 farmers are among a total of 161 farms who will receive Gold Seal Certificates for producing outstanding quality milk," noted Gardner, who runs a family farm himself near Galeton.

The awards were presented at Eastern's Annual Banquet, held in Syracuse, N.Y. on Sept. 28.

Other honors were announced at the banquet, including the following:

Arnold Conklin, a long-time employee, was named Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative's Field Representative of the Year for "outstanding service to members" and for "superior management" for his assigned territory.

Conklin works as a quality control inspector and member recruiter in upstate New York. The father of eight, Conklin has lived in the Boonville area most of his life.

Jim Ginnery, operator of Ginney Trucking near Clarion, Pa., has been named Milk Hauler of the Year by Eastern Milk Producers for outstanding service to farmers.

Ginnery Trucking has been serving a number of Eastern members for three years, picking up and delivering their milk to dairy processors and manufacturers. Ginnery is married and has two daughters and a son.

John Stephan, a partner in Schoe-Acres dairy farm in Phelps, N.Y., received Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative's Special Recognition Award for his leadership and dedication to the co-op's Young Cooperator program.

Stephan served as president of the Young Cooperators for the past four years, and represented the views of younger farmers (aged 18 to 35) on Eastern's Board of Directors.

A graduate of SUNY Cobleskill with an associate's degree in dairy farm management, Stephan has become increasingly active in the co-op since becoming a partner in the dairy operation in 1982. He and his wife, Ho, have two sons.

Two officers of Eastern Milk Producers' Board of Directors were given recognition for "nine years of dedicated service" to farmers and the co-op.

They are Timothy Bryant of Pawlet, Vt., and George E. Mesick Jr. of South Schodack, N.Y. Both retired from the board at Eastern's Annual Meeting after completing three three-year terms.

Bryant, who was vice president of Eastern, operates a 315-acre farm with his wife, Nancy, and their three children. They milk 85 cows out of a herd of 175 Holsteins. Bryant, a 1970 graduate of the University of Vermont, purchased his Pawlet farm in 1972 after working with his father and brother on a farm in Manchester, Vt. He became a member and then president of Northern Farms Cooperative, and joined Eastern's board of directors in November of 1984 when Northern merged with Eastern. He represented some 200 farmers in a district covering half of Vermont.

Mesick was treasurer of the co-op. As a director, Mesick represented some 200 farmers in a district that stretches from the St. Lawrence River, across the Mohawk Valley and into Massachusetts. He operates an 800-acre farm, milking 190 Holsteins, in the southern end of Rensselaer County. He also is raising a herd of 100 buffalo.

Mesick has lived all his life on the family farm. In 1949 he went into partnership with his father; in 1960 Mesick and his wife, Gerry, took over the operation. They have sinced formed a partnership with their sons, David and James. They also have three daughters, Mesick has served on his local school board, the Farm Credit Advisory Board and the Milk Promotion Services Inc. board. He also serves as an officer of the New England Dairy and Food Council, and of the National Buffalo Association.

Martin New Project Assistant

SMOKETOWN (Lancaster Co.) — Gerald L. Martin has become the new project assistant for the Pequea-Mill Creek Project.

This is the third year of the five-year USDA-sponsored hydrologic unit area program, which is designed to improve water quality by reducing nonpoint source pollution.

One of the objectives of the project is to conduct a comprehensive education, training, and information program aimed at water quality problems and solutions. Martin will present information at various county extension meetings and will serve as an assistant on follow-up projects.

One of the recent projects involved a study involving constructing mud-free cow lanes on two farms in the Intercourse area. The project is one of many, including streambank fencing, barnyard runoff management, manure pits, rotational grazing lots, and pasture lots.

The office also holds training sessions for those who want to do nutrient management plants, with another scheduled for November.

Martin replaces Jeff Stoltzfus on the project, who now is adult farmer instructor in the Eastern Lancaster County school district. Martin is a Warwick High School graduate, and received his bachelor's in ag education from Penn State. He taught vocational agriculture at Warwick High School and Lancaster Mennonite High School, and most recently has been involved in church leadership and pastoral ministry.

Eastern Milk Sees Membership, Milk Production Increase

SYRACUSE, N.Y. — Leaders of Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative report a trend that has them smiling — despite the growing number of farmers retiring from dairying, the 3,200-member co-op ended the 1993 fiscal year with a net growth of 100 farm families.

They also report that for the third consecutive year, Eastern had an increase in milk volume, shipping 1.8 billion pounds of milk in fiscal '93 versus 1.6 billion pounds the previous year.

Those announcements — made Sept. 28 at Eastern's annual meeting in Syracuse, N.Y. — were followed by more good news.

Revenues jumped from $225.2 million in fiscal '92 to $245.9 million this year, Eastern General Manager Michael Donovan said. As a marketing arm for members, Eastern passed most of the sales dollars to farmers through twice-a-month milk checks.

Gross profits grew as well, Donovan said, with the co-op paying out $905,069 in profits to members before leaving net proceeds of $18,467 in the co-op. Eastern returned $776,746 in profits to members in fiscal '92, leaving net proceeds of $128,524.

That payout continues a practice started by the board of directors in 1987 to return profits monthly to member-farmers in the form of extra cash premiums, rather than retaining profits in the co-op. As a result, Donovan noted, Eastern has returned over $5.6 million in profits to farmers.

Eastern President Lewis Gardner, a dairy farmer from Galeton, noted that while the co-op saw a number of members retire from farming, only 14 farmers quit the co-op to sell their milk to other markets.

"For an organization that ships milk in nine states, that's phenomenal," Gardner said. "It shows a high degree of satisfaction in the cooperative."

Eastern Milk is a dairy cooperative headquartered in Syracuse. It has 3,200 member farms in nine states, with high concentrations in Pennsylvania, New York and Vermont. The co-op also serves member-owners in New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland.

The co-op is a partner in the largest mozzarella cheese plant in the Northeast. Located in Waverly, N.Y., near the Pennsylvania border, the cheese plant is operated by Denver-based Leprino Foods, the nation's leading manufacturer of the Italian cheese.

Eastern operates a New England office in Montpelier, Vt.; and milk receiving stations in Dover, Del., and Hinesburg, Vt.

The co-op also owns two subsidiaries: Eastern Laboratory Services, a commercial testing facility in South Waverly, and Eastern Best Products, which operates dairy stores in Pennsylvania, and a rural bulk-buying service with truck routes serving thousands of customers in a dozen states.

Youth Conference At Dutch Country Calf Sale

LEBANON (Lebanon Co.) — For the fourth year, a pre-sale youth conference will be featured at the Dutch Country Calf Sale, to be held at the Lebanon County Fairgrounds on Saturday, October 23.

Experts in the field of fitting and showing beef cattle and animal health will supply advice and technical information to all participants free of charge. The Youth Conference will begin at 10 a.m. and will be followed by the club calf sale at 1:30 p.m.

Elene Hitz, cattle manager of Eastern Land and Resources, Annville, will be leading the discussion on showing and fitting beef calves. "Fitting Cattle for the '90s" is the title of her portion of the conference. Elene will supply tips to young beef exhibitors on blocking and fitting a calf, along with a discussion on how to present a calf in the show ring.

Dr. Lynn Sammons of Willow Creek Animal Hospital, Reading, will review "Health Activities For Your Beef Project." Keeping calves healthy and knowing what to do if they get sick is an important part of youth beef projects. Sammons' expertise in the field of bovine health care will bring much information to the conference.

"This is the fourth year we have brought together some of the industry's most experienced people to provide an interesting and informative morning for young people and parents alike," said Sheila Miller, sale chairman. "The past years' events were great successes, and I heard positive comments from all the kids that came out to listen and learn. I believe even the most experienced 4-H'er will walk away from this pre-sale youth conference with something beneficial. I hope all county clubs take advantage of this free conference."

This year's sale will feature 23 calves in the ring to be auctioned by Harry Bachman of Annville. Judge Scott Hummel, Sunbury, will be selecting a champion and reserve champion calf before the sale. Crossbred steers consignments combine Angus, Chianina, Simmental, Limousin, and Maine Anjou bloodlines in combinations. Also selling are purebred Angus, Simmental, and Polled Hereford steers.

Several calves sold at previous Dutch Country Calf Sales have earned championship titles at fairs. This year, Jason Stolzfus showed his 1992 Dutch Country calf to champion steer honors at the Elizabethtown Fair. This

Farm Fields Cover-Crop

CHALFONT (Bucks Co.) — Now is the time to decide if you will need to cover-crop after you take off corn silage or harvest soybeans.

Cover-cropping provides residue to meet the requirements of your conservation plan for percent residue cover for next spring.

Cover crops should be planted to allow at least four inches of growth or 50-percent ground cover by winter. The purpose of cover cropping is to control erosion during periods when the major crops do not furnish adequate cover, add organic material to the soil and improve infiltration, aeration, and tilth.

If you are planning on using a grain drill to seed your cover crop, two bushels of winter grain per acre should be used. Many people believe that cover cropping is too time-consuming when time is valuable during harvest season.

Several farmers in Bucks County have found that to use time more efficiently, they broadcast three to four bushels of winter grain per acre on previously harvested fields in the morning, while waiting for the soybeans to dry off, before starting to combine soybeans or chop silage later in the day. This seems to work well with their harvesting operation.

It is important to increase the amount of seed used to cover-crop when broadcast spreading is used because of a poorer germination rate and poor seed-to-soil contact.

Remember, check your conservation plan or call the USDA, Soil Conservation Service, to see if residue management is part of your farm conservation plan to be implemented by the end of 1994.

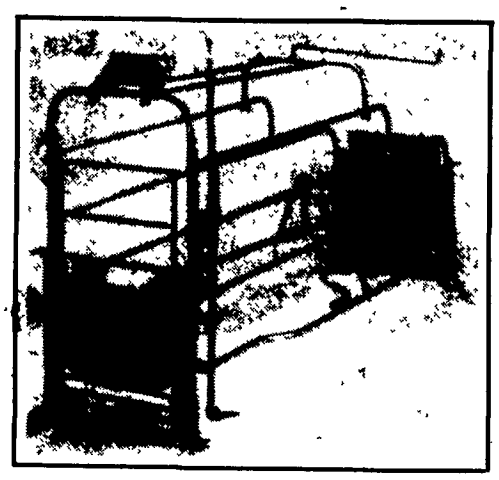
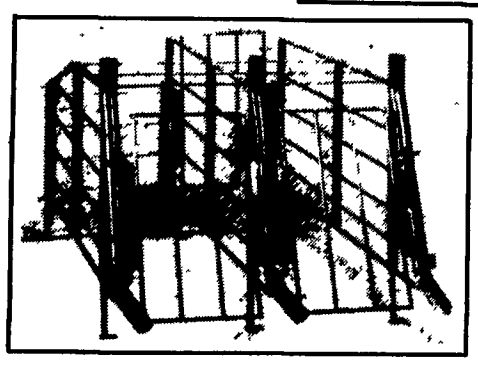
PIG SAVER "DUTCH CRATE"

Developed through testing in our research farms the goal was to develop a crate that nearly eliminates crushing, due to lay one, unmatched durability and be easy to work around. All this has been achieved by a unique gravity flipgrail that forces sows to lie down slowly and using stainless steel for rear doors and legs, proven horizontal and solid steel rod construction. All this at a reasonable cost. Crate also can be installed on an angle.



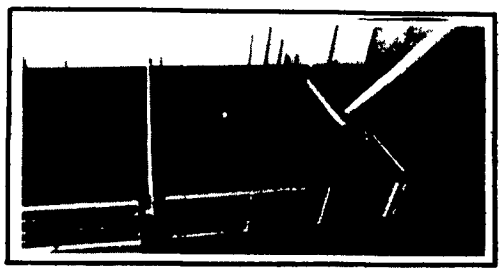


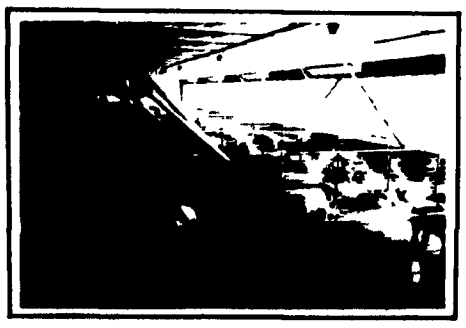
CONFINEMENT STALL

Developed recently in our R&D farm. Our goals were convenience, safety and durability. The low back and flat top rails are easy to reach over with no sharp edges. Stainless steel rear legs and front feet along with solid steel horizontal rods through punched uprights provide the strongest, most durable stall ever produced by Tri-County (21"-24" O.C. x 86")

NURSERY PENNING

Nursery penning has been improved by the use of an optional solid stainless steel panel on the front gates which keeps walkways clean. Stainless steel verticals on penning eliminates corrosion where penning attaches to the floor. Stainless steel drinker pipes & mounting brackets also increase durability.





FINISHING PENNING

Optional stainless steel verticals and fasteners offer improved durability over other similar types of penning. Loop and flapper latch arrangement eliminates the use of drop pins. Stainless steel fence line feeders provide excellent durability and a minimum of waste.

Two Bulls To Test

BARABOO, Wis. — Two Holstein bulls from Pennsylvania have been entered into the young sire testing program of Tri-State Breeders, according to a news release from its administrative headquarters in Baraboo, Wis.

The artificial insemination farmer-owned cooperative for dairy and beef cattle producers, which serves primarily a three-state region in Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Iowa, but also is involved in world distribution.

Entered recently into the program was 14H2208 Allegheny Aboz-ET*TL, bred by Allegheny Holsteins Inc., of Worthington. Aboz is an Exranco Thor*TL son out of an Excellent-90 Whittier Farms Ned Boy*TL daughter. She has a cow index of +67 protein, +$254 protein. In her first lactation, started at 1 year, 11 months old, she produced 22,470 pounds of 3.7-percent fat, 3.5-percent protein milk.

Another bull entered into the Tri-State Progressive Action through Cooperative Efforts (PACE) program, is from Rothrock Golden Holsteins Inc., of Kempton.

The bull, 14H2177 Rothrock Leadman Dillon-ET*TL, is a Leadman son out of a Very Good-88 Glenafton Enhancer daughter. She has a cow index of +56 protein and +$246 protein. In her first lactation, started at 2 years old, she made 23,510 pounds of 4.1-percent fat, 3.1 percent protein milk in 319 days.

Select Sires Recognizes Technicians

PLAIN CITY, Ohio — Select Sires Inc., a large cooperative artificial insemination business has recognized the achievements of its technicians during its annual national sales conference held recently in Plain City, Ohio.

Michael Marchand, of Goodville, and Chuck Orr, of Jackson Center were both named Select Sires Super Achiever-Technician for their respective cooperatives. The director of marketing for each of the participating cooperatives selects a winner from his sales force.

Super Achiever-Technicians are those who excel in performance, sales, service, attitude and teamwork.

Orr and Jim Falvey, of Bedford, were also inducted into Select Sires President's Club, an honor reserved for the organization's elite salesmen who have demonstrated outstanding leadership and sales skills while selling and promoting Select Sires.

Those named to the President's Club must meet certain criteria which includes increasing sales and enrolling new customers into company programs.

Advertorial

The University of Wisconsin now evaluates forages using Milk/Acre.

The Department of Dairy Science & Agronomy at the University of Wisconsin-Madison has developed a program that evaluates forage production in terms of milk/acre. The only recognized program of its kind, it allows farmers to assess a forage based on quality (R.F.V.) and yield (tons/acre).

In determining milk/acre, the program assumes a cow weight 1,350 lbs. in mid-lactation stage producing 70 lbs. of milk/day.

Information from a forage analysis is used to calculate relative feed value (R.F.V.). Then using yield/acre, R.F.V. and the above assumptions, a calculation is made for milk/acre.

For example, a forage with an R.F.V. of 110 and a yield of 5.0 tons of dry matter produces 6,343 lbs. of milk/acre. Contrast that with a forage having an R.F.V. of 122 at 5.0 tons of dry matter, which produces 8,365 lbs. of milk/acre.

The higher the R.F.V. at an equivalent yield, the higher the milk/acre — and the greater the forage quality. By the same token, the higher the yield at an equivalent R.F.V., the higher the milk/acre.

For more information about the program and how to apply it your dairy operation, call Hoffman Seeds at 1-800-776-7929.

Teen To Represent State At National 4-H

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

DUNCANNON (Perry Co.) — Seventeen-year-old Judi Mains is packing her bags for the National 4-H Contest.

It's quite an honor for this high school senior as she is Pennsylvania's only representative to the National 4-H Fashion Revue.

It took Judi almost 10 years of 4-H participation to earn this spot in the sun or should we say in the "windy city" since the 4-H National Congress is held in Chicago.

To win her spot as the state representative, Judi not only was involved in numerous events but also kept a detailed record of all her activities since she first joined 4-H as an 8-year-old.

It is the "blue form," on which "every project, every activity, I ever did is recorded," Judi said. Based on this written account and an individual interview, Judi and one 4-H'er from the other represented states are determined.

It was the second year in a row that Judi was called for an interview. Although she was not chosen as a national representative last year, Judi was honored just to be selected for an interview.

"Most are freshman in college before they are chosen," Judi said.

She credits her diligence in keeping a written record from the beginning as the aspect that gave her the edge over other contestants. Applicants earn a possible 165 points for the blue form and 35 for the interview.

"Too many (applicants) wait six years and then try to recall everything they did. That doesn't work," Judi said.

Although Judi sometimes wearied of writing down everything, her parents, Donald and Miriam, who are both 4-H leaders, continued to encourage her.

"My mother taught me to finish my projects, participate, and not quit," she said.

A brief synopsis of Judi's 4-H involvement reveals nine years of clothing and textile projects; nine years of food nutrition; projects in crochet, knit, cross stitch, quilting, adopt-a-tree, forestry, fitness, and much more.

For many of the clubs, Judi has served as a teen leader.

Becky Kaucher, Perry County 4-H Extension agent, said, "Judi is a very enthusiastic, caring individual. Judi spends time with young members. She is a well rounded individual who is active in a variety of different experiences."

Judi is a member of the Duncannon Cloverleaf 4-H and the Perry County Senior Exchange County Council. She believes 4-H gives more hands-on experience than school. In fact, her school home economics teacher used her as an aide because some of the students could not control the sewing machine.

Speech class in school was an easy course for Judi since 4-H had taught her and offered her many opportunities to speak.

As a senior, Judi is focusing on college. Originally she had been focusing on a career in physical therapy but now is looking toward becoming a recreational therapist for the mentally retarded or the elderly. She has been volunteering at a local hospital to see how she likes it.

In the past, Judi has run in cross country and winter track. She averaged five to seven miles of running daily, but last year, she suffered a leg injury that still requires a shint splint and has required her to give up running for life. Now, Judi is team manager and tapes everyone else's injuries.

She also manages Junior Girls' Basketball and is yearbook staff editor. She is proud that the school yearbook competed for state and national awards.

"I want shots of teachers who do funny things," Judi said.

She is also a member of Math Club, French Club, and SADD. She is a member of marching and concert bands and her church's choir.

In studies, Judi said that she excells in biology and history but gets some help with math.

Community involvement has included planting and maintaining flowers at public buildings, visiting nursing homes, walking for pledges for the area food pantry, and baking birthday cakes for youth in a local detention center.

With all these activities, doesn't Judi ever get tired?

She said, "Sometimes I wish that I wasn't as busy. But it gives me a good feeling to do well in things that I try."

Becoming a national representative to the 4-H Congress was a long-time goal that Judi held. Although she has competed in many fashion revues, she will not compete when she goes to National 4-H. She needed to complete a white form that is now being judged for that event.

Judi said that scoring was changed some years ago to keep a member from making only one great outfit and then getting a trip to national competition. The award is now based on a composite of the member's activities.

At the National Congress, six $1,000 scholarships will be awarded.

Judi Mains models her latest 4-H project made for 4-H Fashion Revue. She will represent Pennsylvania at the National 4-H Congress.

"I enjoy the opportunities 4-H offers," Judi said. "It really helped me become a good speaker and helps built self-esteem. Every kid should try it."

Judi has two older sisters, Cathleen and Karen, and a younger sister Jacki, 15.

What's 4-H Got Cooking?

NEWARK, Del. — Delaware 4-H Favorites, a cookbook with recipes from 4-H members, leaders, alumni and friends, is now on sale. According to Joy Sparks, 4-H state program coordinator, this fund-raising project is expected to bring $30,000 in new funds to local and state 4-H programs.

The cookbook, which contains 342 recipes, is available for purchase from individual 4-H members, at stores and businesses throughout the state and at community events, fairs and fall festivals, including Coast Day. For more information, contact your local 4-H club or call your county 4-H office — Kent County, (302) 697-4000; New Castle County, (302) 831-8965; Sussex County, (302) 856-7303.

On being a farm wife - And other hazards

Joyce Bupp

After awhile, you learn to expect it.

After years of finding yourself the unsuspecting victim of the unexpected, nothing surprises you anymore. Well, not much anyway.

So only a small yelp escaped my mouth a few weeks back at what came out when I opened the chute at the bottom of the heifer feed bin.

"Good thing I'm not afraid of rats," I observed to The Farmer later, "Or, you'd have had to peel me off the heifer pen ceiling."

There are few things I feel justified in using the word "hate" with, but..... I hate barn rates with a passion. Not fear. Hate. They're dirty, destructive, despicable and dog-goned costly due to all the feed they steal.

Despite its obviously well-fed condition, the rat had zipped out over the top of the feed reserve at the bottom of the chute and fled over the feed trough. Feed scoop weapon in hand. I'd pursued it. My poorly-aimed whacks didn't do anything but dent the end of the scoop.

"Here kitty, kitty, kitty," I'd called, summoning the major artillery in the ongoing war against barn rodents. But the cat patrol zoomed in a second too late and blew its chance.

A day later, I moved a straw bale nearby — and a rat ran again. This time it was moving a bit slower and the "kitty, kitty" call worked magic. For the cat, not the rat. Looking back, the metal scoop chase the day before had perhaps met its mark just enough to injure and slow the well-fed rodent.

Once in awhile, the unsuspecting win an unexpected victory. There was a celebration feast — with fresh rat as the main course. I had a brownie.

"You'll never believe what just happened to that tractor," said my mother-in-law on a recent morning phone call. Only minutes before, The Farmer and I had returned from her farm a few miles away, where he had tried to jump-start a reluctant battery on a tractor that had not been run for several weeks.

The expected result of this latest unexpected turn did not materialize - thankfully. Immediate dread of splintered house walls had not happened; the tractor simply drifted past a cousin's nearby home and parked itself in the grass.

Sometimes the unsuspecting unexpectedly receive pardons from potential disaster. (God steered that tractor real good.)

"I need medical attention," noted The Farmer one morning last week, yanking his well-used barn hat off his head and leaning down for inspection. Taking a deep breath, this unsuspecting caregiver prepared for the expected worst.

No major blood trail, just a little red oozing out of a zig-zag slash in his scalp. About an inch and a quarter long, but neat and narrow. A dousing with peroxide and dab of first-aid ointment remedied the head-on collision with the feed-grinder auger.

"Good thing you had on a hat," I reminded him, feeling new respect for the, shall we say, less-than-clean headcovering.

A mere few hours later, he was back, waving a finger wrapped in a, shall we say, less-than-clean rag.

"Not as bad as it looks," he assured my wide-eyed look and sucked-in breath. "Just a gash, but I couldn't get it to stop bleeding. Guess it hit a vein." Peroxide and a pair of tightly-fastened Band-Aids, as expected, did the trick.

Moral of this tale: Expect the unexpected. Stock up on medical supplies. Keep your hat on! Check the brakes. Be thankful when the unexpected isn't nearly as bad as you expected it to be.

Sweatshirt Art

WEST CHESTER (Chester Co.) — With a few alterations and some creative appliques and embellishments, Becky Scotland, Family Living Assistant at Penn State Cooperative Extension, will show you how you can turn an oversized sweatshirt into a wearable work of art. Attend this lecture/demonstration on Thursday, November 4, 9:30-11:30 a.m., at the Extension office, Government Services Center, Suite 370, 601 Westtown Road, West Chester, to find amazing ways to dress up a plain sweatshirt for attractive holiday gifts. A folk art pattern of appliques and instructions are included in the $7 registration fee due by October 22. For registration information, contact Chester County Extension at (215) 696-3500.

Manheim Buyers Double At Youth Livestock Sale

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

MANHEIM (Lancaster Co.) — Bidding was brisk and competitive on the 285 animals sold over the Manheim Farm Show auction block on Friday night, October 8. The number of registered buyers at the Youth Livestock Sale doubled this year and bidders were generous in donating money to needy causes.

As a finale of last year's sale, Kerra Allen again donated her lamb to Clare House, a shelter for homeless mother and children. But, this year, Kerra could not sell Rascal, the sheep she raised for the event, because a rabid skunk had been killed on the Allen's farm just days earlier. The farm is quarantined for six months to make certain that the farm animals were not exposed to rabies. Kerra offered a home-crafted stuffed sheep with the promise of Rascal after the quarantine lifts.

Bidding rose fast and furious to $8.25 a pound when Larry Groff of Lancaster Ford Tractor contended for the winning bid against a group identified as Friends of Kerra, which included Lancaster Ford Tractor, Manheim Auto Auction, TW's Leather Sales, Guy Lebo, and others. The group donated $1,010 for the winning bid that brought the total of funds raised through Kerra's efforts to more than $10,000.

The happy 12-year-old said that she was delighted to help Clare House in this way, but next year, she needs to put her sale earnings toward upcoming college expenses.

After Kerra's sale of the stuffed lamb, Clare House received additional funds when Bill Campbell of Hoss' Steak and Seafood House paid $3.75 a pound for Ryan Donough's 1,375 pound champion steer. In a display of generosity, Campbell donated the steer to be resold with the monies going to Clare House. Keystone Farm Credit took the second bid for $1.75 a pound.

Prices for goats, this year, almost doubled when Manheim Auto Auction paid $3.85 a pound for Jacy Fisher's 100-pound champion goat. Reserve champion Jodi Gebhard did get double of last year's reserve sale bid when Walter Dunlap and Sons paid $2.40 a pound for her 97-pound goat.

(Turn to Page B26)

Bill Campbell of Hoss's Steak House pays $3.75 a pound for Ryan Donough's 1,375-pound champion steer. Marci Harnish, right. Campbell then donated the steer for another bid to raise additional funds for Clare House. Keystone Farm Credit purchased it for $1.75 a pound.

Food Safety For Bazaars And Bake Sales

This is the time of the year that many different organizations raise money through bazaars and bake sales. Food safety should be of the utmost importance if your organization is planning to raise money by selling food. Here are some suggestions to keep your bazaar or bake sale safe. Please read carefully.

Check with your local public health department to learn about any pertinent rules and regulations.

Products made from raw milk, cracked or dirty eggs, or home butchered meats should not be sold.

Only jams, jellies or pickles that have been processed in a boiling water bath should be sold. If they have been open-kettle canned, they should not be accepted for sale. This includes jellies sealed with paraffin.

Home canned vegetables, meats, poultry and fish products should never be sold. Prepared dishes including these foods should never be sold.

All food should be labeled with the contributor's name and address in case problems develop, public health officials can identify the cause and avoid more illness.

Cover foods to protect from dust, contamination and direct contact with hands or fingers. Use plastic gloves to handle food.

Utensils used where food is transferred must be clean and should not be moved from one food to another.

Food and money should be handled by different people.

People who are sick or have cuts or sores on their hands, face, or arms should not prepare or handle food in their homes or at bake sales. These people can help take money, clean up or handle any job that does not involve contact with food.

Ingredient labels are useful because more people are watching their diets for a variety of health related reasons. In fact a table of special diet foods may attract extra customers who are not used to finding these special foods at a bake sale.

Disaster Relief Auction Raises $315,000

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — A total of $315,000 was raised at the 17th annual Church of the Brethren Disaster Relief Auction held on September 24 and 25 at the Lebanon Area Fairgrounds. Proceeds from the auction benefit victims of disaster in the United States and around the world.

Thousands of people attended the two-day event sponsored by 112 Church of the Brethren congregations in the Atlantic Northeast and Southern Pennsylvania Districts.

The sale of 73 heifers on Friday evening brought proceeds of $78,000. On Saturday, 103 handmade quilts and wallhangings were sold ranging in price from $100 to $3,000, raising a total of $52,590. Other special items were: an Abner Zook three-dimensional painting, $7,100; a Reber Wagon, $2,350; a Jay Buffenmyer model of the "Star Barn", $1,400; a Gruber Wagon, $1,550; a quilted Millport Roller Mills Feed Bag, $875; and a Maple Tree and planting donated by Roots Nursery of Manheim, $485.

A variety of new and used items were also auctioned, including lawn and garden equipment, furniture, tools, baseball cards, and Winross trucks.

Donated fresh and home canned farm produce, baked goods including apple dumplings, 1,000 pies, and 95 dozen sticky buns were sold to benefit the auction. Other food items included 1,000 breakfasts using 2,300 scrambled eggs, 100 gallons of ham and bean and chicken corn soup, 2000 pounds of french fries; 1,000 hot dogs, and three roasted pigs.

Chili Cook Off Benefits Make-A-Wish Foundation

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — The Make-A-Wish Foundation of Lancaster County will be holding a day of country/western extravaganza on Saturday, October 23, at the Mount Joy Liederkranz (formerly the Mount Joy American Legion) located on Chiques Road.

The day's activities will begin at noon with the Chili Cook Off, once again sponsored for Make-A-Wish by the Heartland Sertoma Club. Area "chefs" will be cooking up their prize-winning chili, competing for the $500 grand prize to be donated to a charity of their choice. Four chili tastings will be offered for $3 with the participants voting for their favorite recipe. Entertainment will be provided throughout the day, highlighted by a performance by The Susquehanna River Band at 3 p.m. Line dance instructions will be offered as well as horse rides. For the chili non-lovers, hamburgers, hot dogs, and other foods will be available.

All proceeds from the day's events will benefit the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Lancaster County, a non-profit charity granting wishes to children between the ages 2½ and 18, suffering from a life-threatening medical condition. Make-A-Wish Foundation of Lancaster County serves children in Lancaster, Lebanon, Dauphin, Cumberland and Perry counties.

For tickets and more information, contact the Make-A-Wish office at (717) 392-3840.

Gift Workshop

Incredible Ways With Pork

It's unbelieveable that pork can be made in so many different ways. But our readers' recipes prove that pork offers an endless variety of flavors and cooking methods. These recipes are in response to the contest in which the Pork Council is giving away a barbecue apron to the first 100 recipes featuring pork.

The final pork contest recipes will appear next week. The first batch appeared in the October 2nd issue. Only a few more aprons are left for the give-away, which is on a first-response basis. Absolutely only one entry per family. Participants must be 18 years or older.

Be sure to include your name and full address. Send your recipe to Lou Ann Good, Lancaster Farming's Pork Promotion, 1 E. Main St., P.O. Box 609, Ephrata, PA 17522.

PORK AND CABBAGE CASSEROLE

2 pounds fresh sausage links
1 medium head cabbage
4 medium potatoes, peeled, diced
Can or fresh green beans

Cut cabbage, potatoes, and sausage into bite-size pieces. Put ingredients into large pot and cook for one hour or until tender (if using canned beans, add the last 10 minutes of cooking).

We enjoy this dish that is very easy to make and tastes good. When I'm busy, I prepare it on the stove and go about my chores.

Serve with slaw or applesauce and muffins or bread.

Janice Rehmeyer
York

POOR MAN'S STEAK

You've heard it before but it bears repeating. Breakfast is important, maybe the most important meal of the day.

But what do you do when everyone is in a big rush when it's time to leave the house?

Breakfast-to-go is your solution. Here are some ingredients to keep stocked. Ideas from the Mid East United Dairy Industry Association.

- Bagels, frozen pancakes and waffles, whole grain muffins, English muffins, ready-to-eat cereal, individual servings of hot cereals.
- Cream cheese (plain or flavored) yogurt, cottage cheese, ricotta cheese, butter, milk.
- Preserves and fruit spreads, honey, syrup, fresh fruits.

With food like these on hand, you have the markings for all sorts of delicious, easy breakfasts-to-go:

- Waffle-wiches — Spread cream cheese or cottage cheese and jam or honey between toasted waffles. Nestle in napkin and munch as you go.
- Pancake Rolls — Spread warm microwave pancakes with cream cheese or ricotta cheese and wrap around a banana.
- Cereal 'n Yogurt — Take a resealable bag filled with a favorite ready-to-eat cereal and a carton of yogurt to eat at your desk.
- Blender Beverages — Blend until combined: milk with fresh or frozen berries and a touch of honey; milk and maple syrup; strawberry yogurt, milk, and bananas.
- Fruit 'n Ricotta or Cottage Cheese — Stir favorite cut-up fruits into ricotta or cottage cheese and refrigerate, covered, overnight. Eat right out of the container or spread on a bagel.

No 'Baaasking' In The Sun For Bucks County Wool Queen

DOYLESTOWN (Bucks Co.) — The 1993 Bucks-Montgomery County Wool Queen Jennifer Ruth walked away with the grand champion 109 pound market lamb at the recent Bucks County 4-H Market Lamb Show and Sale.

Jenny, the 15-year-old daughter of Tim and Sharon Ruth, owners of the Fairview Farm in Pineville, also helps out at the farm, babysits, plays bass guitar and double bass, participates in youth group activities at her church, is an active 4-H member, and maintains honor roll status at school.

Placings for the show as follows: 109 lb. - grand champion - Jenny Ruth; 110 lb. - reserve champion - Amy Robinson; 138 lb. - 1st place heavyweight - Heather Robinson; 107 lb. - 2nd place lightweight - Kim Groschopp; 110 lb. - 2nd mediumweight - Joel Nehoda; 128 lb. - 2nd heavyweight - Doug Pike; 97 lb. - 3rd lightweight - Rachel Meas; 110 lb. - 3rd mediumweight - Lisa Nichols; 152 lb. - 3rd heavyweight - Ryan O'Banion; 100 lb. - 4th lightweight - Laura Miller; 103 lb. - 5th lightweight - Kelly Pike; 90 lb. - 6th lightweight - Jezik Nehoda; and 114 lb. - Lamb showed by Marcia McCaffrey.

FFA HAPPENINGS

E-Town FFA

The Elizabethtown FFA hosted an Outdoor School at their Bear Creek Farm facilities during the first week of August. The school was open to middle school students in the Elizabethtown School District.

Agricultural teachers and FFA officers conducted numerous activities during the three-day school. The purpose of the school was for students to understand and appreciate agriculture and the environment.

The first day's activities included a tour of Gene Wenger's meats for a demonstration on meat cutting. Later students learned to identify and fillet fish. In the afternoon, students identified various life forms in a stream study. The day concluded with a lesson on how to fish followed by a casting contest.

A tour of Ridge View Farms milk processing plant started the second day's activities. Later that morning, identification of various bird and wildlife along with tracks and signs was conducted in a workshop. In the afternoon students learned how to plant trees from a weeping willow branch. At the end of the day students constructed their own bird house for a take-home project.

The last day of the school included participation in garden tractor safety program, which gave each student an opportunity to operate a tractor under real conditions. This was followed by a tour of Messick Farm equipment. At noon the students were treated to a fish fry from the fillets they cut at the beginning of the camp.

Cook's Question Corner

If you are looking for a recipe but can't find it, send your recipe request to Lou Ann Good, Cook's Question Corner, in care of Lancaster Farming, P.O. Box 609, Ephrata, PA 17522. There's no need to send a SASE. If we receive an answer to your question, we will publish it as soon as possible.

Answers to recipe requests should be sent to the same address.

QUESTION — Marilyn Baumert, Herndon, would like a recipe for thick, chewy, chocolate chip cookies such as those made by Lennon Fudge and sold at Bird-in-Hand Farmers Market.

QUESTION — Ruth Cantello, Somerset, N.J., would like recipes for food gifts that are suitable for mailing.

QUESTION — Verna Howell, Schnecksville, requests a recipe for Carrot and Raisin Sauce.

QUESTION — Tammy Forbes, Lancaster, would like a recipe for sweet relish such as can be purchased under brand names such as Cains. The ingredient list shows cucumbers, cabbage, peppers, vinegar, etc.

QUESTION — Karen Kinnane, Shartlesville, writes that in the 1950s, her grandfather made a wonderful fudge recipe which died with him. He had been using the same recipe since the 1930s. The fudge was made with Hershey's unsweetened cocoa powder and finely chopped nuts. It was cooked on the stovetop and one batch filled a 9x9-inch square pan only ¼ -inch thick. The fudge was milk chocolate color and very rich so it was served in 1-inch pieces.

QUESTION — Mrs. Bertram Harner, Valley View, has a question for Nellie Shank who submitted a recipe to make maraschino cherries. She asks what kind of cherries? Are they the light oxhart cherries? Can you use sour cherries?

QUESTION — Mrs. Bertram Harner, Valley View, would like to know how much granulated sugar it takes to make caramel custard pie. Her mother-in-law used to put granulated sugar in a black pan and melt it slowly on the stove and add the other ingredients in the custard. At that time, Mrs. Harner was not interested in learning how to make it, now she wishes she would have watched more closely.

QUESTION — Rebecca Johnson, Millville, would like a recipe for Amish Cinnamon Bread, which uses a box of instant vanilla pudding mix.

QUESTION — A Reinholds reader would like to know if pumpkins can be fried. She would also like dessert recipes using neck pumpkins.

QUESTION — Marion Carter, Lincoln, Del., would like a recipe that is made with tomatoes and sauerkraut, layered.

QUESTION — Elizabeth Shay, Lebanon, would like recipes that use applesauce in place of shortening in recipes.

QUESTION — Ressa Owens, Biech Creek, would like a recipe for hot peppers cooked in oil to be canned.

QUESTION — J. Haugh, Red Lion, would like a recipe to make fresh apple cake made with a boxed cake mix.

Artichoke Rice Salad

1 package chicken rice-a-roni or long-grain wild rice
2 green onions, chopped
½ green pepper, chopped
8 pimiento stuffed green olives, sliced
2 6-ounce jars marinated artichoke hearts
¼ teaspoon curry powder
⅓ cup mayonnaise

Cook rice as directed, except omit butter. Turn into bowl, cool. Add onions, green pepper, and olives to rice. Drain artichokes, reserve marinade. Combine marinade with curry powder and mayonnaise. Add dressing along with artichoke hearts, mix lightly but thoroughly. Cover and refrigerate at least 1 to 3 days in advance of serving. To serve, turn mixture into salad bowl or serving plate. Garnish with romaine lettuce, tomato wedges or radishes.

ANSWER — Lewis Kofron wanted a recipe for blue cheese dressing. Thanks to Dorothy Bullentine, Milan, for sending a recipe.

Blue Cheese Dressing

3-ounce package cream cheese
½ cup crumbled Blue Cheese
½ cup salad dressing
½ cup light cream
1 tablespoon lemon juice

ANSWER — Dorothy E. Miller, Bruceton Mills, W.Va., wanted a recipe for an apple pie made with sour cream or a pie that is like a custard with apples. Thanks to Dorothy Plugge of Cordova, Md., for sending a recipe.

Custard Apple Pie

6 cups apples
1¼ teaspoons cinnamon
¼ cup nutmeg
1 cup granulated sugar
¾ cup milk
2 eggs
½ cup Bisquick
2 tablespoons butter, softened

Heat oven to 325 degrees. Grease pie plate 10x1½ -inches. Mix apples and spices, turn into pie plate. Beat remaining ingredients except streusel until smooth, 15 seconds in blender on high speed for 1 minute. Pour over apples. Sprinkle with streusel. Bake until knife inserted comes out clean (55 to 60 minutes).

Streusel:

1 cup Bisquick
½ cup chopped nuts
⅓ cup brown sugar
3 tablespoons butter

Combine until crumbly. Sprinkle on top of apples.

ANSWER — Gloria Hamm, Kempton, wanted a recipe for chocolate whoopie pies. Thanks to Mary Jane Heidlebaugh and Pat Elligson, Millers, Md., for sending recipes.

Chocolate Whoopie Pies

1 cup shortening
2 cups sugar
2 eggs plus 2 egg yolks
1 cup sour milk
1 cup hot water
4 cups flour
1 cup cocoa
1 teaspoon baking powder
2 teaspoons baking soda
1 teaspoon vanilla

Filling:

2 egg whites, unbeaten
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 tablespoons milk
¾ cup shortening
¾ cup butter
4 cups confectioners' sugar

Grease and flour cookie sheets. Cream together shortening and sugar. Add remaining ingredients. Mix well. Drop by teaspoonful onto cookie sheets. Bake at 400 degrees for 10 minutes. Cool cookies and spread filling between two cookies.

Prepare filling by mixing filling ingredients, except sugar. Mix thoroughly with a mixer. Add confectioners' sugar until desired consistency is reached.

Old-Fashioned Coconut Pie

¼ cup all-purpose flour
1 cup sugar
Dash salt
2 cups milk
3 egg yolks, beaten
1½ teaspoons vanilla extract
1¼ cups flaked coconut, divided
1 9-inch pie shell, baked

Meringue:

3 egg whites
6 tablespoons sugar

In saucepan, combine flour and sugar, add salt, milk, and egg yolks. Mix well. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until mixture is thickened and bubbly. Reduce heat. Cook and stir 2 minutes more. Remove from heat; stir in vanilla and 1 cup coconut. Pour hot filling into pie shell. For meringue, beat egg whites in a mixing bowl until soft peaks form. Gradually beat in sugar until mixture forms stiff glossy peaks and sugar dissolves. Spread meringue over hot filling. Sprinkle with remaining coconut. Bake at 350 degrees for 12-15 minutes or until golden. Cool. Yields 6-8 servings.

ANSWER — Marion Carter, Lincoln, Del., requested a recipe for stuffed cabbage. Thanks to Arlene Hershey, Oxford, for sending a recipe.

Cabbage Rolls With Stuffing

1 large cabbage, cored
1 pound ground beef or turkey
2 tablespoons butter
1 chopped onion
¼ cup hot water
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon oregano
1 cup herb stuffing, seasoned

Blend together in bowl, hot water, stuffing, salt and pepper. On each cabbage leaf, place one-sixth of meat mixture, tucking ends in with toothpick. Put in baking dish. Combine the following:

10½ -ounce tomato soup
½ cup water
3 bay leaves
1 teaspoon oregano

Pour mixture over cabbage rolls. Bake at 350 degrees for 1½ hours.

MEAT POTATO QUICHE

3 tablespoons vegetable oil
3 cups coarsely shredded potatoes. Press evenly in pie pan. Bake at 425 degrees for 15 minutes until just brown. Layer on:
1 cup grated Swiss or cheddar cheese
¾ cup browned sausage
¼ cup chopped onion

In a small bowl, beat together:
1 cup evaporated milk
2 eggs
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Pour egg mixture onto other ingredients. Sprinkle with 1 tablespoon parsley flakes. Bake at 425 degrees about 30 minutes until knife inserted in middle comes out clean. Cool 5 mintues and cut into wedges.

PORK CHOP POTATO CASSEROLE

6 pork chops
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons butter
¼ cup finely chopped onion
4 cups sliced potatoes
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1¼ cups milk

Rub chops with salt and pepper. Melt butter in skillet; lightly brown chops on both sides. Remove chops and add onions; brown lightly.

Place sliced potatoes in buttered 2½ -quart casserole. Arrange chops over top. Add soup and milk to onions in skillet. Blend until smooth; pour over chops. Cover. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Uncover, continue baking for 30-40 minutes until potatoes are done. Makes 6 servings.

SAUSAGE PATTIES

4 medium potatoes, peeled, cooked, and chopped
½ pound ground pork sausage
1 tablespoon chopped onion
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 slightly beaten eggs
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
3 tablespoons melted shortening or oil

Combine potatoes and sausage. Add onion, eggs, parsley, salt, and pepper. Mix well, shape into 8 patties. Coat with bread crumbs. Cook in oil over low heat for 10 minutes, turn and cook 10 to 15 minutes more until well done.

ANSWER — Tina Forry, Quentin, wanted a basic mix recipe to be used instead of Bisquick. Thanks to A.K. from Oxford; Doris Brenize, Shippensburg; Susan Weaver, Richfield; Carol Miller, Hungtingdon; Tammy Fox, Myerstown; and others for sending recipes.

All-Purpose Biscuit Mix

8 cups all-purpose flour
1½ cups dry milk
¼ cup baking powder
2 teaspoons salt
1½ cup shortening
½ cup sugar

Stir dry ingredients until well blended. Cut in shortening until well blended. Store in tightly covered container in a cool place. Makes 10 cups. Use within one month.

Biscuit Baking Mix

5 pounds all-purpose flour
2½ cups powdered milk
¾ cup baking powder
2 teaspoons cream of tartar
⅔ cup sugar
3 tablespoons salt
2 pounds vegetable shortening

Mix together all ingredients. Store in tight container. Keeps well for 2 months or more. Use with any recipe that asks for Bisquick.

ANSWER—Dorothy Miller, Bruceton Mills, W.Va., wanted a baked squash recipe. Thanks to a McAlisterville reader for sending the following recipe.

Baked Squash

Cut a small squash in half. Place in casserole dish and bake at 350 degrees until soft, about 30 minutes. Scoop out insides and mix with maple syrup until desired flavor. "Delicious," according to the contributor.

ANSWER — Betty Lou Stull, White Hall, Md., wanted to know what can be used as a substitute for alcoholic beverages in recipes. A McAlisterville reader suggests meat broth or bouillon cubes in the same amount as alcoholic beverages. Other suggestions are fruit juices in a flavor similar to the beverage requested or simply water.

Microwave Skills For Kids

SCRANTON (Lackawanna Co.) — School age children who prepare their own snacks should know how to use the microwave oven correctly. Heating food in the microwave oven is quicker and safer than using a conventional oven.

Many snacks can be prepared ahead, refrigerated in a covered, microwave-safe container and popped into the microwave to heat. A cup of hot chocolate, a bowl of soup or a warm sandwich can provide a quick, tasty after school snack.

When you use the microwave, keep these tips in mind:

- Use only microwave-safe utensils.
- Follow recipes and oven directions carefully.
- Cover most foods before cooking.

Use white paper towel or napkin for sandwiches or bread; waxed paper when cooking meats, chicken, fruits and some vegetable casseroles; plastic wrap when cooking vegetables or fish (fold back one corner of the wrap, cover or poke a hole in the wrap to make a vent for heat or steam to escape); glass cover for foods that spatter when cooked and items that require long cooking times. Foods such as apples and potatoes come with their own covers; use a fork to poke a few holes in them so they will not burst.

- Use potholders. The microwave oven doesn't get hot, but foods and dishes do.
- After cooking, let foods stand for a few minutes before serving or eating. Food continues to cook after it is removed from the microwave.
- Lift lids and other covers AWAY from you to prevent steam burns.

Ida's Notebook

Ida Risser

On our vacation we continue to travel through the Canadian Rockies. We were lucky that snow had fallen in the Saskqtchewan River Valley several days before our arrival as the mountain tops were beautiful. In the wintertime they get 110 feet of snow.

The lakes that we saw on our trip have a dazzling green-blue color and we and others used a lot of film. We saw a black bear, big horn sheep, a coyote and a lady smoking a cigar. We heard many languages and saw many foreigners on our trip.

Our bus took us through Yoho Valley into British Columbia. Here we saw Kicking Horse River and Cathedral Mountain - it really looked like a cathedral. There were frequent stops at waterfalls and also one at the Continental Divide. Our lunch at Chateau Lake Louise in the Victoria room was quite elegant. Here the rooms range in price from $125 to $820. Some of our hikes included a catwalk which was a narrow board hung on a steep cliff.

One night in Banff, on our walk downtown to the "Rose & Crown" restaurant for shepherd pie, we saw a big elk laying in a front yard near the center of town. Here we saw the historic sulphur baths that people used since 1885 for health purposes. We also saw the Hoodoos which are odd stone formations.

We got on a train at 8 p.m. for our ride to Prince Rupert. The porter made our beds for use but we did not sleep very well as the train stopped frequently. We traveled along the Skeena River and we got off the train at Smithers for a short walk around the town. Along the way we saw beef cattle and lumber yards. Many people spent a lot of time in the observation car as the view from there was much better. More next time.

Farm Animals We Need Them And They Need Us

Animals and humans have helped each other for centuries. Animals provide us with milk, eggs, meat, fiber, power, recreation, and many other things. They give us companionship and help us enjoy a better standard of living. In return, humans provide animals with food and water, attention, health care, and shelter to protect them from harsh weather and predators.

Meat, milk, eggs, and other foods from animals provide us with Vitamin B12, a vitamin humans need and cannot get from plants. Animal products provide calcium, phosphorous, iron, and other vitamins and minerals.

Farm animals eat heary meals from plant parts that have little value to humans. When we process grains, vegetables, and oil seeds for making human food, we end up with many by-products that become a big part of animal diets. Animals eat things like soybean meal, beet pulp, citrus pulp, corn stalks, pea vines, canning wastes, and brewer's grains. Without animals to eat these things, they'd become waste — and that's a big disposal problem.

Only about one-fifth of the land in the U.S. is suitable for growing crops. Much of the remainder receives too little rain or it's rocky and rough. Forests cover millions of acres. Livestock make good use of some of this land. They can graze on grassland and some forestland. That means we get animal products without using cropland needed to grow food for people.

Farm animals provide jobs and income for many people, both on and off the farm. Animals such as cattle, horses, sheep, pigs, chickens, and turkeys raised for human use are called livestock. In 1990, the state of Pennsylvania produced more than 4,970,000 tons of milk, more than 22 million chickens, and 8.4 million turkeys. That same year, Pennsylvania ranked in the top ten nationally in milk, chicken, turkey, and cattle production.

An animal grown for food goes through many steps between the farm and your table. How many types of jobs can you list that depend on farm animals? Here are a few to get you started — farmer, meat store manager, school cook, veterinarian....

By-products: From Trash To Treasure

What happens to all the parts of an agricultural product that can't be used as food? They go from the trash to treasure as by-products — something of value produced in making the main product.

For example, pig is not all chops, ham, and bacon. By using every part except the squeal, lower prices can be charged for the meat from pigs. The parts of a pig not sold at the meat counter are important in our lives. Did you know insulin from a pig pancreas is used in treating diabetes in humans? In addition, pig heart valves are used to replace damaged heart valves and skin from pigs is used to treat victims of serious burns. You may enjoy other hog by-products each time you brush your hair, pass a football, beat a drum or speed down the sidewalk on your skateboard.

CAN YOU MAKE MATCHES BELOW?

1. BLOOD	A. Ball bearings, chewing gum, lard, paints, candles, cellophane, weedkillers, crayons, putty
2. BONES, HORNS HOOFS	B. Animal feed, adhesives, plastics, fabric inks and dyes, leather finishes
3. HAIR	C. Gelatin, combs, umbrella handles, bone china, glue
4. HIDE	D. Air filters, bristle brushes, felt, padding, upholstery
5. FATS, OILS, GLYCEROL	E. Drum heads, footballs, wallets, harnesses, fertilizer, shoes, luggage, gloves

A 1,000-pound steer will produce at least 432 pounds of edible beef. The rest of the steer adds up to big value, too. Look for 13 beef by-products in this word search game. Answers are across, down and diagonal.

Teen Does Well In National Goat Competition

LINDA WILLIAMS
Bedford Co. Correspondent

NEW ENTERPRISE (Bedford Co.) — Kristie Musselman can't remember a time when she didn't have goats.

Her dad, Rick, bought the first one for his then fiance and now wife, Gwen, as an engagement present.

That was more than 18 years ago. Now the Musselmans have more than 40 Alpine and Nubin goats and attend from eight to 10 goat shows a year. Travels have included Ohio, Virginia, and the State Farm Show where they showed the grand champion Alpine.

The highlight of the goat traveling came this year when they attended the National Goat Show in Harrisburg and brought back one blue ribbon and one sixth place.

"Either win was good," says Kristie. "Our first place junior yearling competed in a field of 10. The sixth place pair of kids earned their ribbon among 50 candidates."

"But," adds Kristie's mother, "We think the best in our herd might well be Bubblegum, the grandmother of the class winner and mother of one of the sixth place winners."

Last year, Grandmother Bubblegum took three grand championships out of an available four in an Ohio goat show. Bubblegum is one of five grand champions in the Musselman goat herd.

"Breeding is the key," says Kristie's dad. "You look for desirable characteristics in doing selective breeding and attempt to remove undesirable ones. Things like "dairy character," a large body, straight back, high shoulders, and full shapely udders are important.

For now, the goats are a hobby and only that. The Musselmans use all of the milk themselves. Each doe can produce approximately 8.6 lbs. per day. "If we were selling our milk we would feed more to get higher production," says Gwen.

Goat milk prices can run from $4 to $5 a gallon and the product is in great demand by many on special diets. It is also advocated in some of the latest health diets. "But in order to sell our milk we have to be inspected and have stainless steel milking equipment," explains Kristie.

"And," adds her mother, "We would have to deliver the milk ourselves. Right now they would take all we have at the New Holland cheese factory but, it just isn't financially worth it."

A busy family, Gwen Musselman drives school bus, works as a waitress at Slick's Ivystone, and serves as township secretary. Rick is in the excavating business and Kristie, 16, is a junior at Northern Bedford County High School. She was recently selected as the alternate youth representative for the Pennsylvania Dairy Goats Association. Her school activities include tennis, playing drums in the band, Varsity Club, and Student Council.

OMELET TORTE

Potatoes:
¼ cup butter
3 cups cooked, grated potatoes
1 onion, sliced
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
Omelet:
2 tablespoons butter
9 eggs
Parsley
Pinch salt
Pinch pepper
2 tablespoons water
Filling:
¾ pound sliced ham
2 cups cheddar cheese, shredded
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 tablespoon water

Butter a 9x13-inch pan. On the bottom, place two sheets of phyllo dough folded in half. Butter the phyllo dough.

Cook and grate potatoes. Melt butter in skillet; add the grated potatoes, onion, salt, and pepper. Cook until slightly browned.

Mix all the omelet ingredients except butter. Melt 1 tablespoon butter in skillet. Pour half of omelet mixture into skillet. Cook over medium heat. As omelet mixture sets, lift slightly with spatula to allow uncooked portion to flow underneath. Continue cooking until set. Slide omelet onto cookie sheet. Repeat with remaining butter and omelet mixture.

Layer in the following order: omelet, sliced ham, potatoes, cheese, 1 sheet phyllo dough folded in half and buttered, omelet, ham, potatoes, cheese, and 2 sheets of phyllo dough folded in half. Cover, refrigerate overnight or heat oven to 350 degrees. A small amount of melted butter with 1 slightly beaten egg and 1 tablespoon water is brushed over the phyllo dough. Bake for 30 to 35 minutes. If refrigerated overnight, let stand at room temperature for 30 minutes before baking.

BAKED SQUASH AND PORK CHOPS

4 pork chops
½ cup water
1 medium butternut squash, peeled and sliced
2 apples, peeled, sliced
1 large onion, sliced
2 tablespoons brown sugar

Sprinkle chops with salt and pepper and brown in a little hot oil. Remove chops, drain fat, and add ½ cup water to pan, scraping bottom to remove all brown bits. Set this meat juice aside.

Layer half of squash, apples, and oinons in a casserole. Salt the layer (optional) and sprinkle with 1 tablespoon brown sugar. Lay chops on top. Place the remaining squash, apples, and onions on top of chops, ending with 1 tablespoon brown sugar. Pour meat juice over top.

Jill Swavely
Green Lane

PORK CHOP CASSEROLE

4 large pork chops
6 medium potatoes, sliced thin
1 can cream of celery soup
½ soup can water

Brown chops in skillet and set aside. Blend soup and water; add potatoes and mix. Put in a 2-quart casserole. Place chops on top and cover. Bake 350 degrees for 1½ hours. Serves 4.

PORK PIE

Crust for 2-crust pie
2 slices bacon, cut up and fried crisp
½ onion, chopped
2 stalks celery, sliced
2 teaspoons flour
¼ teaspon garlic powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 bay leaf
2 teaspoons chicken bouillon in ½ cup boiling water
1½ pounds fresh ground pork

Fry bacon. Remove from fat and reserve. Add onion, celery, salt, garlic powder, bay leaf, and pork. Cook until pork is well done. Mix flour and bouillon. Add to meat mixture and cook about 20 minutes. Remove bay leaf. Add bacon (should be moist, if not, add a little water).

GOLDEN STUFFED PORK CHOPS

6 rib pork chops
1 onion, chopped
2 tablespoons butter
¾ cup cooked rice
1 cup shredded cheddar cheese
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons oil

Using a sharp knife, make a pocket in each pork chop for the stuffing. Cook onion in butter until transparent and combine with rice, cheese, Worcestershire sauce, ¼ teaspoon salt, and pepper. Fill each pocket with 3 tablespoons stuffing. Lightly brown pork chops in drippings. Sprinkle chops with 1 teaspoon salt, place on rack in roasting pan and cover securely with foil. Bake in 350 degree oven for 30 minutes. Uncover and bake 30 minutes longer until meat is done.

UNDERGROUND HAM CASSEROLE

4 cups ham chunks
½ cup chopped onion
2 cans cream of mushroom soup
2 cups cheese, cubed
1 pint sour cream
4 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 cup milk
4 quarts mashed potatoes
Browned, crumbled bacon

Combine ham, butter, onion, and Worcestershire sauce and cook until onions are tender. Place in bottom of a medium-sized roasting pan. In a saucepan, heat together soup, milk, and cheese until cheese melts. Place over top of onions. Mash potatoes using no salt or milk, and mix with sour cream. Spread over top of mixture and sprinkle with bacon. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. The soup and cheese mixture comes to the top when done. That's why it's called Underground Ham.

4-H HAPPENINGS

District 4-H Horse Show

The 1993 District IX 4-H Horse and Pony Show was recently held in Meadville.

Warren County had 28 4-H members compete in the three days of events. Members demonstrated their skills in western and english riding, as well as grooming and showmanship.

The top winner was Julie Morris of the Columbus Saddle-ites. Julie, showing her horse "Ransomvale Samsation," placed first in the saddle type pleasure horse, second in the saddle seat equitation senior division, and second in the pleasure driving class. Annie Macormac of the Grand Valley Gouchos placed third in the pony raised box keyhole class. She rode her pony, "Barleos Empress Gold."

Other top placle finishers in the district show were Danielle Hall Miller of the Saddle-ites placed third in the pleasure pony driving; Erin Wright of the Sugar Grove Ruff Riders placed third in the saddle seat equitation junior division, fourth in the pleasure driving, and sixth in the saddle type pleasure ponies; Amy Loizeaux of the Ruff Riders placed third in the hunter seat equitation (over jumps) junior division and eighth in the working hunter pony; Adriane Lowe of the Ruff Riders placed fifth in the western pleasure ponies (12.2 hands and under); Kelly Loizeaux of the Ruff Riders placed fifth in the hunter seat equitation (over jumps) junior division; Sara Sample of the Saddle-ites placed sixth in the hunter hack ponies; Sonya Kellogg of the Ruff Riders placed seventh in the western pleasure ponies (over 12.2 and not over 14.0 hands); Mark Dundon of the Saddle-ites placed seventh in the stock seat equitation junior division and seventh in the western pleasure horses (over 14.0 hands, junior rider); and Heather Sleeman of the Pittsfield Bronc Busters placed eighth in the western pleasure horse (over 14.0 hands, senior rider).

Both Julie Morris and Annie Macormac are eligible to participate in the State 4-H Horse Show October 29-31 at Harrisburg. Other members who participated in the district show included Grand Valley Gouchos: Karla Macormac, Heather Hetrick, Penny Lou Tenney; Warren County Trailblazers: Jody Gardner, Teresa Grosch, Carrie Lindell, Carrie McDannel; Columbus Saddle-ites: Tonya Bukkey, Kelli Murphy, Sara Sample, Lacy Blount, Darcy Blount, Tami Fox; and Sugar Grove Ruff Riders: Ryan Good, Tracy Black, Amanda Nies, Kristina Nies, Don Smith.

Adams 4-H

Adams County 4-H leaders were honored for their years of service to Adams County youth through the 4-H program at the annual 4-H Leaders' Recognition Banquet.

Those receiving a special plaque and gold clover lapel pin for 10 years of service were Sharon Baker, Littlestown; Phyllis Green, Gettysburg; Gerard Livelsberger, Gettysburg; Judy Ludwig, Gettysburg; Mike Ludwig, Gettysburg; Robert Meckley, Abbottstown; Marion Murren, Hanover; Nina Redding, Aspers; Cindi Smith, Gettysburg; Mary Kay Turner, Gettysburg; and Grace Smith, Abbottstown.

Those receiving a special plaque and gold lapel pin with a pearl center for 15 years of service were Les Millar, Gettysburg; Viola Reaver, Gettysburg; Dave Reinecker, York Springs; Jim Ruppert, Aspers; Doris Wilkinson, Gettysburg; Mark Wilson, Aspers; and Cindy Zepp, New Oxford.

Tom Murren, Hanover, received a plaque clock and gold lapel pin with an emerald center for 45 years of service.

The Adams County 4-H program honored Lloyd Spahr, East Berlin, with the 1993 "Partners in 4-H" recognition. The honor was presented to Lloyd for his support of the Adams County 4-H program. As a leader in the Adams County Poultry Association, Lloyd provided leadership for the organization's support of 4-H. He has been instrumental in helping the 4-H Bar-B-Q Committee successfully continue Bar-B-Q's at Apple Blossom and Harvest Festivals in the Poultry Association's top drawer tradition of quality. Both Bar-B-Q's raise funds that allows the Adams County 4-H program to provide additional educational opportunities to the youth of Adams County through 4-H.

The 4-H Leaders Banquet also included the annual meeting, 4-H Clubs of Adams County, Inc. The 4-H leaders elected the following as directors for a three-year term: Rachael Manderson, Gettysburg; Jacki Bicehouse, New Oxford; and Dr. Adam Wasserman, Gettysburg.

PFB Encourages Farmers To Enroll In Program

CAMP HILL (Cumberland Co.) — The Pennsylvania Farm Bureau/Farmers' Association (PFB) is encouraging farmers with deer damaged crops to enroll by Sept. 4 in a pilot program offered by the Pennsylvania Game Commission in 16 counties.

"Every year deer consume millions of dollars worth of farmers' crops," said Keith Eckel, president of the statewide farm organization. "Now there's an opportunity to reduce deer populations on farms with excessive crop losses through a program that's being expanded after success in four counties last year."

Farmers in the following counties are eligible to enroll for the upcoming pilot "hotspot" season: Armstrong, Bedford, Berks, Clearfield, Crawford, Dauphin, Erie, Fulton, Greene, Huntingdon, Indiana, Schuylkill, Susquehanna, Wayne, Wyoming, and York.

The pilot program will allow properly licensed hunters to take deer of either sex on enrolled "hotspot" farms during the regular firearm "buck" season, Nov. 29 - Dec. 11. Farmers in all other counties can enroll, also by Sept. 4, for the regular "hotspot", season on antlerless deer from Dec. 27 through Jan. 22, 1994.

Farmers in pilot program counties who want to enroll or find out more about the program should contact their regional Game Commission office. Toll-free Game Commission telephone numbers for hotspot counties are (800) 533-6764 — Crawford and Erie; (800) 243-8519 — Armstrong, Greene and Indiana; (800) 422-7551 — Clearfield; (800) 422-7554 — Bedford, Fulton and Huntingdon; (800) 228-0789 — Susquehanna, Wayne and Wyoming; and (800) 228-0791 — Berks, Dauphin, Schuylkill and York.

Interested farmers will be visited by a Game Commission wildlife conservation officer before Sept. 25. Officers will give participating landowners green signs to alert sportsmen that their farmland holds too many deer and are open for public hunting.

Starting in mid-November, hunters can obtain listings of enrolled "hotspot" farms by sending a self-addressed, stamped business-size envelope to the Game Commission regional office for the county in which they hold an antlerless license. A sportsman hunting on a deer damaged farm during the pilot "hotspot" season could harvest both a buck and a doe, providing he or she has the proper antlerless license.

KUBOTA MAKES LIGHT WORK OF YOUR HEAVY CHORES

Available in 2WD and 4WD, our line of L-Series tractors come with 20-49 PTO HP. Equipped with Kubota liquid-cooled diesel engines, these compact tractors are powerful enough for heavy loading, lifting and moving. Your clutch life doubles with Kubota's exclusive "Ever Clutch". And, transmission choices include the Kubota Glide Shift Transmission, enabling you to "glide" through 8 forward and 8 reverse gears without clutching.

For larger chores, our M-Series line of farm tractors range from 44 to 91 PTO HP and handle a wide variety of performance-matched implements. These fuel efficient tractors are equipped with Kubota direct-injection liquid-cooled diesel engines, and a choice of manual shuttle or standard transmission.

Kubota Tractor Corporation markets a full line of tractors through a nationwide network of over 1 000 dealers

When you're checking out box-type manure spreaders, look to Gehl for a better spreader! Gehl box spreaders are available in five sizes ranging from 135 to 425 bushel heaped capacities. Gehl box spreaders deliver these and many more advanced features:

- Gehl-Tuff flooring is slippery so manure slides out easily.
- T-bar apron chains are extra strong for durability.
- Galvanized steel sides are more corrosion resistant.
- Single or tandem axle models available.
- 10-year warranty on sides and floors.
- Hydraulic apron drive (optional) to match your specific application needs.

PAUL B. Zimmerman INC.

Introducing the revolutionary Super II v-belt with performance that blows the cover off conventional wrapped belts. Test the Super II v-belt on your toughest drive.

Now there's a belt that beats the toughest drive problems.

Many heavy-duty industrial machines demand more than conventional wrapped v-belts can stand Their punishing drives make ordinary belts crack under pressure The result unnecessary and expensive downtime

Now there s a solution to the consistent costly problem of replacing or retensioning belts It's the revolutionary new Super II™ v-belt from Dayco The Super II belt was designed specifically for the most brutal applications And its performance blows the cover off conventional wrapped belts

In heavy torque high horsepower and extreme shock load comparisons it's not even a contest The Super II v-belt is stronger more flexible and lasts far longer

Innovative design & construction provide extra strength and stamina

The secret to the Super II v-belt s durability is its unique construction The central position of the polyester cords in the neoprene rubber core provides greater strength, balance and longer life Multiple fabric plies top and bottom, enhance flexibility And Dayco's unique raw-edged construction gives it a better grip for controlled slippage

These attributes, combined make the Super II belt superior to conventional wrapped belts in every way

Test the Super II v-belt on your toughest drive

The Super II v-belt was field-tested for two years on the most severe applications rock quarry shaker screens lumber mill tree debarkers, and pipe descalers In every case, it outperformed conventional wrapped belts by a wide margin But the only test that really counts is the one you do on your own equipment

Try the Super II belt on your toughest drive problem You'll be so amazed by its incredible endurance that you ll want to put it on all your drives In fact, we're so sure you'll be pleased with the performance of the Super II v-belt that in the unlikely event you're not satisfied, we'll refund the original purchase price, or replace it with a conventional wrapped v-belt

Dayco s unique raw-edged belt sidewalls grip pulleys better, minimizing belt slip noise and drive vibration
Hi-modulus polyester cord located in the belt mid section is specially treated to maintain extreme belt loads & shock without stretching.
Multiple fabric plies relieve stress on the load-carrying center cord, allow greater flexibility A belts have three plies, top and bottom B belts have four and "C" belts have five
Special 100% neoprene rubber compound supports cord more evenly top and bottom dissipates heat more easily and provides more oil heat and ozone resistance

Manheim Buyers Double A

Because Kerra Allen's lamb was quarantined from possible exposure to rabies, a stuffed sheep was auctioned. A conglomerate bid from Friends of Kerra bid $1,010. Tom Drumm represents the conglomerate with Marci Harnish, Farm Show Queen, on right.

John Stauffer collecte[d] [$]0 per champion hog from Chu[ck] [Bo]yer o[f] tion as Manheim Farm Sh[ow] Quee

In the swine sale, John Stauffer collected a hefty $7.50 a pound for his champion hog purchased by Manheim Auto Auction. Following close on his heels was Amy Becker whose reserve champion hog was sold to Bombergers Store for $7 a pound. The swine sale had 140 hogs cross the auction block for an average price of $1.46 per pound.

Lamb prices were down a bit this year with only 20 lambs sold by 4-H'ers and FFA'ers at an average of $2.93 per pound. The 125-pound grand champion, shown by Brandon Ziegler, went to Hoss's Steak House for $4 a pound. Three buyers, Lull's Construction, Jim's Welding, and Smucker's Meat, pooled their resources to purchase the reserve champion lamb from Travis Donough for $3.35 a pound. Speedwell Construction paid $4.10 a pound for Corby Ziegler's champion lightweight.

The reserve champion steer, owned by Casey High of Lititz, went for $1.50 a pound to J.H. Brubaker and Sons of Manheim. Average price for the 16 steers was $1.35 per pound.

Earl Geib, president of the Manheim Farm Show board of directors, attributed the increase of buyers to the extras that kids do. These extras include letter writing and contacting potential buyers.

Deb Seibert, Manheim Central vocational ag teacher, said that the sale animals have been raised by FFA and 4-H members as learning experience projects. The support of the 70 registered buyers makes it possible for members to continue their projects.

As a token of their appreciation, FFA members offered doughnuts and beverages to the buyers. Buyers who purchased an animal from an Manheim FFA member received a special emblem cap as a token of appreciation.

FFA HAPPENINGS

FFA Degree

Jason Pontius, Millerstown, has been nominated to receive the highest degree awarded by the National FFA Organization, the American FFA Degree.

This honor is based on demonstrated leadership abilities and outstanding achievements in agricultural business, production, processing and service programs.

Pontius will be one of the 1,288 members receiving the degree at the 66th National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Mo., November 11-13.

Only one in 323 of the 416,529 FFA members have advanced through chapter and state FFA degrees to earn this national degree. Pontius, son of Marvin and Sue Pontius, is farming in the Millerstown area.

NEW 92- TO 100-HP JOHN DEERE 7200 AND 7400 TRACTOR

Two new workhorses join the All-New Breed of Power

New 6-cylinder, turbocharged power. You get up to 34 percent torque rise for excellent lugging ability and continuous power response. The new 7200 Tractor is equipped with a fuel-efficient, 92-hp John Deere 5.9 L engine; the new 7400 features the rugged 100-hp John Deere 6.8 L engine.

Choice of two productive transmissions. The economical SyncroPlus™ transmission provides 12 fully synchronized speeds for smooth, shift-on-the-go performance.

Or opt for the very productive 16-speed PowrQuad™ transmission. You get four powershift speeds in four, fully-synchronized ranges, so you can quickly and precisely match field speeds to conditions. And both transmissions offer our PermaClutch™ 2: a true wet-disk clutch famous for smooth-engagements and long-lasting performance. And remember, the new 7200 and 7400 Tractors are built in Waterloo, Iowa. See them at your John Deere dealer.

These Future Champions Will Sell.

The 1992 calving season at the Miller Farm was an exciting one. The number of exceptionally good calves was overwhelming. But we decided that wasn't enough. We wanted to improve the quality from top to bottom. After making several contacts and telephone calls, we headed west. After traveling several thousand miles and picking only the top calves from herds in Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska and Colorado, we came home with truly an exceptional group of calves. These calves will be all you ever expected in Western bred club calves. Along with our truly deep set of home bred calves, they will be worth your time to inspect. Over 20 Grand or Reserve Grand Steers were sold through this sale last year. These cattle will be wormed, vaccinated, pre-conditioned, and halter broke.

FLASH — The 1993 Grand Champion Steer of Keystone Livestock Show was purchased through this sale last year

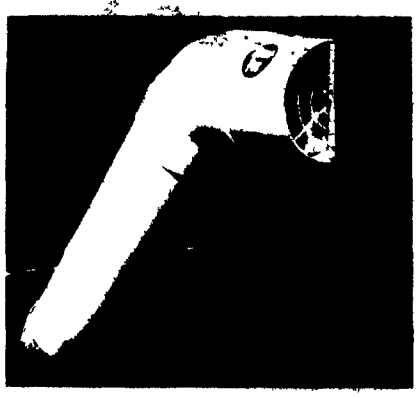
PUMP OUT PIT FAN



Many manure storage pits have been constructed without providing for ventilation of the pit, particularly in buildings constructed several years ago when pit storage was first popular.

A non-ventilated pit results in a build-up of harmful, caustic gases, such as carbon dioxide, hydrogen sulfide, methane, ammonia and mercaptans.

Hydrogen sulfide and carbon dioxide are heavier than air and, as the level of pit waste rises closer to the slats, the gases are forced closer to the animals

Results of inhaling these gases may be deep, fast breathing from CO^2 Hydrogen sulfide is one of the most toxic gases to animals and humans associated with liquid manure storage. This gas can cause severe irritation to the eyes and respiratory system and sometimes can result in death.

DOUBLE L GROUP LTD.

DOUBLE L'S SCHONLAU/FILTER-EFZE' FLOORING SOLUTION

For your sows, Double L/Schonlau cast iron provides a slip-resistant, durable surface that safeguards against teat and foot injuries and shoulder abrasions. It allows superior manure filtration, cleaning and disinfecting, and will not harbor diseases. With Double L/Schonlau cast iron, you have a proven farrowing floor with an unmatched warranty and service life that gives your sows their best chances for maximum production.

For your piglets, Double L/Filter-Eeze® provides a warm creep, nursery, and grower flooring line which is disease resistant and helps combat scours, the number one killer of baby pigs. It cleans extremely well and doesn't rob needed body heat, promoting faster gains on less feed.

Double L Group Ltd. knows of no better flooring combination worldwide that will outperform or give you a better return on your investment than Double L/Schonlau Cast Iron Sow Slats and Filter-Eeze Creep Slats.

PQA LEVEL III RECERTIFICATION

Check your calendar. It may be time for you to recertify your Level III position within the National Pork Producers Council's Pork (NPPC's) Pork Quality Assurance (PQA) program. If you're one of many producers who reached Level III more than a year ago, you need to recertify.

The process can be simple, if you've established or maintained a relationship with the verifier. Most verifiers are veterinarians, extension personnel, or agriculture instructors.

If the verifier is familiar with the detailed operations of your hog business, a short discussion of any changes made since certification may be all you need. Specific areas to review include drug usage, product availability, herd health practices, and the type of medication records you're keeping.

Following the review, your verifier should complete the verification postcard enclosed in NPPC's mailing sent last April. If you can't find yours, contact NPPC for another.

As a Level III certified producer, you will continue to receive updates on changes in federal regulations, NPPC symposiums, and regional seminars as well as the Update newsletter.

If you have questions or need additional PQA information, contact NPPC at (800) 456-7675.

Keep Heifers From First-Calf Heifers

Beef herds on heifer AI programs are finding that the replacement heifers retained from first-calf heifers provide the best genetics, combined with low birth weight EPDs and high maternal value. Since these heifers are sired by calving ease sires, a majority of them will reduce frame size and be earlier maturing than heifers from mature cows.

If your management is on target, these heifers will often be the older ones, ready to breed before the main cowherd. In fact, one common mistake producers can make is selecting heifers on adjusted weaning weights, often ending up with many younger heifers in their replacement group. These heifers could be 45 days younger than the majority of your calf crop and may not reach puberty in time to breed them ahead of the cow herd.

By choosing older heifers, you can avoid these problems and keep your replacements from the cows who calved first.

Good replacement heifers are certainly worth the expense of raising them. Knowing the genetic potential of the heifers and cows in your herd can help make important selection and culling decisions.

Deworming Sheep

Deworm the ewe flock every other month beginning in May (May, July, September, November) and the last deworming after a hard killing frost.

Lambs on pasture and replacement ewe and ram lambs, including show stock, should be dewormed every four weeks. A variety of dewormers are available for sheep and should be rotated to decrease the chance of resistance. Consult your veterinarian or extension agent for advice on deworming products labeled for sheep.

Tunnel Ventilation

If you're planning a new building or considering remodeling, look at all the options. If tunnel ventilation sounds interesting, consider these guidelines to help you make the right decision.

• Are you building new or able to do sufficient remodeling to fit the engineering requirements of a relatively long, narrow building? A low, flat ceiling is preferred, but air deflectors in open-ceiling buildings will work. Also facilities that are square or too wide are generally not cost-efficient to tunnel ventilate.

• Can you implement all-in/all-out production for a grower/finisher or use tunnel ventilation in a breeding/gestation building? If not, then tunnel ventilation probably isn't right for you. Ask your veterinarian what the maximum age spread can be in a single room without compromising herd health.

• Are you willing to improve your management skills to make sure the building is working properly? Tunnel ventilation requires more manual control and equipment must work all the time for it to be most effective.

• Do your pens lend themselves to tunnel ventilation? Open-gating type pens maximize tunnel ventilation's effect. Solid concrete in your building may lock you into another ventilation system.

• Can you effectively combine fans and other equipment of tunnel ventilation with your wintertime ventilation design?

Implement Tractor Safety

During this harvest season, you and your employees become more vulnerable to accidents. That's because fatigue sets in as workdays stretch to 16 hours or more.

To prevent such an accident, install a rollover protective structure with a safety belt. All tractors before 1986 will need this addition. By doing so, you'll increase survival odds.

The American Society of Ag Engineers estimates that 90 percent of tractor operators involved in overturns in Sweden, where ROPS are mandatory, escape serious injury or death.

For added safety, make a habit of inspecting warming and marker lights to make sure they're functioning. Check tires for soundness and inflation levels. Also, don't allow extra riders on any tractor or skid loader. The equipment wasn't designed to handle extra passengers.

Finally, shut off the power takeoff when you leave the tractor. PTOs are very dangerous and can sever a limb in seconds. Avoid loose clothing and keep children away from PTOs. This is especially true when your tractor is stationary and the PTO is operating a grinder-mixer. Children are curious and often want to play near the fast-revolving equipment.

For more information on farm safety, contact The National Safety Council, 1121 Spring Lake Drive, Itasca, IL 60143.

Prussic Acid Danger

Prussic acid is a nice term for the real culprit, hydrocyanimic acid. Prussic acid is found in both cultivated and native forages. Practically all prussic acid containing plants are quite palatable.

There are a number of feed plants which may have toxic amounts of prussic acid under the right conditions, but major ones of concern are sorghum-Sudan crosses and johnsongrass.

Plants of the sorghum family may have toxic levels of prussic acid in new growth which follows either frost, a severe period of drought, or a period of heavy trampling or physical damage.

Heavy nitrate fertilization of the soil followed by abundant rainfall may increase the prussic acid poisoning potential of these crops as well. Under normal circumstances, prussic acid should not be a problem but under severe drought conditions or around the time of the first killing frost, we need to be careful.

Poisoned animals show signs of nervousness, abnormal breathing, trembling or jerking muscles, blue coloration of the lining of the mouth, spasms or convulsions, and respiratory failure followed by death. Prussic acid poisoning can be very rapid. Often, the first sign of a problem is some of the animals are found dying or dead.

Animals which have not shown much evidence of toxicity may be ingested intravenously with a mixture of sodium thiosulfate. Prussic acid poisoning is not cumulative and therefore upon removal, from the forage source, animals not showing evidence of being poisoned will likely not be affected adversely.

Acorn poisoning generally deals its most severe blow in the month of September and very early October. It seems cattle like newly fallen acorns best. If you're grazing cattle in pastures with oak trees and — where corns will be present on the ground, take proper precautions. Clinical signs are loss of appetite, listlessness, weakness, constipation early, followed by diarrhea which may be dark colored or bloody and animals will appear bowed in the back. Animals get weaker and eventually go down. Affected animals may show yellow color, bloody urine, and dehydration.

There are no specific treatments for this condition other than rumen stimulant (mineral oil and the like) and fluid for dehydration. Treatment of down animals is rarely successful, while early treatment of cases is helpful. If possible, the removal of animals from the source of poisoning will greatly reduce the loss and increase the success rate of treatment.

A prevention ration of 10 to 15 percent calcium hydroxide in a protein feed is helpful. It may take about four pounds of this mix per day per cow and two pounds per day for younger animals.

If acorn poisoning is a threat, cattle should perhaps be removed from the pasture with oak trees producing acorns or be fenced from these wooded areas while corns are falling.

WHAT LIES AHEAD
Charles Pitts
Professor of Entomology

Some of you had successful years in keeping your fly populations at low levels, and others were not so lucky. The question we need to ask is, why weren't all of the producers successful in controlling their flies?

As we start to make plans for the coming year, we should evaluate what problems we had this past year and what we can do to correct them.

As you think about the problems you had during the fly season, I would like for you to send a list of your problem areas to C. W. Pitts, Department Of Entomology, 501 AS&I Building, Penn State University, University Park, PA 16802, or call me at (814) 863-7789.

Also, if any of you have suggestions for approaches to solving your problem, please include these in your list. Don't be bashful in making suggestions on how we might control flies. We will evaluate all suggestions sent as to the feasibility and the researchability of the approach.

It appears that we will be getting some financial support to conduct some new extension and research programs in the major poultry producing counties. It is for this reason that we are looking for any suggestions as to new or old ideas on how to control flies.

We will be considering several mechanical approaches to fly control, but the basis of the program will be integrated pest management (IPM). Generally defined, this means directing several methods of control toward the same pest, which when added together gives adequate fly control and is environmentally safe.

This approach is even more important now with Congress preparing to overhaul the food safety laws. In the initial press releases outlining food safety revisions, one of the key statements is that by the end of the decade, 75 percent of the farmers will be using integrated pest management techniques designed to combat insects without pesticides.

How revisions of the food safety laws will finally end up remains to be seen, but the message is clear that we will be moving toward non-chemical methods of fly control.

During the winter, we will be initiating some new programs and we will keep you updated on the progress of our new projects through Poulty Pointers.

I hope the articles that have appeared in Poultry Pointers have been of use to the poultry producers. If there are topics or questions that deal with pest control that you would like to see covered in future articles, please send them to the address previously mentioned.

Clinton Concludes Fair With Livestock Sale

LOCKHAVEN (Clinton Co.) — The 21st Clinton County Fair concludes each year with the 4-H Livestock Sale. There are three firsts for this year. The animals were sold by the "head" instead of by the pound.

Also listed were actual market prices for the bidders benefit. The buyback packers were H.J. Bierly Livestock of Mill Hall and Walter M. Dunlap & Sons of Lancaster.

Also new this year are market goats. This project gives younger members an easy animal to handle. Goat meat has similar nutrient value to beef but somewhat leaner.

The grand champion goat owned by Luke Snook of Loganton sold for $400 and was purchased by Central Pa. Auto Auction of Mill Hall. The reserve champion owned by Angie Beck of Mill Hall sold for $200 and was purchased by William Ingram Fuels, Inc. of Mill Hall.

The reserve middle weight owned by Jessica Fryer of Loganton sold for $85 and was purchased by Long Brothers Construction of Mill Hall. The reserve lightweight owned by Glenn Brungard sold for $90 and was purchased by John Spearly Construction from Bellefonte.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. — Some 300 people from 48 counties will gather here October 22-26 for the 121st annual session of the New York State Grange.

More than half of those people are official delegates to the convention, and they'll spend the better part of the long weekend working on resolutions that will shape Grange policy for the coming year.

"We're happy to be getting to this time of year again because State Session is so vital to what Grange is all about," said state master William Benson, Jr. "More and more we are being looked to as a leading voice for rural residents, and State Session gives us the opportunity to focus as a group on some of the things that need to be addressed."

Meeting at the Holiday Inn, Grangers will consider more than 100 resolutions from sponsoring counties over the course of the gathering. They will address areas of concern in agriculture, conservation, education, federal citizenship/public affairs, health, labor and judiciary, state citizenship/public affairs, taxation and fiscal responsibility, and transportation, forwarding any adopted resolutions for consideration at the National Grange Convention in Cleveland next month.

Festivities will open on Friday night, October 22, with the annual banquet. Remarks there will be offered by Benson, a retired IBM executive from Dutchess County who is finishing his fourth year as leader of the 20,000-member organization. Other session highlights will include a Saturday, October 23 talk by New York State Regent Carl T. Hayden, and a Monday, October 25 address by New York State Commissioner of Agriculture and Markets Richard McGuire.

Dealer Council Meets In Chicago

BATAVIA, Ill. — The first annual meeting of the Massey Ferguson Dealer Parts Advisory Council was recently held in Lisle, Ill., in suburban Chicago.

Representing 10 states and two Canadian provinces, the 12 participating dealers are nominated to two-year terms from among the top dealers in their regions by Masse Ferguson's 1,100 dealers throughout North America.

The purpose of the meeting is to provide dealers and the company with an opportunity to discuss areas of mutual concern and interest.

"We want to hear the council's concerns of the dealers in the regions they represent," said Dan Hazelton, AGCO Parts Division vice president. "We're striving for mutual benefit in each of our programs."

Among the topics discussed by Council members at the three-day meeting were parts ordering procedures, new advertising and promotion programs, packaging, merchandising materials, computerization, and changes in the aftermarket.

CQ Rotary Vane Suppliers Reduce Noise

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — The new compact and quiet CQ Rotary Vane vacuum supplier system from Alfa Laval Agri provides dairy operators with the efficiency of a rotary vane supplier, while reducing pump noise in a smaller package.

Alfa Laval Agri's CQ Rotary Vane vacuum suppliers feature unique vibration isolation mounts and housings blanketed with sound-absorbing material to reduce operating noise by as much as 50 percent over previous models. Additionally, the CQ models are vertically oriented which reduces the suppliers footprint to about half the size of conventional pumps.

All this is accomplished without sacrificing the reliability and efficiency that is inherent in rotary vane vacuum suppliers. As part of the CQ package, each supplier comes complete with the new and improved Lubriclaim™ III oil reclaimer which significantly reduces oil emissions to under 10 ppm.

Available in 5-10 horsepower configurations delivering between 56-100 CFM, the CQ Rotary Vane vacuum system is offered exclusively through Alfa Laval Agri's network of more than 300 independent Alfa Laval Agri dealers.

Attewell Joins Research Staff

DECATUR, Ill. — Dr. Virgil Fergason, director of research, Custom Farm Seed, announces the addition of Dr. John Attewell to the CFS Research Team.

According to Fergason, "John is the perfect fit for our expanded research program. He will be involved in all phases of research with special emphasis in specialty breeding."

Attewell received his bachelor's in biology from The University of Wisconsin/Eau Claire and a Ph.D. in plant breeding from The University of Tennessee. Professional memberships include American Phytopathological Society, American Society of Agronomy, Biometric Society, AAAS and ASTA.

Etherton Honored For Research

UNIVERSITY PARK — (Centre Co.) — Dr. Terry D. Etherton, professor of animal science in Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences, has received the 1993 Alex and Jessie C. Black Award for Excellence in Research. The award was presented September 28 at the beginning of the college's distinguished lecture series.

"I'm elated to be this year's recipient of the Black Award," Etherton said. "It's a distinct honor to be recognized by my collegues."

Etherton is internationally known as an expert in biotechnology and endocrinology and is a leader in understanding and applying fundamental principles from these fields to increase the efficiency of growth in swine and the leanness of pork.

His studies were the first to establish that treating growing pigs with recombiant porcine somatotropin (pST) markedly improves muscle growth, decreases fat deposition, and improves productive efficiency. The Food and Drug Administration is likely to approve pST for use by pork producers within the next two years.

"Dr. Etherton has made significant contributions to animal biotechnology," said Dr. Stanley E. Curtis, professor and head of dairy and animal science. "His work has furthered both our understanding of growth biology and application of this knowledge to agricultural animals."

Keystone Farm Credit Announces Scholarships

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — Keystone Farm Credit, ACA announces the availability of two $500 scholarships toward the higher education of students planning to pursue careers in agriculture.

An applicants parent(s) or guardian(s) must reside in one of Keystone's 15 southern Pennsylvania counties: Berks, Bucks, Carbon, Chester, Delaware, Dauphin, Lancaster, Lebanon, Lehigh, Monroe, Montgomery, Northampton, Philadelphia, Pike, and Schuylkill. FROM BARN-YARD TO HAY FIELD... "THE SOLID INVESTMENT"

When it comes to building a rugged farm tractor, Case IH wrote the book. Just like its larger brothers, our Model 695 (62 PTO HP), 895 (72 PTO HP) & 995 (85 PTO HP), provides the versatility of barn-yard chores and weight to handle a big roll baler in the field.

With a forward/reverse shuttle transmission available on both 2WD and 4WD models or an optional 16 speed power shift, you can "make hay" while the sun shines.

FARMING MORE EFFICIENTLY

Roland P. Freund
Regional Farm
Management Agent

In an extension meeting, the speaker concluded his presentation with the observation that farmers are going to have to be more efficient in order to survive into the next century.

One person in the audience indicated that he had heard the same pitch for the past 30 years, and he just didn't know what else he could possibly do to be any more efficient.

We hear a lot about "efficiency," but in many cases there seems to be a lot of confusion as to what it is.

Productivity

We can see that the state average corn yields have risen, and milk production per cow has also risen dramatically in the last 20 years.

Unfortunately, this statement could well be at best a half truth. Measures of productivity do indicate some improvement in the efficiency of the use of the acres, the cows, the sows, etc., but taken alone, they cannot be relied upon to indicate much about the survivability of the business.

Labor, Feed, Reproductive Efficiency

Other measures can indicate strengths and weaknesses which are important to consider as measures of efficiency. "Pounds of milk per person" and "income per person" can indicate something about labor productivity.

"Pounds of feed per pound of pork (poultry, etc.)" and "livestock sales per $100 of feed fed" are very valuable feed efficiency measures. "Pigs farrowed per sow per year" and "calving interval" are reliable indicators of reproductive efficiency. However, none of these tell the whole story.

Financial Efficiency

Unfortunately, it is not how much income we have, but how much of that income we have left after we pay the expenses which determines the profitability of an enterprise.

Measures like "income above feed cost" are a step in the right direction. "Cost of producing a hundredweight of milk" (provided that all the necessary adjustment factors can be identified) can be a very reliable guide to efficiency.

A good enterprise analysis should measure financial efficiency in at least three different ways: per unit of production, per unit of labor, and per dollar invested. Each one is important, and all are necessary. They should not be based on gross income, but on a margin-after-cost figure.

Gross Margin Analysis

If we take a crop income per acre of $300 and subtract variable costs of $200, we have an enterprise gross profit margin of $100 per acre.

This figure can be calculated for all crop enterprises on the farm to compare their efficiency per acre.

Per Unit Of Labor

Suppose the above enterprise used five hours of labor per acre. Dividing the gross margin of $100 per acre by the 5 hours of labor gives us a gross margin per person hour of $20 for the enterprise.

Comparing all enterprises by this measure can give us a valid financial indicator of labor productivity for each of them.

Per Dollar Invested

Capital efficiency is a vital measure to examine. If this crop enterprise requires a capital investment of $200 per acre (for machinery, storage, etc.), then dividing the gross margin of $100 by the $200 investment gives us a gross margin per $1 invested of $0.50.

Interpretation

If we look at the example crop and assume that there are 100 acres of it, then there is an enterprise gross margin of $10,000. Out of this, $4,000 might be required to cover enterprise-fixed costs of machinery replacement, etc.

If $10 per hour is needed to cover family living/labor, then that takes out another $5,000. This leaves $1,000 as the enterprise contribution to farm overheads.

Improve Efficiency

Theoretically, the efficiency of this enterprise can be impoved in several different ways:

- Increase the gross margin by reducing variable costs, or increase the income, or both.
- Reduce labor required for the production process.
- Reduce the investment overheads for the enterprise, or spread the same investment over more acres.

I hope that next time we can look at some specific practices which could improve efficiency on your farm.

State Board Protects Farms, Requests Change

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The Pennsylvania Agricultural Land Preservation Board has approved easement purchases for six farms in five counties, protecting 936 acres of prime farmland from development.

At its meeting Thursday, the board also approved a motion to request a change in legislation to change the deadline for county farm purchase recommendations to Dec. 31 of each year from the current Nov. 12.

"Considering farms for easement purchase is a long process, and it takes a lot of work," said State Agriculture Secretary and Board Chairman Boyd E. Wolff. "We'd like to give counties every opportunity to get farms into this important program."

Under the Farmland Protection Program, which began in 1989, the state and counties purchase development rights to guarantee that their farms will remain as agricultural land. Individual landowners apply to county Agricultural Land Preservation Boards.

If approved for possible easement purchase, the county boards may request state funding participation. Counties participate in easement purchases and may purchase easements outright themselves.

Board members voted to ask key legislators to amend existing law so that counties can submit easement purchases through the month of December. Current language requires that funding be set aside only for easement purchases that actually have been finalized. That means that in a calendar year, counties could submit only those purchases that were complete in November so that they could be approved by the board at its December meeting.

Changes in the law would permit earmarking funds for applications received by the Department of Agriculture and signed by the landowner and county affected. Such a change will provide funding to many counties unable to meet shorter deadlines.

- Adams — Robert J. and Darlene B. Dayhoff, Mount Joy Township, 125 acres, $187,920.
- Centre — R. Jay Summers, Ferguson Township, 188 acres, $159,973.
- Lancaster — Dennis J., James H., and Joyce E. Drager, East Donegal Township, 110 acres, $433,000.
- Lebanon — Guy T. and Carol E. Harnish, North Cornwall Township, 90 acres, $192,274.
- Lebanon — Dennis E. and Sharon L. Wampler, South Annville Township, 140 acres, $294,000.
- Westmoreland — Gilbert Hutter and Family, Mt. Pleasant Township, 282 acres, $564,870.

4-H, FFA Students Raise Nearly $21,000 At Sale

GRATZ (Dauphin Co.)-4-H and FFA students raised nearly $21,000 for their project animals at the annual Gratz Fair livestock sale on Friday, September 24.

The sale total was a record, as was the number of buyers - 60 - as the event enjoyed its first year in the new livestock show arena on the fairgrounds.

Money was also raised for the Dauphin County Dairy Promotion Committee and for the Gratz Fair Scholarship Fund through the auctioning of a gallon of milk from the fair's supreme dairy cows in both the open and youth divisions.

Fred Rudy with Dauphin County 4-H told the audience of about 200 people that the $1,000 4-H scholarship fund, started at last year's sale when the buyer of the grand champion market steer donated it back to be sold again, has turned into about $14,000. The people involved in that purchase and repurchase last year — Bill Cambell from Hoss's Steak and Seafood House, Duncansville; Lynn Schwalm of Hatfield Packing Co., Hatfield; and John Fritz of Sunset Ice Cream, Williamsport — were recognized Friday night.

Garth and Jill Campbell, Gratz, owners of the cow; Wehry; and Earl Campbell, Gratz, high bidder, representing Farmland Dairies, Wallingtown, N.J. The gallon was auctioned for $375, which goes to the Gratz Fair Scholarship Fund.

Campbell gave the 4-H scholarship fund another boost this year when he purchased Jeremy Dobbin's grand champion market steer at $1.60 per pound ($2,160) and donated it back for resale. He purchased it again at $1 per pound ($1,350), with that money to be split between the 4-H and Gratz Fair scholarship funds. Dobbin, of Halifax, was the benefactor of a record Gratz Fair sale bid for a market steer, topping last year's $1.50 per pound.

In the market lamb sale, Reinert had the grand champion and earned $372 when it was purchased for $3 per pound by Hoss's. Dobbin had the reserve grand champion and earned $161 when it was purchased for $1.40 per pound by Sterman Masser, representing Pennsylvania National Bank's Agricultural Banking Division, Hamburg.

Also in the lamb sale, student Adam Oman of Halifax added to the 4-H scholarship fund by donating 10 percent of his $141.05 sale to the fund. Bruce Allen of Allen Chiropractic Center, millersburg, purchased a lamb that he donated back for resale, raising $121 for the Millersburg Little League.

The first gallon of milk auctioned, coming from the open Division dairy champion, a guernsey owned by Terry and Becky Mauser of Elizabethville, brought $250 for the Dauphin County Dairy Promotion Committee. It was purchased by Bill Lenker of Bill's Toy Shop, R.R.1 Shamokin. The second, from the youth division winning Holstein owned by Garth Campbell of Gratz, was sold for $375, which goes to the fair scholarship fund. The buyer was Farmland Dairies, Wallingtown, N.J.

A total of six steers, 17 lambs, and 48 hogs were sold. Following is a list of the sellers, buyers, price per pound, and sale price for those animals not already mentioned.

Maryland Grange To Meet

MT. AIRY, Md. — The 119th annual session of the Maryland State Grange will be held Thursday, October 21, through Saturday, October 23 at the Venice Inn in Hagerstown, Md.

Delegates from six counties (Carroll, Cecil, Frederick, Harford, Prince George's, and Washington) will meet to debate resolutions which determine Grange policy. The delegates will be discussing agriculture and legislative, health and education, roads and transportation, and safety issues.

Policies developed at the state session will be passed on to the National Grange for their consideration. The 1993 National Grange Convention will be held November 8-13 in Cleveland, Ohio.

Representing the National Grange at Maryland's Session will be Olaf and Avalon Billquist of Montana. Billquist is master of the Montana State Grange and a member of the National Grange Executive Committee.

The session will open at 9 a.m. on Thursday, October 21. Officers will report, and State Master Maurice L. Wiles of Mt. Airy, Maryland will give his address. The women's activities luncheon will be held at 1 p.m. on Thursday.

The 6th Degree will be conferred on Thursday at 8 p.m.

Election of state officers for 1994-1995 will be held on Friday, October 22. At noon, the secretary's luncheon will be held. Pomona and Subordinate Secretary of the Year will be announced by State Secretary Donna Wiles.

The agriculture banquet will be held on Friday evening at 7 p.m. Speaker for the evening will be Suzanne Hayes. Hayes is a stockbroker, farm owner/operator, and director of the Chamber of Commerce. Community Service, Service to Maryland Agriculture, and Granger of the Year awards will be presented.

The recipients of the agriculture and deaf scholarships will be introduced. Entertainment will be provided by Ronnie Reese, Linganore Grange, winner of the State Grange talent contest. Ronnie will be competing in the National Grange Contest in Ohio.

The junior youth breakfast will be held on Saturday, October 22 at 8 a.m.

For more information or tickets to the banquets, contact the State Master Maurice Wiles at (301) 829-0545.

BREWEX - For Use In Dairy Feeds

BREWEX is used extensively in complete dairy formulations to contribute utilizable energy. It is a price/performance value when used in dry feeds, liquid feeds and on-farm mixes.

MIX WITH DRY FEEDS: BREWEX is found in commercial pelleted rations for dairy, hogs and poultry as an energy source to replace corn. BREWEX replaces corn on a pound for pound dry basis and provides for improved pellet durability, reduced mineral segregation, dust control and improved palatability in dairy rations.

ON-FARM MIXING

A commercial Jersey dairy farm, having over ten years of experience in feeding BREWEX to partially replace corn finds that

- BREWEX replaced 5% to 10% corn/day
- BREWEX improves butterfat about 0.1%
- BREWEX mixed with forage reduces mortality due to displaced abomasum
- BREWEX helps cattle to stay on feeds

Have you tried toasted grains?

- ◆ Consistent by-pass proteins and low moisture levels.
- ◆ Improved energy density of your rations.
- ◆ Excellent quality control.
- ◆ Exchange programs with feed mills.
- ◆ Economical storage, rolling and grinding available.
- ◆ We also buy corn and soybeans

Eby Aluminum Agri-Dump Bodies pay off in dependable long-term service. Their all-aluminum construction means:

- Greater payload efficiency
- Maintenance-free service
- Substantially higher resale value.

Eby's time-tested design is available in lengths to 24' for grain bodies and 10½ ' for general purpose dump bodies. A long list of standard features such as tarp rail, built-in steps, aerodynamic uprights and Harsh hoist is complemented by a full range of custom options, including tailgates, Wahpeton tarps and grain chutes.
When you select your next grain body or general purpose dump body, consider the value that aluminum offers. It's a worry-free investment in your future.

CHECK OUT THESE FEATURES/BENEFITS
- Up to 40% lighter than steel, for greater payload
- Designed for long life
- Resale value
- Corrosion resistant, never needs painting
- Appearance to complement any truck
- Complete list of popular options, including tailgates, tarps and sides.

Berks County Exhibitor Shows KILE Sheep Champions

MOHNTON (Berks Co.) — Nicole Knepp exhibited the champion ram in the open and junior Corriedale competition and the champion ewe in the junior Corriedale show during the Keystone International Livestock Exposition (KILE) in the Farm Show Complex in Harrisburg.

Nicole's bred and owned champion ram (BSF101) "Stevie" was previously named supreme champion ram at Oley Fair, champion ram at Kimberton and Reading fairs, and reserve champion open show and champion ram - junior sheep show at Allentown Fair.

She is a member of Berks County 4-H Sheep and Lamb Club and a member of the livestock judging team and vice president of Young Riders 4-H Equestrian Club.

Nicole is the daughter of Ted and Dawn Knepp. She helps operate Balsam Spring Farm and raises Corriedale sheep under her own division, "Knepp Corriedales".

New Holland Sale Posts Results

BSM

IN STOCK!

Constructed from heavy gauge materials, this crate is designed to reduce crushing with sow comfort in mind. The bowed bottom bars make for a comfortable 33" crate width when the sow lays down, yet the adjustable anti-crush bars eliminate the sow from carelessly dropping on the piglets. This movement restriction does not hamper the sow as lays down, or wants to stand up, as the bars slide up and out of her way.

GALVANIZED!

Improve corn seed spacing up to 17 percent
Seed corn shapes and sizes have changed dramatically. To maintain seeding accuracy, you need a seed meter that can meet today's demanding seed challenges. You need the VacuMeter system, offering up to a 17 percent increase in corn metering accuracy over the finger pick-up system.
New single-cross varieties of seed vary in shape and size. Because the VacuMeter system uses gentle vacuum pressure to hold seeds in place, it handles all sizes of seed accurately. And VacuMeter accuracy may enable you to reduce planting rates to save on seed costs.

Brillion

Brillion DEEP TILLS

penetrate the soil as deep as 18 inches to break up plow sole and hardpan.

IN STOCK Model BT53 3 Shank, 7'6" With Extra Springs and Wear Strips
Sale Price $2,975 (1 Only)
Sale Ends Oct. 31

Brillion SUPER SOIL BUILDERS

The SUPER SOIL BUILDER has an expanded frame — 139" front to back — with three ranks of chisel shanks for smooth and easy flow of residue through the machine. The SUPER SOIL BUILDER is self-leveling, regardless of working depth.
Other features include a 4"x4" square tube weighted frame with 20" diameter coulter slicer blades. The machine depth control hydraulic cylinder is equipped with an adjustable depth stop. Hydraulic hoses to the tractor are included.

VINTAGE JOHN DEERE DEALERS INVENTORY SALE

Total contents of abandoned John Deere Equipment Dealer. Due to failing structure we will liquidate the remaining contents of what was once a well stocked dealers inventory of John Deere Parts for Vintage Two Cylinder Tractors, and some late model machinery. Many castings, and motor parts such as pistons, rings, valves, and manifolds for various machinery. Very little sheet metal, some large castings, and many items such as but not limited to: planters, disks, harrows, plows, harvesters, drills and spreaders. Many hoses, belts, conveyors, chains, transmission parts, carb. - mag. and electrical parts drawers. Mower knives, rake teeth and rock guards by the box. Many file cabinets full or parts too numerous to list or count! Many odd items, and old equipment for salvage around yard, in weeds, over, under and where found on two acre site.

Some parts are water damaged, many parts show rust or decay, many are like new. Also offered are some WWII vintage machine tools in poor condition.

This offer is made subject to the sale of the total inventory, to a first $10,000, or best cash offer. Subject to the discretion of the agent for the sale. Sale is open to anyone, group, or dealer...

Introducing The NEW LEADER L2020 Combination
Lime & Fertilizer Spreader

Input from custom applicators and users around the country has resulted in a spreader with superior belt tracking, easier maintenance and adjustments, an advanced paint system and field proven Synco-Matic® Mark III ground speed system for more years of dependable service. The New Leader L2020GT - applying technology and reliability that others can only hope to achieve.

The new generation Synco-Matic® Mark III provides for accuracy and dependability found in all New Leader ground speed systems with the ability to change and monitor application rates on the go from the comfort of the cab.

Advanced corrosion resistant paint system coupled with fully welded and caulked 7 and 10 gauge carbon steel hopper construction result in many more years of reliable service.

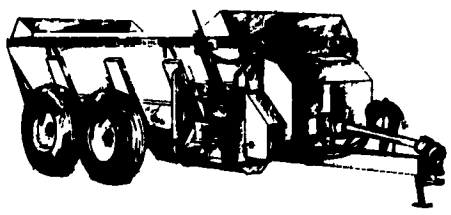
Get A Good Gehl Deal By Making Your Purchase Before Oct. 29, 93

North America's #1-Selling V-Tank Spreader



In Stock

The Gehl Scavenger® II is the "original" V-Tank spreader and still the best. It delivers outstanding performance in all types of manure, from liquid to semi-solid to pen-packed or even frozen manure.

- Patented square-tube auger — Hydraulically powers up and down to break up solid material.
- Varifio discharge — Spreads smoothly and evenly for complete application control.
- Five models — From 192 to 596 bushel heaped capacities to match your operation.

- 10-year warranty — Against rust-through on the tank for peace of mind.
- Options include — Truck-mounted units and hydraulic lids.

Most Mix-All owners will never buy another.

GRIND YOUR CORN WITH A MILL FROM BINKLEY & HURST BROS.
2 SIZES IN STOCK: Model 125 Model 170

In fact, you'd probably have a hard time convincing Gehl Mix-All® owners to even look at anything else. And why should they?

The Mix-All's big 12-inch wide hammermill features 66 reversible thin hammers that cut, rather than pound the feed to deliver a more consistent grind and ensure uniform mixing for a better feed conversion rate.

Gehl's self-contained hydraulic system is designed-in, not added on. It provides the precision of infinitely variable in-feed attachment control to match tractor power for greater grinding capacity. Plus you get fast, smooth, trouble-free unloading with greater reliability.

NEW AT BINKLEY & HURST BROS. FROM SUNFLOWER:

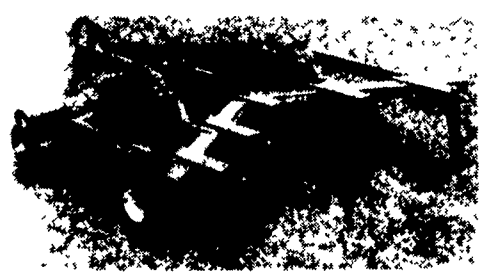
COULTER RIPPER



Sunflower's Coulter Ripper is for today's conservation minded farmer demanding deep tillage with minimal residue disturbance. These durable machines feature adjustable front mounted coulters on 7½" centers. The coulter blades have an added advantage of slicing hard ground to keep clod size to a minimum. The V-bar ripper design gives added trash clearance and pulls smoother than straight-bar rippers. These coulter rippers are built Sunflower tough and no ballast is added to the frame increasing the structural strength. Check out Sunflower's latest edition to its growing family of quality tillage equipment at a farm show or dealer near you.

Conservation Tillage Equipment Built SUNFLOWER Tough

Adjustable Coulter Gangs: The 4010/4110 both feature adjustable coulter gangs that can be raised completely in clean ground. Ratchet Jack Adjustment is standard equipment. Optional Hydraulic Gang Adjustment makes on the go changes or raising the coulters completely out of the way an easy task from the tractor seat.

Also...3 Pt. Hitch Subsoiler Rippers For Hard Pan Deep-Till. SEE BINKLEY & HURST NOW!

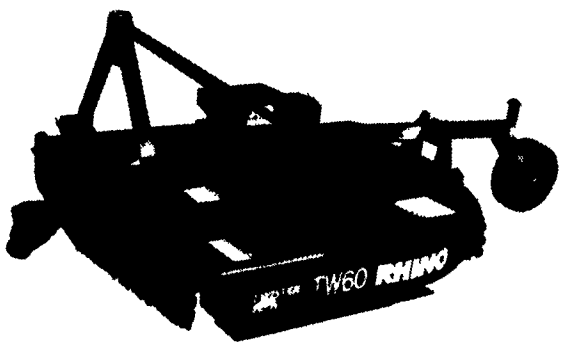
SEE BINKLEY & HURST BROS. INC. FOR ALL TYPES OF YOUR ROTARY CUTTER NEEDS...INCLUDING OFFSET SLOPE, TURF MOWING AND SHREDDING EQUIPMENT!

Quality, Dependability, and Performance and three great reasons why the TWISTER family of medium-duty cutters from SERVIS-RHINO is mowing the competition down!

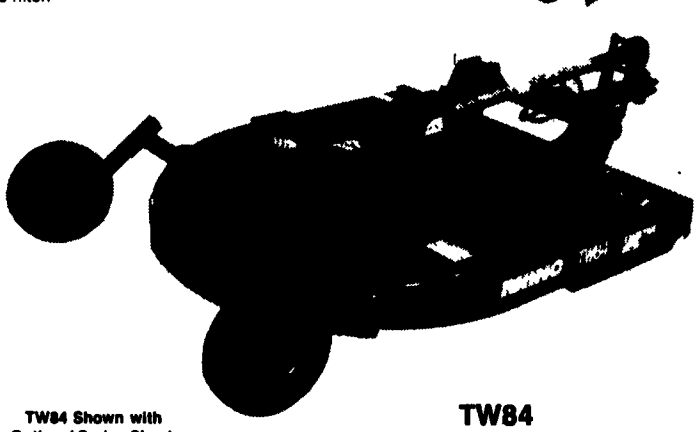


TW60

The TW60 mows a full 5' swath and is available in 540 RPM and three-point lift The TW60 requires only a 30 HP tractor (with adequate front weight) to save on operating costs The tail-wheel beam of the TW60, 72, and 84 lift-type cutters are easily adjustable for different cutting heights

TW72

The TW72 mows a 6' swath of material and can be operated on a tractor as small as 40 HP (with adequate front weight) The floating top linkage of the "A" Frame allows the TW cutters to follow the contour of the ground in rough conditions without damage to the hitch



TW84 Shown with Optional Spring Shock Absorber

TW84

The TW84 mows a 7' swath and is available in 540 or 1000 RPM and as a pull- or lift-type unit to fit a wide range of tractors An optional heavy-duty "A" frame is available for working in demanding conditions. The lift-type unit is available with one or two tail-wheels and requires a 60 HP tractor (with adequate front weight) while the pull-type TW84 requires only a 30 HP tractor for many conditions. A parking jack is standard on pull-type units

The 5300 has earned a reputation for its seeding precision, a function of its exclusive feed cup design and dependable disk openers And, to improve placement of seed, the opener drawbars are heavier than on previous models. Press wheel and opener bearings are heavier for long life operation.

Along with accuracy, the 5300 gives you fast, high capacity seeding, so you spend less time refilling hoppers

CASE RUBBER-TRACK SKID STEERS

- Better traction
- Improved flotation
- Quiet operation
- Reduced surface damage
- Smoother ride
- Tire protection

Work when and where you need them

On more surfaces
Improved flotation lets Case rubber-track skid steers work on soils, sand or gravel and even mud

More places
Excellent for working on dirt and concrete lots • rubber tracks cause less ground disturbance • can drive on bedded areas without sinking in

More comfortably
Rubber tracks provide a smooth ride with less bounce • also less chance of tire punctures

More of the year

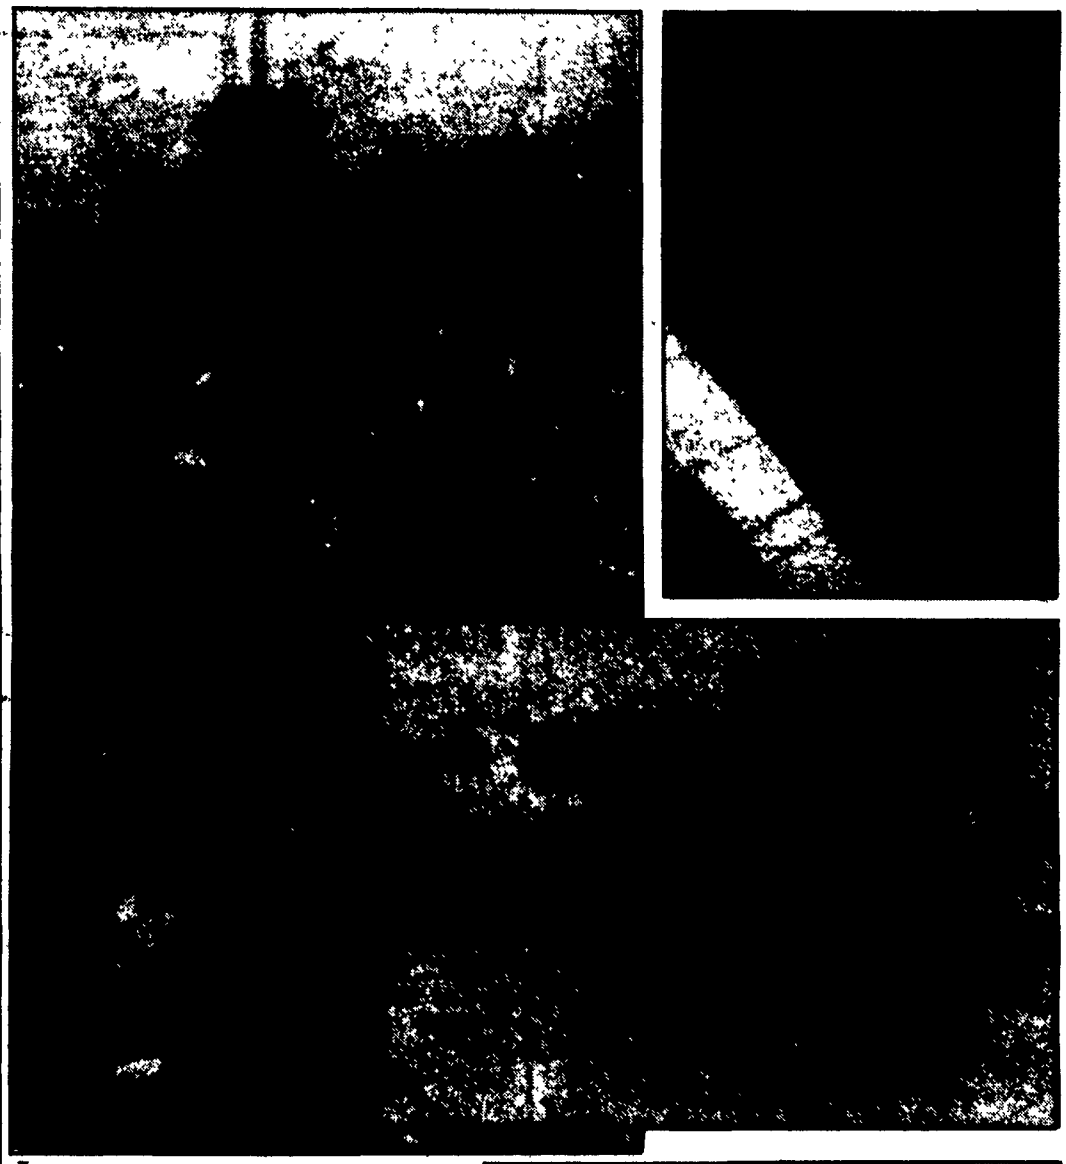
Rawson Zone-Builder™ From Unverferth

Slicing Through To Zone-Till™ Tillage



Imagine a tillage system that combines the seedbed-preparation benefits of conventional till with the conservation compliance and reduced-cost benefits of no-till and ridge-till, without sacrificing yield. That's Zone-Till.

Solving the yield-limiting factor of hardpan is the first step toward successful implementation of Zone-Till. Only the Rawson Zone-Builder™ from Unverferth is designed specifically for that purpose. The Zone-Builder slices through this tightly compacted soil to create a passage that allows plant roots and soil moisture to move freely into the subsoil.

D.M.I.'s patented point makes the difference

HOOBER HAS THE EXPERIENCE TO ADVISE YOU WHICH D.M.I. SYSTEM IS BEST FOR YOU

CONSERVATION TILLAGE IS DEFINED BY

D.M.I. TILLAGE SYSTEMS

Soil Compaction IS a PROBLEM on every farm we've checked... DMI Subsoil Tillage Systems help eliminate soil compaction- making your fields produce more crops.

1) Breaking up the compaction layer decreases soil runoff in wet years, by permitting water to percolate into the subsoil.
2) Breaking up the compaction layer makes room for plant root systems to seek and find moisture in dry years.

From The 3 Shank Ecol-O-Til (80 HP) To The 7 Shank Ecol-O-Tiger (300 HP)... There Is A D.M.I. Subsoiler To Meet Your Needs

REMEMBER THE 3 LAWS OF HOOBER RECONDITIONED AXIAL-FLOW COMBINES...

LAW #1- (14) Years Old is not equal to (≠) WORN OUT...
Because of the simple design of the CASE IH Axial Flow Combines, they can be reconditioned by HOOBER'S expert combine mechanics to like-new condition, so they provide 2nd and 3rd owners years of satisfactory and profitable operation.

LAW #2- (3,500) HOURS PLUS (+) HOOBER RECONDITIONING EQUALS (=) YEARS OF DEPENDABLE SERVICE...
(3,500) Hours on a conventional combine usually means they'll be too much trouble to be dependable. Axial-Flow combines with (3,500) hours, reconditioned by HOOBER'S, have proven to run for years when purchased by farmers in PA, MD, DE and NJ

LAW #3- A CASE IH AXIAL-FLOW COMBINE SERVICED BY EXPERT HOOBER COMBINE MECHANICS EQUALS (=) LITTLE OR NO DOWNTIME DURING HARVEST...
When Hoober's expert combine mechanics service and repair AXIAL-FLOW combines in the off-season, they run dependably through the season.

MASSEY-FERGUSON

NEW MF 5650 COMBINE

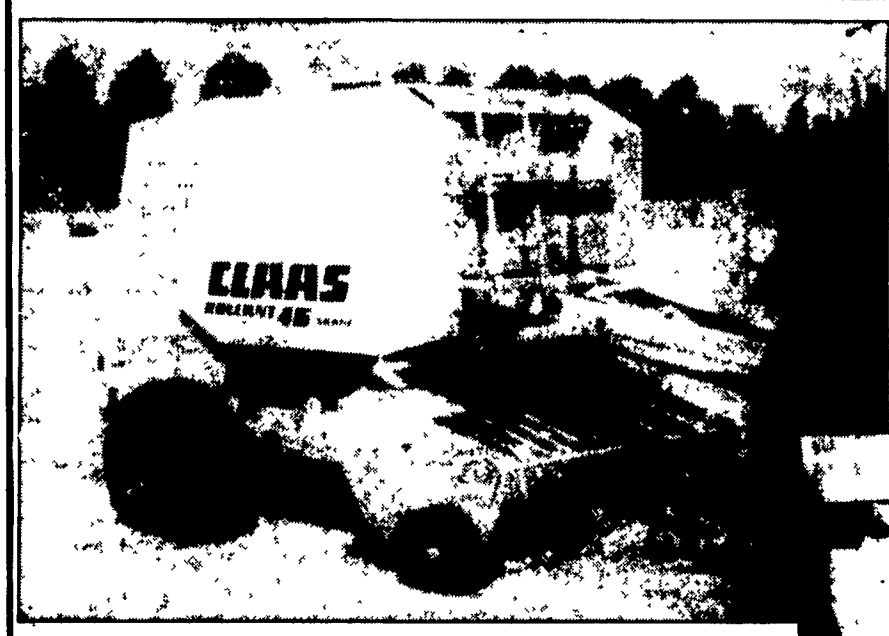
1 Leftover Model At A One And Only Price!



Hard to feed crops are aggressively fed right into this baler. Now you can cut and bale rye, barley and oats at boot stage. Bales fall apart - you can throw them down a hay hole and feed them with a fork.

The New
ROTOCUT SILAGE BALER

Cuts Your Crop As It Is Forced Through A Series Of Knives.

The Benefits:
- Even higher bale density
- Easier distribution of bale contents

MASSEY FERGUSON

The optional Hillside Cleaning System automatically swings the top sieve sideways, against the slope of the hill. This keeps grain spread out evenly for cleaner grain samples. You get full performance on slopes up to 20%, without the big expense of a hillside combine.

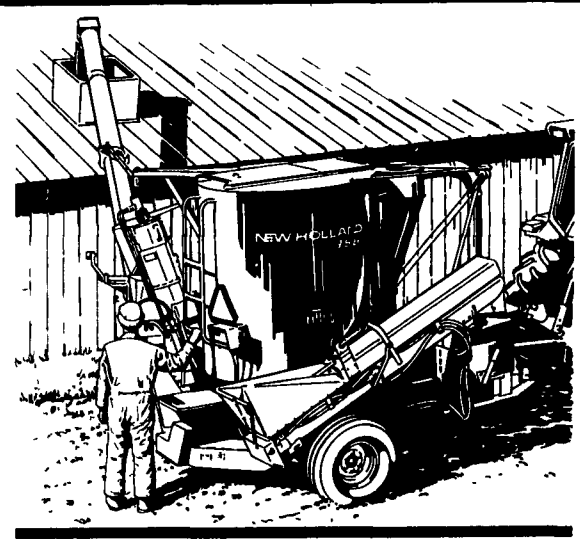
GREAT VALUE



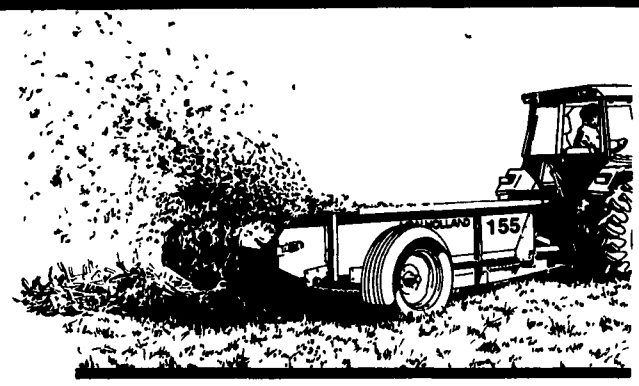
FIRST IN DURABILITY

Surveys show owners rate New Holland grinder-mixers the most durable. Ford New Holland builds them right and backs them with quality parts and service.

The Model 358 has a 125-bushel tank specially designed to eliminate bridging. An optional electronic scale assures accurate control of rations. Stop and see the durable Model 358 grinder-mixer.

Ford FORD NEW HOLLAND

STRONG BOXES



DEPENDABLE PERFORMANCE

Year after year it's made New Holland No. 1 in North America.

- Worm gear drive transfers power smoothly to the apron.
- T-rod apron chain operates with less initial wear and no slacking.
- Bonded Protection 12-year warranty on floors and sides. If the polyethylene floor fails or the sides rust, we'll replace them. Free.

STRONGBOX™
THE BATTERY WITH A LIFETIME TRADE-IN ALLOWANCE

Built for the long haul, StrongBox batteries take all the punishment your heavy equipment can deliver. Epoxy-anchored elements, through-the-partition welds, and extra heavy plates are just a few of their rugged features. And StrongBox batteries give you an excellent warranty plus a guaranteed lifetime trade-in allowance. Time to change your battery? Change to a StrongBox. All prices quoted include your old battery in exchange.

If Your Silo Needs New Life...

Try Our Poly Silo Liners

-THE ADVANTAGE OF A POLY LINER-

- Spoilage is reduced around doors.
- Feed is exposed to less oxygen - better fermentation.
- Allows storage of high moisture grains or dry grains in a conventional silo.
- Delays repair or replacement of corroded silos.
- Prevents corrosive acids from contacting silo wall - extends silo life.
- Quick installation.
- Effectively seals silos from air and weather.

The Liners Are Manufactured To Fit Most Standard Diameter Silos.

TMR Ruffage Master

These new Oswalt® four auger Model 200/250 mixers are designed to process and mix all feeds, including baled hay, into a fully-blended TMR...better than anyone!

The aggressive, notched, 20"-diameter, full-pitch, four auger mixing pattern, dual shear shelf design and exclusive, self-lubricating Tuff-Glide® liners help feed materials flow more freely, reducing horsepower requirements and virtually eliminating material hang-ups and dead spots.

BARN CLEANERS

All-forged Hook-Link® chain... available on Super 300 and Super 500 barn cleaners

Extra thick steel at all wear points

IMPORTANT: Look for the "parting line" on any barn cleaner chain you buy. It shows where excess metal has been trimmed off. It is your assurance that the link was totally forged, not just punched out of a flat steel bar with grain flow in one direction only.
You want a totally-forged link because forging changes the grain on the steel, causing it to curve in unbroken flow lines around the contours of the link, giving the link greater strength to serve you longer.

CONCRETE REASONS WHY A NEW POURED CONCRETE SILO IS YOUR BEST INVESTMENT...

A. Enhancement of cash flow. Improved forage quality results in consistent, and increased milk production.

B. "Safe Silo" Our silos meet or exceed industry standards, reducing/protecting lender liability.

C. Initial Cost. Used or cheap pre-fab silos may have a lower initial cost, but based upon useful life, the new poured concrete silo will have a lower annual cost: due to longer life and lower maintenance costs.

D. Residual Value. Our new, poured concrete silos are built for "generations of use", and enhance the future value of the farm.

E. Storage Losses Reduced. Poured concrete silos consistently out-perform all other methods of storing and preserving the total digestible nutrients in forage crops.

F. Protecting Forage Quality. Oxygen and heat cause the most damage to stored silage and haylage. Our poured concrete silos are the very best system to PROTECT YOUR FORAGE QUALITY... "NOBODY PROTECTS FORAGE QUALITY LIKE WE DO...NOBODY"
